A Good One

A First district hunter recently captured a coon, 100 pounds of fine honey and ten pike in a hollow tree.

A Marydel coon hunter while hunting a few nights ago followed his dogs to a tree along the bank of the big ditch where they had "treed" He proceeded to cut the tree and in falling it slabbed off and a large root growing in the ditch was pulled up. The coon was captured and the tree proved to be a "bee tree" and the hunters decided to return in the morning for the honey. After taking out a washtub full of honey, ten fine pike were found in the root of the tree.

Maryland Sunday School Convention.

The program for the thirty-fifth biennial convention of the Maryland State Sunday School Union has been issued and is replete with the topics of live subjects and addresses by active workers. The convention will be held in Grace Methodist Episcopal, Cummings Memorial and Lafayette Square Presbyterian churches, Baltimore, October 27th and 28th, and it is confidently expected that fully 1000 delegates will be present. The convention motto is given on the program as Looking Forward, and it is explained to mean looking forward into the community, into the church and unto Christ.

Prominent among the out-of-town speakers who have engaged to be present at the convention are Mr. W. C. Pearce of Chicago, Ill., International Teacher-Training Superintendent; Dr. Charles Gallaudet Trumbull, Philadelphia, Pa., Editor-in-chief of the Sunday-School Times, and Mrs. J. Woodbridge Barnes, Newark, N. J., International Primary Superintendent. In addition to these there will be prominent ministers and lay workers from different part of the state, together with county Sunday School officials. All of the speakers are specialists on the subjects that have been assighed to them, and will speak with authority and from a thorough knowledge of conditions. Six sessions will be held, beginning Thursday morning, October 27 and continuing until Friday night, three meetings a day.

The convention delegates and speakers will be entertained in Baltimore homes this year, as in the past, on what is known as the Harvard plan—lodging, breakfast and supper. Lunch will be provided by churches in the vicinity of the convention church for the delegates, but visitors are expected to make other arrangements for their entertainment. On arriving in the city the delegates will report to convention headquarters in Grace Methodist Episcopal Church, where they will be greeted by the local entertainment committee, registered and assigned to the homes prepared for them. They will also be welcomed at the office of the State Union, 316 North Charles Street

A feature of the convention each year has been what is termed an "educational bazaar." This is an exhibit of Sunday-School publications, appliances etc. This year it is planned that the educational exhibit shall be arranged on a large scale. It will be located in Grace Methodist Episcopal Church and Cummings Memorial Ref. Episcopal Church and the booths will be presided over by the special representative of each firm making an exhibit.

BROKE INTO HIS HOUSE.

Cigarette Causes Fire.

The cry of fire on the street shortly after noon on Saturday caused considerable excitement, and the fire apparatus was quickly taken to the burning building, which proved to be a stable at the home of Mrs. Newton on Main street. The fire seemed to be among the fodder in the loft, and the roof was burning rapidily when the water was turned on it, but was soon drowned out. A horse and carriage were in the stable when the fire broke out, but Miss Mable Wilson, Mrs. Mewton's daughter, quickly led the horse out and removed the carriage from the carriage house. If the fire had not been promptly discovered it might have proved the beginning of a most disastrious conflagration, as another stable stands close by and there are a number of houses with old roofs, also near.

The fire apparatus worked nicely and effectively and proves that the water plant gives what it is intended for—first-class fire protecsion. It is the opinion of many persons however, that the town should have at least 500 feet more of hose, so that two streams can be used if necessary, and from plugs some distance from the fire.

It is thought the fire was started by boys smoking cigarettes, either in the stable or near it, as none of the family had been in or around the building for some time before the fire broke out.

Dr. Rickards Discharged.

Dr. Harry N. Rickards, of Ridgely, who was recently held under bail for the action of the Grand Jury on a criminal charge, preferred by Blanche Chance, of Queen Anne county, was given a hearing before Justice Temple on Saturday and discharged from custody. It is understood that the grand jury investigated the case and found nothing in the evidence to sustain the accusations.

Court Reprimands Jury.

In the Cecil county court two liquor cases were tried and in both cases the men charged with selling were found not guilty by the jury.

After the announcement of the verdict the Court severely reprimanded the jury, saying that if they failed to convict on such evidence it would be impossible to ever secure a conviction in liquor cases.

PRESTON.

Dr. John J. Cornell, a widely known Friends' minister, formerly of New York, but now of Baltimore, spoke before a crowded house Sunday morning, in the new Friend's Meeting House, at Preston, on "The Principals of the Society of Friends." In the afternoon a Historal Meeting was held. Mr. Wilson M. Tylor, editor of the Easton Gazette, who presided as chairman, after well selected scriptural reading, made an excellent address to the meeting. Mr. Martin Maloney, of Avondale, Pa, knelt in prayer. Miss Rachel Satterthwait, of Easton, and Mrs Annie Woodall, of Oxford, both, fifty years ago, school girls, at Preston, then Snow Hill, read beautiful poems, on "Childhood" and "Girlhood Days," respectively. Miss Rachel's original poem bore the stamp of true poetical genius and in its simple naturalness reminded one of a Cary or a Wilcox. Mrs. Woodalls' fine selection also carried the hearer, back to "the days of long ago," when her teacher, Mrs. Rebecca Tylor, of Denton, taught the Friends' School, in the old Friends' Meeting House, up to the time of her marriage to Jonathan Tylor, which was consummated by Friends' ceremoney, in this old building. An appropriate concert reading was given, in which a large number of visiting Friends took part. Miss Julielma M. Kelley read an interesting paper on Northwest Fork Monthly Meeting, written by her father, William T. Kelley, in 1901, and published in the "Friends' Intelligencer" of Philadelphia.

Under the head of voluntary contributions, brief but good speeches were made by Dr. J. L. Noble, whose grandparents were members of the Society of Friends, Isaac Poole, and others.

As a closing exercise Mr. Tylor read a paper prepared by himself and used at the Friends' First day School Conference, in Philadelphia, last May. The meeting concluded after a few moments of silence.

In the evening Friend Cornell, taking as his text the words of Jesus unto his disciples, "If any man will come after me let him deny himself and take up his cross and follow me," preached a powerful sermon before a large and attentive assemblage in the spacious autorium of the new Methodist Episcopal Church.

Hon. William H. Jackson.

We give the Herald readers this week a sketch of the Hon. William H. Jackson, who is at present a Congressman from this county and a candidate on the Republican ticket for re-election. He defeated a Worcester county candidate four years ago, he defeated a Wicomico county candedate and this year his opponent is Hon. Thomas A. Smith of Caroline. The result is in the future. As a matter of course the people of Wicomico feel a deep interest in Mr. Jackson. He is identified with the industries of the county and a leading power in the charities of the county and has, by his usefulness as a citizen, won a warm place in the hearts of the people.

As a representative in Congress he has looked after the interest of his contingency and from an industrial point of view has done much for the district in the capacity of a representative. He has applied the principles of business to his position and made his record from a business standpoint. He comes before the people not as a new man but comes with a record of three years as a representative in which time he has given the people an opportunity to judge of his fitness from a practical point of view. It is an honor to have a representative in Congress from our own county. —Sharptown Herald.

Points of Interest.

Mr. Editor:

The Presidential election is now close at hand and the orators of both parties are bringing to the notice of the voters the platforms of the different parties, the Republican party advocating protection; the Democratic party crying free trade, except when they had interests that need protection for instance. When the Gorman-Wilson bill was framed prominent Democratic leaders took the precaution to see that industries in which they happened to be interested were not put on the free list, no matter how much harm might befall other industries. For instance Arthur P. Gorman took great pains to keep the Sugar Trust protected, also coal of Western Maryland. Also Henry Gassaway Davis, the Democratic candidate for Vice President, took great pains too, to have coal of West Virginia protected, because his immense fortune was invested in coal lands of West Virginia. Now, if protection was a benefit to Gorman and Henry G. Davis, why is not protection a benefit to all. Let us compare the platforms of the two old parties and see how they compare.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM	DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM
Protection to American Labor.	Free Trade.
Gold Standard.	Free Silver.
Honest Dollar to the Honest Laborer.	Free Soup.
Protection to American citizens both abroad and at home.	Any old issue that will help to elect the Democratic ticket.

After careful consideration of the above facts, if you want to see the mills and factories shut down and tens of thousands of men and women thrown out of work, as was the case under the administration of Grover Cleveland, then vote the Democratic Ticket. If you think Free Trade the proper thing and would have your wages cut down one half and thousands of homes made gloomy, then vote the Democratic Ticket.

If you want to see American workman wear clothes made by the pauper labor of Europe, then vote the Democratic Ticket.

If you want to see Gen. Coxey with another army of workingmen tramping across our country looking for work, then vote the Democratic Ticket.

If you want to give up the Panama Canal with its great advantages to the commerce of the United States, then vote the Democratic Ticket.

If you want to haul the American flag down in the Philipine Islands that were won by Dewey and the American navy, and let Germany or England gobble them up, then vote the Democratic Ticket.

But if you want peace, prosperity, honest money; factories running full time and over time; good prices for farm products; good banks in which to deposit your hard earnings; protection to American citizens at home and abroad; and honest election laws by which each and every one can cast their vote and have it counted and no trick ballots; if you do, then on election day vote for ROOSEVELT, FAIRBANKS and JACKSON.

The pills that are potent in their action and pleasant in their effect are DeWitt's Little Early Risers. W. S. Philpot, of Albany, Ga., says: "During a bilious attack I took one. New Trolley.

The work of grading for the Middletown Warwick and Cecilton Electric Railway is nearly completed says the Wilmington Republican. The unfinished pieces are on three farms which the line crosses.

The new line is ten miles in length and runs through a thickly populated country. At Middletown is the nearest Railroad station all the freight for Warwick, Earlville and Cecilton comes to Middletown and in addition to the passenger cars there will be freight cars run over the line several times a day.

In addition to the towns mentioned the business men of many other Maryland towns express their willingness to patronise the new line. Case Against Powell.

The Powell murder case which was tried last winter and resulted in the imprisonment for life of Mrs Mary A. Powell for the murder of Miss Estella Albin, is to have a sequel. State Detective Ratledge has been at work in the neighborhood of the Powell farm in the Bowers' Beach district and accumulating evidence which will be presented by the state against Alfred M. Powell, the husband of the convicted woman. Powell is not to be charged with any connection with the murder of the Albin girl but is now under bail for immorality with a young girl, Georgianna Ford, who was a member of his household and an important witness in the recent murder case.

The state long since removed Georgie Ford, as she was called, from the Powell home and she is now in an educational institution. Powell is, meantime, preparing a vigorous defence to the state's charges and has former Senator Kenney and other attorneys interested. The penalty prescribed for his offence, in case of a conviction is seven years, maximum sentence. He is a prosperous farmer and will doubtless spend much money to free himself of the charge, if possible. The case will probably go before a jury next Monday, the first day of October courts. —Delaware State News.

To Sift Mrs. Owens' Death.

Satisfied that a crime was committed, the state authorities intend to sift to the bottom the death of Mrs. Anne Owens, of near Bridgeville. When her relatives were preparing to exhume her body, to try to discover traces of poison that they suspected caused her death, the startling discovery was made that the grave had already been opened and that the woman's intestines and heart had been removed and her hands had been chopped off by the ghoul. It was in the heart and intestines that experts would have searched for traces of poison, and the person who mutilated the body must have had a knowledge of this and desired to get away with all evidences of foul play.

Since the grave was opened, however, the hands and heart have been found. They were buried in the dirt that had been dug from the grave. Mrs. Owens died in July, one year ago, very suddenly and she was buried without any intervention of the coroner. She was ninety years old. Then the grave was found opened a few days ago, the body of Mrs. Owens was in an excellent state of preservation despite its long interment. Exposure to the air however, rather discolored it.

One puzzling question that will confront the authorities is to determine whether any poison that might be found in the remains was administered prior to death, or was conveyed in the embalming fluid used to preserve the body. The body is still in the grave, and covered with dirt as it was before being disturbed. When the body was mutilated, some dirt was carlessly tossed in upon it, and no effort was made to hide the operations of the ghoul.

CAUSE OF LOCKJAW.

Lockjaw, or tetanus, is caused by a bacillus or germ which exists plentifully in street dirt. It is inactive so long as exposed to the air, but when carried beneath the skin, as in the wounds caused by percussion caps or by rusty nails, and when the air is excluded the germ is roused to activity and produces the most virulent poison known. These germs may be destroyed and all danger of lockjaw avoided by applying Chamberlain's Pain Balm freely as soon as the injury is received. Pain Balm is antiseptic and canses such injuries to heal without maturation and in one third the time required by the usual treatment. It is for sale by R. J.
