The members of the W. C. T. U. and of the Literary Club have purchased wire receptacles for catching rubbish, and they are being put in place at the street corners where most needed. They hope to see them made use of as it will make a much more cleanly and attractive town.

The meeting of the Literary Club on Monday evening was especially enjoyable. Mrs. Ward had charge of the program, and read a most interesting paper on music and some of the most prominent composers. Selections were played by Mrs. Ward Miss Todd, Miss Ella Carter and Miss Mary Skirven and were all enjoyed, especially the last selection by Mrs. Ward, Liszt's Fourteenth Rhapsody, which held those present spellbound, and displayed the remarkable skill of the performer.

The Boys and Girls Industrial Exhibit, held at Preston last week in connection with the Farmers' Institute, was quite large and reflected much credit upon the persons who took part. The prize winners were as follows: Girls—Lillian Cox, First; Cora Mudge, Second; Mary Todd; Preston, Third. Boys—First, Lloyd Cannon; Second, Purnell Dennis, Preston; Third, William Halverson, Grove. In all about thirty-three boys and twenty girls had exhibits. Several farmers exhibited seed corn, the prize winners being Alex. Booth, W. G. Wright and G. L. Butler.

The Ladies Circle of the M E. Church gave a very pleasant entertainment at the former M. E. Parsonage on Friday evening. It was called a Martha and George Social and attracted the largest crowd seen at the parsonage for some time. A silver offering was received at the door and the ladies who served refreshments wore shoulder capes, white aprons and had their hair powdered. Little Miss Margaret Pastorfield and Wilson Funk, appropriately costumed represented Martha and George Washington. There was also a cherry tree handsomely decorated with cherries, and souvenirs consisting of cherries and hatchets were distributed. Refreshments were served and everybody had a good time.

The Farmers' Meeting.

As announced some weeks ago a Farmers' Institute was held in the Court House on Thursday last, Dr. R. S. Hill presiding. The room was darkened sufficiently to permit the use of lantern slides, and Mr. Hill gave an illustrated talk on the Maryland Agricultural College and its work. "Fruits and Fruit Growing" were discussed by Mr. E. I. Oswald, and Mr. T. J. Williams, of Preston, spoke on growing tomatoes, making a strong point of the saving of seed by each farmer from specially selected fruit. "The by-products of the canning house" was discussed by H. C. Whiteford, of Whiteford, Md., and his suggestions were specially interesting to the canners.

A concrete expert from Chicago, Mr. G. H. Reiter, gave some practical hints on the use of cement on the farm. He said it had been found that rural communities consumed a large per cent. of the cement manufactured showing that the farmers realize the advantages of concrete construction. He explained that in most cases the first cost was the only cost in the use of cement. There is no repairing, painting, or demand for skilled labor. In many cases the cost is less than in wood construction, and the work grows stronger with age.

At the evening session Miss Mary Burnite spoke on "Home Economics" and Prof. E. M. Noble discussed a few school questions. Mr. C. L. Opperman, a poultry expert, showed some illustrations of poultry and poultry houses, but did not have time for his regular talk on feeding, egg production, etc.

The school children were allowed to attend from the High School, and many of the boys made exhibits of corn, and the girls exhibited corn bread.

Fire at Rehoboth.

Fire, starting from an oil lamp in the garage of Levin Carmine, in Rehoboth Avenue, Rehoboth, Del., at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, swept the business district of that resort and several residences and twenty-two buildings, including the Atlantic Hotel, the Methodist Episcopal Church, a large garage and three stores were totally burned, the loss aggregating $150,000 and with not over $25,000 insurance on the property destroyed.

The fire is the third to occur there since last August, and it was the most disastrous which ever visited the resort. The burned area extends for one thousand feet west on Rehoboth and Baltimore Avenues and goes eastward on Baltimore Avenue a similar distance.

The volunteer fire fighters displayed marked heroism and prevented the loss being greater. Help was asked of Wilmington and three companies were sent from that city, but were recalled upon arriving at Harrington.

Only one store remains in Rehoboth, but there is no danger of a food scarcity, and the homeless victims are being cared for by the more fortunate and their few effects are stored in the skating rink of Charles S. Horn and the Excursion House.

FAIR A SUCCESS.

The "Made in Denton" Fair conducted on Friday and Saturday of last week was a success. Numerous articles made in Denton were on exhibition, and contributed for the sale. The canners gave canned goods, plum puddings etc., the ladies contributed fancy work, cakes, pickles and jelly; the bakers contributed bread and the broom maker brooms, the sale of which all served to swell the receipts which the ladies propose to use for the improvement of the town. The Electric Light Company furnished the light free of charge for the privilege of exhibiting their electrical appliances, which were examine with much interest. T. Fred Garey contributed a unique ornament made at Otto Shops consisting of a Masonic Emblem framed in a "Good Luck" horseshoe. He also had on exhilition a spinning wheel chair made from an old spinning wheel which attracted much attention. The exhibit of work from the manual training department of the High School, F. C. Brown, instructor, was also much admired.

The ladies spent considerable time in decorating the booths where, home-made candy, pies, cakes, ice cream and other refreshments were for sale, and when the arches, made of pine boughs, were lighted by the tiny colored electric lights the effect was beautiful.

At the close on Saturday evening auctioneer Temple sold to the high bidder all the articles that remained and the sum total of the proceeds was nearly $80.00. After paying the rent for the room, the ice cream bill and a few other expenses the ladies will have a tidy little sum, about $65 clear.

The ladies desire to express their thanks for the liberal patronage and assistance given them.

Spectacles do not always make the wearer wise, but wise people always wear spectacles when they need them. They realize that to postpone their use is a fight against nature, an uneven contest. Go to F. J. Wright, Ref. D., and receive aid for your eyes.

Threatened The President.

Isaiah Clark, who for a couple of years has lived a sort of hermit's life on his farm noth of Denton, was arrested on Friday last while in town, on a charge of disturbing the peace and is now confined in jail. Clark, who is usually of a quiet disposition, has been for several months, reading and distributing the socialist paper "Appeal to Reason." Just before election he began electioneering by delivering arguments on the street to anyone who would listen to him, and since then has tried to talk on a variety of subjects, frequently coming to town for that purpose. Recently he is reported to have made threats against several persons here and announced that he had "Divine Power to Kill," not in a physical sense, but with the power of prayer. His threats against the President and President-elect were communicated to the authorities at Washington and Detective Evans of the Secret Service arrived in town on Friday and after some investigation advised locking the man up.

Clark spent several years in Alaska, and is said to still have some mining interests there. The exposures of his life there and his hermit life here are believed to have affected his mind. He is said to have sent threatening telegrams to Washington, and declared his intention of attending the inauguration in March. While he had a good house on his farm he persisted in living in a shack in the woods sleeping and cooking in one end and keeping his chickens in the other end.

Since his confinement he has apparently improved very much, and seems brighter and more rational each day. On Tuesday his brother Finley Clark, of Washington, formerly residing on the Taylor farm near town, arrived here and will probably arrange to have him leave the county for a time at least.

Woman Can Live on $7 20 a Week.

Self-supporting women require at least $7.20 a week in Philadelphia to provide the bare necessities of life, according to a circular issued by the Commission on Social Service of the Interchurch Federation of Philadelphia. In advising women and girls who come to Philadelphia to accept employment, the commission says the weekly cost of living is a follows: Room rent, with two meals, $5; luncheons, $1.20; clothing and incidentals, $1.

The commission in its circular says: "So many dangers beset the self-supporting woman who has an inadequate wage or is out of employment for any length of time that we feel justified in issuing this caution and warning."

The High School teachers are attending the Superintendent's section of the N. E. A., in Philadelphia, hence the school for the week end is closed.

Misses Mary Skirven and Ella Carter and Mary Todd assisted in the musical given before the Literary Club by Mrs. A. N. Ward on Monday evening.

All boys interested in the Boy Scouts are asked to come to the High School building Friday evening, March 7th.

At the meeting of the Patrons' Association at the High School next Tuesday evening, the advisability of petitioning the State Board of Education relative to changes in the curriculum intended to make public school studies more practical will be discussed. The program also includes instrumental music by Mrs. Ward and Miss Todd, and recitations by Misses Muriel Ramsdell and Kathleen Murchison.

New Salisbury Postoffice.

Salisbury is to have the first public building erected in the First Congressional District. The appropriation bill in Congress, which has been reported, contained an item of $80,000 for a site and building in that city and an item of $10,000 for a site for abuilding in Cambridge. Congressman J. Harry Covington decided in favor of that city after his attention had been called to the fact that Salisbury had the largest population, the largest postoffice receipts, the largest commerce and trade, the most rapidly growing population and more real need for a Federal building. A committee of twenty-five leading business men of the city went to Washington to lay the matter before the Congressman and Senators from this state, with the result above stated.

New Caps for Patrolmen.

To keep better tab on the patrolmen on the state roads throughout the Eastern Shore, the state roads commission has ordered that dark blue caps be worn by the men, on which will be printed "State Road Patrolmen." This will also be on the men, but they will further be required to carry a small flag, which, when they leave the road for a short time they will have to place in the road where they are at work. Basket Willow Cuttings Free.

The Department of Agriculture is getting ready to fill requests for the basket willow cuttings grown last year on its experimental farm at Arlington, Va. Distribution of these cuttings takes place early in March of each spring, to farmers and others who wish to make trials of basket willow on lands too wet for other crops. From 50 to 100 cuttings are given each person. The distribution is not a mere giving away of government material to persons who desire to get something free; be cause it is required that each recipient of cuttings shall make a report of the treatment given and the results obtained. Several select varities are included in each set that is distributed, and aim is to secure information as to the best variety for each locality, since no one kind can be relied upon to yield maximum results over a wide range of territory. In the basket willow investigations carried on at Arlington, Va., and at Ames, Iowa, by the forest service, particular attention has been given to the development of American specie for basket making purposes.
