KEPT IN FIGHT BY MEMORY OF GIRL

Boland Tells Why He Attacked Archbald.

HIS DEAD CHILD THE CAUSE

Scranton Man Asserts That His Coal Company Was Named After His Daughter and That He Could Not See Failure.

Washington.—With trembling voice, W. P. Boland, of Scranton, Pa., leading accuser of Judge Robert W. Archbald, of the Commerce Court, told the House Judiciary Committee that the memory of his little girl had led him to fight the railroads and Judge Archbald.

About 1904, he said, his family was blessed with a little girl, and she was named Mary. The Marion Coal Company, of which he is president, received its name, he declared, from the little girl, who is now dead. All day he had told of what he designated as a conspiracy of railroads to get hold of his coal company property and of their alleged using of Judge Archbald for that purpose.

"I didn't like to see the word failure written over that name," testified Boland. "I could have made money in other business, but I have lost money to save it."

After his cross-examination, Boland was asked about the statement on the stand by Vice-President George F. Brownell, of the Erie Railroad, that Boland might be subjected to perjury if he swore to statements he had made in his original charges to Interstate Commerce Commissioner Meyer, regarding the Erie Railroad.

"I didn't hear Mr. Brownell make the remark, but if I had," declared Boland, "I would have told him that if my evidence resembled perjury as close as his did bribery, I would be glad to have the proper authorities prosecute me."

Boland testified that Attorney Geo. Watson, of Scranton, had told him that Judge Archbald could influence two other judges in the Commerce Court in favor of the railroads. "Did he give you their names?" asked Attorney Worthington.

"Yes," replied the witness, who offered to communicate the names. Instead he was directed to whisper them to Attorney Worthington and Acting Chairman Floyd.

MINERS RESUME WORK.

170,000 Had Been Idle For Six Weeks.

Philadelphia.—After being idle for 44 working days the 170,000 mine-workers throughout the authracite coal fields of Pennsylvania resumed work Wednesday under the new wage arrangement agreed upon by the miners and the employers.

In several sections of the territory collieries are not in condition to be placed in operation, but it is expected that in a week or two mining will have reached its normal condition. While misunderstandings are looked for under the new agreement, no serious hitches in putting the new agreement in effect are looked for either by the miners or the coal operators.

In the Hazleton region men engaged on stripping work where coal lying near the surface is taken out in the same manner as stone is quarried struck for a 10 per cent. increase in wages, the same as has been granted to the miners.

MORSE BACK LOOKING WELL.

Says Physicians Declared Former Banker May Live Years.

New York.—Charles W. Morse, accompanied by his wife, returned to New York on the steamer Olympic and went immediately to his apartments in West Fifty-eighth street. It is understood Morse will go to his old home in Bath, Maine. The former banker looked well and said that physicians had told him that there is hope of his living a number of years. At the time of his release from the Federal prison at Atlanta medical men had predicted that he would not survive more than six months.

Amundsen For North Pole.

Montevideo.—Capt Roald Amundsen, the discoverer of the South Pole, who arrived here, announced his intention to start from San Francisco in March or April, 1913, on an expedition to the North Pole. He will have with him the same men who accompanied him on his last expedition. Captain Amundsen was received in audience by the President this afternoon.

Selected To Be Shot.

Salt Lake City, Utah.—Five riflemen concealed behind a curtain sent steel-nosed bullets into the heart of a blindfolded man as he sat in a chair at the state prison. Julius Sirmay, a murderer, was the target. He had selected death by shooting in preference to the gallows, after his confession of the murder of Thomas Carrick, a 14-year-old boy, whom he had shot while committing a daylight burglary.

Taking a Mean Advantage.

Washington.—A novel method by which the manufacturer makes the consumer "pay the freight" has been discovered by the United States Bureau of Chemistry, and suit will be instituted as a result. TEXAS, QUEEN OF THE SEA

Baptized With Wine By a Fair Daughter Of the Lone Star State—Beautiful Ceremony Witnessed By Thousands.

Newport News, Va.—Nature set a beautiful background for the stage arranged by man at the plant of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, for the crowning event in American shipbuilding, the launching of America's greatest man-o'war, the super-drednought Texas. Everything moved without a hitch, and when the new queen of the sea finally was given her freedom, at 10.02 o'clock, the great hull moved slowly and gracefully to her destined element.

Scarcely had the huge red-coated hull moved a foot before little Miss Claudia Lyon, the 14-year-old daughter of Col. Cecil Lyon, of Texas, sent a bottle of champagne against the immense nose of the ship, which projected over the launching platform. As the bottle broke, wine was showered for a radius of 10 feet, and many of the guests were drenched with the sparkling fluid. "I christen thee Texas," was all the little sponsor said, as she hurled the bottle, but later, when the ship had taken the water, she leaned out of the christening booth to inquire of one of the yard officials whether she had said it loud enough. When assured that she had, her face was wreathed with smiles. She was the coolest of all the vast throng gathered on the platform.

The dimensions and general characteristics of the Texas are as follows:

Length over all, 573 feet.
Extreme breadth, 95.2 feet.
Draft on trial, 28.6 feet.
Trial displacement, 27,000 tons.
Full load displacement, 30,000 tons.
Coal bunker capacity, 3,500 tons.
Cruising radius, 8,000 miles.
Indicated horsepower, 30,000.
Speed on trial, 21 knots.

For offensive fighting the Texas will be the superior of any warship yet designed for a foreign navy. In her main battery she will carry ten 14-inch breech-loading rifles of the latest and most improved design. These guns will be mounted in pairs in electrically controlled elliptical turrets located on the center line of the ship.

It will be possible to fire all 10 of these rifles on either broadside, thus giving this ship the most powerful broadside fire of any battleship in the world, as she is the first to be equipped with 14-inch rifles, the other dreadnoughts of the Navy carrying 12-inch rifles.

MUST WEAR NOTHING RED.

Railroad Tells Employes They May Be Taken For Stop Signals.

Chicago.—The fancy red waistcoat, red neckties and all other outer garments of scarlet hue have been forbidden to all employes of one Western railroad while they are on duty. The announcement was made to the employes Tuesday at the close of their day's work by order of the officials of the company. The order, which was one of several issued to the employes for the betterment of the service, was brief and to the point. It read: "No employe shall wear red colored outer garments, as they may be taken for stop signals."

Decline In Wheat.

Chicago.—Many stop-loss orders executed on a market bare of demand brought about a severe decline Monday in wheat. Crop and weather news was bearish, but the break appeared to be chiefly an aftermath of the selling flurry of last week. July delivery sold as low as $1.06, as compared with $1.08⅜ at the close Saturday night. Weakness nearly as great showed itself, too, in corn, oats and provisions.

Amateur Aviator Killed.

Xenia, O.—Fred J. Southard, of Minneapolis, Minn., an amateur aviator, fell 100 feet at the Wright aviation field, near Osborn, and was killed instantly. Southard, who was 40 years old, had just bought the aeroplane from the Wright brothers. He obtained the keys to the hangar, after he had been refused permission to take the aeroplane out without further experience. He fell just six minutes after he had begun the first flight alone.

Clocks His Hobby.

St. Louis, Mo.—Frank Kramer, a carpenter, whose hobby for doctoring clocks caused his wife to sue for divorce, finds solace from his domestic troubles in his workshop. The same clocks which brought about his domestic infelicity take all of his attention since the filing of the suit and seem to bring surcease from care. The petition for divorce sets forth that Kramer refused work and spent all his time with his clocks, coming home only to sleep.

POWERS STIRRED BY ITALY'S MOVE

Changing Political Map of the Mediterranean.

AGAINST TRIPLE ENTENTE

Italy Now In Control Of Eleven Turkish Islands In the Aegean Sea. A Proposal That Italy Remain In Egypt.

Paris.—The extension of the Turco-Italian war is awakening the powers to the necessity of making renewed attempts to bring the conflict to an end. Italy's steady occupation of Turkish islands in the Aegean Sea, which Turkey has answered by expelling Italians from the Ottoman Empire, is regarded here with considerable disquietude.

Italy is now in control of 11 Turkish islands in the archipelago, and this, it is pointed out, totally modifies the equilibrium of force in one section of the water route round the world, which, with the completion of the Panama Canal, means a continuous global marine movement.

The Temps declares that Italy's occupation of the archipelago changes the whole political map, as the Eastern Mediterranean enters into the dominion of the triple alliance. The turn of events therefore, is distinctly against the interests of the triple entente, and chiefly against those of Russia, and the time has arrived for members of the triple entente to examine the situation seriously.

Various suggestions for mediation between Turkey and Italy have been proffered, including the calling of a congress of European powers and a proposal to allow Italy to remain in Tripoli as England has remained in Egypt, with Turkey retaining legal control in the country, getting back her islands and receiving additional economic compensation.

PASSES FRIAR LANDS BILL.

House Places Them Under Philippine Government.

Washington.—After a bitter fight, the House passed a bill placing the so-called Philippine friar lands under the jurisdiction of the Philippine government and subject to the land laws as framed for the archipelago. Unlike the land taken from Spain as a result of the war in 1898, the friar lands, comprising the richest agricultural land in the islands, were bought from the religious orders. It was held that they were not subject to the restriction of the land laws, which limited individuals to 40 acres and corporations to not more than 2,500 acres each. As a result large parcels of the land were sold to speculators—56,000 acres to one individual.

A NEW BALLOON RECORD.

The Dirigible Clement-Bayard III. Ascends 9,514 Feet.

Paris.—The French dirigible balloon Clement-Bayard III. beat the world's dirigible balloon record for altitude. Carrying six passengers, the vessel ascended to a height of 9,514 feet.

The previous altitude record for dirigibles was held by the Adjutant Vincent, also of the Clement-Bayard type, which attained a height of 6,453 feet at Soissons, June 19 of last year.

Dr. Joseph Silverman, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Daniel Frohman, J. P. Morgan, Jr., Ralph Pulitzer, Clarence H. Mackay, George J. Gould and Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler.

.Boston, Mass.—Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson, murderer of Avis Linnell, was electrocuted at 12.17 Tuesday morning.

The current was turned on at 12.10.02, and the prisoner was declared totally dead at 12.17.

He was outwardly calm when he entered the death chamber, and he maintained his composure while the straps and electrodes were being adjusted as he sat in the electric chair.

Richeson walked to the chair erect, eyes straight ahead, until he sat down. Then he closed his eyes and kept them shut until the end.

Seated in the chair, he was asked a series of questions by the Rev. Herbert S. Johnson, his spiritual adviser.

During his answers he said:

"God will take care of my soul and I pray for all. I forgive everybody."

The last of the questions was:

"Are you willing to die for Jesus' sake?"

The reply, in an even, well-modulated tone, was simply: "I am willing to die."

The current applied was of 1,900 volts, eight amperes. One application was sufficient.

Roanoke, Va.—W. G. Baldwin, the detective who has had charge of the matter of running to earth the members of the Allen clan who are under indictment for the Hillsville murders, announced an increase of rewards in excess of that already offered by the state, the additional rewards being offered for Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards. The offer was made on the authority of Gov. William Hodges Mann.

The additional offer puts $1,500 on the head of Sidna Allen, dead or alive, and $1,000 is offered for any information leading to his arrest or capture, dead or alive.

Seven hundred and fifty dollars is placed on Wesley Edwards, dead or alive, and the person furnishing information leading to his arrest will receive $500.

DESECRATED OLD GLORY.

Striker Arrested Carried Flag Bearing Letters "I. W. W."

Clinton, Mass.—During a parade of strikers of the Lancaster mills Stanislaus Chiavarus, a Greek, who was bearing an American flag, was taken out of the line of policemen and placed under arrest on a charge of desecrating the flag, which bore the letters "I. W. W." At the police station a fully loaded revolver was removed from the Greek's pocket and an additional charge of carrying concealed weapons was lodged against him.

Memorial To Titanic Heroes.

Washington.—A memorial to Major Archibald W. Butt and Frank D. Millet, the artist, who perished in the wreck of the Titanic, was proposed in a resolution introduced by Senator Bacon to permit the erection of a memorial to be paid for by private subscription in one of the government parks in Washington. Senators Borah and Townson objected to the form of the resolution, asserting that it was unwise to single out any particular victims of the disaster.

PLAN AIR ROUTE

Prince Suggests Peking-Paris Line, and It Is Adopted.

Journey of Aeronauts Will Be Made Partly Over Great Desert of Gobi —Stations Will Be Laid Along the Trans-Siberian.

Paris.—After taking the advice of leading experts on climatic and other conditions likely to affect the Peking-Paris air race, Prince Borghese being among those consulted, a meeting was held at the offices of Le Matin recently, at which the first definite official program was drawn up.

The scheme submitted by Prince Borghese has been adopted. It has been settled that the race shall begin next September, at about the beginning of the month, when, according to the data received from the weather bureau of Russia, the Siberian rainy season is well over, not only along the Trans-Siberian, but in China, and when other weather conditions are also favorable.

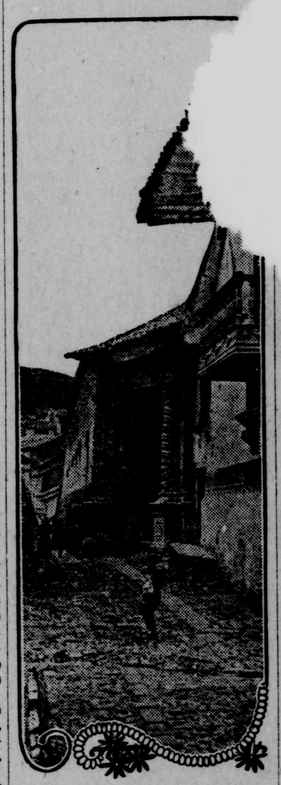

The suggestion of Prince Borghese that the Great Desert of Gobi be traversed, the route being Peking to Kalgan, Tuerin, Urga, Kakhta and Lake Baikal, was adopted, as not only offering the best means of arriving at Siberia, but as being admirably suited for landings. Other reasons are that it is frequented by caravans and that a telegraph line gives an ideal indication of the route.

The rest of the journey will be made by way of Irkutsk, Omsk, Kazan, Moscow, Warsaw, Vienna, Triest, Genoa, Avignon and Lyons, as already announced in these columns.

Stocks of petrol and spare parts are to be spread along the Trans-Siberian, also across the Gobi desert at short distances, while the food question meets its solution by the fact that the route follows railway stations and inhabited districts throughout.

Each entrant will be required to pay a deposit of $1,000, which will be refunded if he makes the proper start from Peking, but will, if forfeited, be added to the amount of the prizes.

In an interview Prince Borghese stated that, in his opinion, the Gobi desert presented the only practic means for the airmen to reach Lake Baikal, as the Mukden-Harbin route taken by the railroad involves surmounting the high Khingan chain of mountains as well as over 400 miles of mountainous country just before reaching the lake.

Names continue to be sent in for the race, among the latest being those of two young French pilots, who, although they have only recently obtained their diplomas, are confident of success.

MULE OBJECTS TO SAUCE

It Wrecked Bar After Getting Drinks and Hot Stuff for Lunch.

New York.—Leading a small donkey by the halter, a man entered a saloon at Atlantic avenue and Smith street, Brooklyn, and asked for a drink. Then he added:

"Give my friend something, too."

The donkey drank freely and wandered over to the free lunch counter, where some one gave him a spoonful of tabasco sauce.

Things began to happen. The donkey kicked over the lunch counter, wrecked part of the bar and got to the street. He stopped to do some more kicking three blocks away, and was captured.

Water in quantities was given the donkey, and he was locked up for the night in a livery stable. His owner was Richard Schoaf of Sullivan county.

"I bought that donkey for my three children," Schoaf said. "Came down to New York to get him especially, and I was told his habits were good. Looks like I was done on this trade. But up home I'll keep liquor and tabasco from him. When I told the barkeeper to give him a drink, I just wanted to try him out. Wish I hadn't."
