CONSTIPATION

Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are unlike all other laxatives or cathartics. They coax the liver into activity by gentle methods, they do not scour; they do not gripe; they do not weaken; but they do start all the secretions of the liver and stomach in a way that soon puts these organs in a healthy condition and corrects constipation. Munyon's Paw-Paw Pills are a tonic to the stomach, liver and nerves. They invigorate instead of weaken; they enrich the blood instead of impoverishing it; they enable the stomach to get all the nourishment from food that is put into it. Price 25 cents. All Druggists.

RESINOL STOPS ITCHING INSTANTLY

It is a positive fact that the moment Resinol Ointment touches any itching skin, the itching stops and healing begins. With the aid of Resinol Soap, it quickly clears away all trace of eczema, ringworm, pimples, blackheads, or other tormenting, unsightly eruption, leaving the skin clear and healthy.

And the best of it is you need never hesitate to use Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment. There is nothing in them to injure the tenderest surface. Resinol is a doctor's prescription which for eighteen years has been used by careful physicians for all kinds of skin affections. They prescribe Resinol freely, confident that its soothing, healing action is brought about by medication so bland and gentle as to be suited to the most delicate or irritated skin—even of a tiny baby.

Resinol is sold by every druggist in the United States, or sent by parcel post on receipt of price, Resinol Ointment, 50c and $1, Resinol Soap, 25c. You can prove at our expense what Resinol will do for you. Write today to Dept. 3-K, Resinol, Baltimore, Md., and we will send you a liberal trial.

MODEST REQUEST.

"Dat was an eccentric request you made of dat lady when yer asked her to give yer a smokin' jacket wid trimmings. What did yer mean by 'trimmings, pal?"

"Why, a pipe, a package of tobacco an' a box of matches."

Trying to Place Him.

"What is your idea of a radical?" asked the young man who is studying politics.

"My observation," replied Senator Sorghum, "is that a radical is usually a man who wants to muss things up in the hopes of establishing himself in circumstances sufficiently comfortable to warrant his becoming a conservative."—Washington Star.

A Wise Plan.

"The French have the right idea. They protect the woman."

"How?"

"Draw up a marriage contract."

"I see. Fix the alimony while the groom is still in love."

Her Habit.

"It did Jack no good to marry his stenographer, for she continued the habit of office in their home."

"How so?"

"When he starts to dictate she takes him down."—Tit-Bits.

It's awfully hard for a girl to get used to a stepfather.

It's Always A Good Thing

To have a

Clear Horizon

at both ends of the day.

A dish of

Post Toasties

for breakfast and again at the evening meal opens and closes the day with a dash of sunshine.

Toasties are bits of hard, white Indian Corn, first carefully cooked, then rolled thin and crinkly, and toasted to a delicate, appetizing brown.

Not a hand touches the food in manufacture, and it is ready to serve direct from the package—to be eaten with cream or milk—and sugar, if desired.

Post Toasties taste deliciously good and are richly nourishing.

Easter Offering

The Easter Chimes

I wonder if they know it, those little ones whose days
Are spent where sadness hovers and beauty never strays;
Whose childhood ceased the moment that they had strength to bear
The burdens which were waiting, whose little faces care
Has marred with cruel fingers, whose eyes have lost their glow,
Whose hopes have withered early—I wonder if they know?

The bells are ringing loudly, the splendid anthems rise,
And hatred is forgotten and ruthless frenzy dies;
The story of His glory we gladly hear again,
And for a precious moment Love comes once more to reign;
But they whose cheeks are pallid, poor little heirs of woe,
Who sit in darkened hovels—I wonder if they know?

Around the altars lilies in spotless white are set,
That we may still remember, that no one may forget;
The brave words that He uttered we solemnly repeat,
We learn again the lesson and deem the learning sweet;
His message to the children is reverently heard,
But are the little toilers by glad emotion stirred?

His promise is repeated where heads are gravely bowed,
Men cease a while to covet, and women, fair and proud,
Kneel piously and humbly and for His mercy pray,
Their vanity forgotten, their envy put away;
We sing that he is risen, the lordly and the low,
But, poor, wan little toilers, I wonder if they know?

Ring out, O chimes of Easter, that all mankind may hear,
That pride may be forgotten and love may reappear,
That they who proudly covet and they who foster greed
May hear the saving message and, hearing, pause to heed—
That they, poor little toilers, condemned to early woe,
And cheated of their childhood, at last may gladly know!

S. E. KISER

Easter and the Egg.

The Easter egg, or the Pasch egg, had its origin in one of the curious Christian adaptations of pagan customs. From remote ages the egg has been a symbol of the mystery of creation. That is natural enough, because the quickening egg gives to us the most illumination on that tremendous mystery, the awakening of life. The Persians held that the world was hatched from an egg at that season of the year which corresponds to the vernal equinox. Among the Jews the egg contributed to the Paschal ceremonies. Under the Christian dispensation the egg became a popular symbol of the resurrection of Christ from the tomb on Easter Sunday, and it was at first colored red to betoken the blood shed for sinners on the cross.

Joy in Friendship.

A faithful friend is a strong defense. He that hath found a friend hath found a treasure. A poor man may be said to be rich in the midst of poverty so long as he enjoys the interior sunshine of a devoted friend.

Hugo's Faith in Immortality

I FEEL in myself the future life. I am like a forest once cut down; the new shoots are stronger and livelier than ever. I am rising I know, toward the sky. The sunshine is on my head. The earth gives me its generous sap, but heaven lights me with the reflection of unknown worlds.

You say the soul is nothing but the resultant of the bodily powers. Why then, is my soul more luminous when my bodily powers begin to fail? Winter is on my head, but eternal spring is in my heart. I breathe at this hour the fragrance of the lilacs, the violets and the roses, as at twenty years. The nearer I approach the end the plainer I hear around me the immortal symphonies of the worlds which invite me. It is marvelous yet simple. It is a fairy tale, and it is history.

For half a century I have been writing my thoughts in prose and in verse; history, philosophy, drama, romance, tradition, satire, ode and song; I have tried all. But I feel I have not said the thousandth part of what is in me. When I go down to the grave I can say like many others, "I have finished my day's work." But I cannot say, "I have finished my life." My day's work will begin again the next morning. The tomb is not a blind alley; it is thoroughfare. It closes on the twilight, it opens on the dawn.—Victor Hugo.

HAVE SPECIAL EASTER DISH

Gammon of Bacon and a Tansy Pudding Are Features of the Season in English Country.

In Devonshire, England, the special Easter dish is a gammon of bacon and a tansy pudding, the latter being so well established a custom that it is celebrated in an old ballad:

At stool-ball, Lucia, let us play
For sugar, cakes and wine;
Or for a tansy let us pay,
The loss be thine or mine.
If thou, my dear, a winner be
At trundling of the ball,
The wages thou shalt have, and me,
And my misfortunes all.

In Staffordshire the men lift the women of the various villages on Easter Monday, and the women have to take a try at lifting the men on Easter Tuesday. In Cheshire there is a lifting chair. In Chester Easter Monday is celebrated by ball playing between the clergy and laity. In Durham the men take off the women's shoes on Monday and have the unique courtesy returned in kind on Tuesday. Nearly all these customs of Easter have been too closely associated with the place of their occurrence to suffer transplantation, although the whip-lashing of the Polish children bears a striking resemblance in its turn-about-is-fair-play idea to the English customs.

WHY THE RABBIT AT EASTER

Pretty Legend of Olden Times Connects Bunny and the Eggs It Is Supposed to Lay.

So many have asked, "Why is the rabbit so closely associated with Easter?" Each year at this season the cunning little bunny appears in the shop windows beside downy chicks and gayly-colored eggs. The legend of the Easter rabbit is one of the most ancient in mythological lore and is closely related to the folk tales of southern Germany.

In the beginning of things, it seems, the rabbit was a bird. As a great favor the goddess Ostara, who was the patron of spring, gave it four legs, for which the rabbit was deeply grateful. In remembrance of its former life as a bird, when the spring or Easter season comes it lays eggs of gorgeous colors, and the egg has always been a symbol of the resurrection, and therefore used at Easter time when we look for the life everlasting and all things made new.

It is a German custom for children to go to their godmothers at Easter for the gift of colored eggs and a baked rabbit. Just before Easter the children are sent to the garden to build a nest for the expected rabbit, and early Easter morning they go with great expectations, and are never disappointed, to get the eggs which the rabbit has laid for them. Even in Africa, among the heathen tribes, worship of the egg is common. No altar is complete without its egg decoration, and most huts have at least one sacred egg. On all the eggs devoted to the rites of worship a verse from the Koran is written at each end, while the sides are ornamented by scenes from the Nile.

A rare specimen of these eggs is to be seen in the Detroit Museum of Art. The etchings on the shell follow closely the same general design as the paintings of men and women that were recently found in Cairo.

Christ's Promise to the World.

"Unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation."—Hebrews 9:28.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

QUESTION not, but live and labor,
Till your goal be won.
Helping every feeble neighbor,
Seeking help from none.
Life is mostly froth and bubble,
Two things stand like stone;
Kindness in another's trouble,
Courage in your own.

SOME DISHES WORTH TRYING.

When it is hard to think of anything new for dessert, try using the following: Open a can of pears, take out enough to serve for a meal, cover with a bit of the juice and season with mace. Cook until well seasoned, remove the mace and serve a pear or two with juice and a tablespoonful of whipped and sweetened cream.

Cottage Cheese Salad.—Mix two cupfuls of cottage cheese with a half cup of English walnut meats, a teaspoonful of chopped chives or scraped onion, salt and paprika to taste; roll in egg shapes or shape in a tablespoon, and then place two or three in nests of lettuce. Serve with any desired salad dressing. A mayonnaise with a few chopped olives or capers will improve the salad.

Fruit Sponge Drops.—Bake small sponge cakes, baking them in gem irons. When cold, cut off the top, carefully remove the center, and fill with a teaspoonful of canned peaches or any desired fruit that you have at hand. Put a tablespoonful of whipped cream on top and serve. If one has a large amount of fruit juice left from a jar of fruit, the sponge cakes may be served unbroken, with the juice added to the whipped cream for a flavor. If cherry juice is added, a few drops of almond will be good for flavor.

Uncooked Mince Meat.—Two cups of chopped cooked beef, five cups of apples, three cups of raisins, one cup of molasses, four cups of sugar, one cup each of vinegar and cider, one tablespoonful of cinnamon and a cup of suet. This makes one gallon, and will keep a long time if in a cool place. It may be cooked and canned.

IS THY cruse of comfort wasting? Rise and share it with another,
And through all the years of famine, it shall serve thee and thy brother.

A FEW BREADS.

Bread is the staff of life; it is necessary that we know how to keep that staff in good condition. The following breads are good to add variety to our tables.

Vienna Rolls.—Take a cup of warm water, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, two of salt, a fourth of a cup of tepid water, in which a yeast cake is dissolved, one egg and two and a half cups of flour. Mix and set to raise; when well risen roll out in long rolls and form in crescent-shaped rolls. Set to raise; brush with melted butter, and when light bake in a hot oven.

Brioche.—This is the French coffee cake. Mix together two cups of flour, four tablespoonfuls of sugar, three eggs, a half cup of butter, a teaspoonful of salt, a fourth of a cup of water in which the yeast cake is softened, a fourth cup of milk and a cup of mixed fruit. The fruit may be raisins, currants and citron, cut in very thin pieces. When risen, roll in long roll, form in circle and slash with a sharp knife. Sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and bake.

Pocket book rolls for the children are made of the Parker house roll mixture, cutting them as for Parker house rolls. When they are folded over, put two or three currants in each, then fold over and, when baked, the little people will be delighted with the money they find in their rolls.

One of the important points to consider in all bread making is letting it raise light enough and then baking it at first at a high temperature, to kill the yeast plant and cease its raising.

Nellie Maxwell

Glad, but Sorry.

A little girl, with exquisitely long golden curls and an angelic appearance in general, came in from an afternoon walk with her nurse and said to her mother: "O! mamma, a strange woman in the street said to me: 'My, but ain't you got beautiful hair!'"

The mother smiled, for the compliment was well merited, but she gasped as the child innocently continued her account:

"I said to her: 'I am very glad to have you like my hair, but I am sorry to hear you use the word ain't.'"

Making It Clear

The breakfaster had ordered a halibut steak. The waiter returned to announce that a steak could not be served, but that a filet was possible. "The filet comes from here," he explained, laying two fingers athwart his side and speaking as one perfectly good halibut to another.

Happiness.

Happiness is mostly a state of mind; the most persistent singer we ever knew was a farm hand who had to work fifteen hours a day.

About Umbrellas.

Eyeglass wearers have long since complained that people are careless with umbrellas. Many pairs of glasses have been knocked off and broken by persons who selfishly refuse to move an umbrella so as to allow other people to easily pass. A few even persist in dangerously spinning an umbrella along a crowded street, endangering the glasses and sometimes eyes of passing walkers.

It is just about as easy to buy refinement as it is to grasp a sunbeam.

COMMERCIAL

Weekly Review of Trade and Market Reports.

Bradstreets' says:

"Spring trade conditions are healthy. Staple goods receive most call, but there is quite a little booking of fair future business, though buying in this respect is tempered to some extent by prospective tariff changes.

"Wool is quiet and prices are rather weak. Industrial operations proceed at an active pace. Outdoor work has been conducted with few pauses throughout the winter season. The market for flour appears to be overstocked and flour milling in the Northwest is quieter. Specifications for finished steel are unusually heavy and the industry, as a whole, is working at high pressure. Copper has improved a little owing to foreign demand.

"Winter wheat conditions are favorable and in the South preparations are going forward for the new planting season, with prospects favoring an increased cotton acreage.

"Business failures for the week were 259, which compares with 287 in the like week of 1912.

"Wheat, including flour, exports from the United States and Canada for the week aggregate 2,689,078 bushels, against 4,800,183 bushels last week and 1,899,227 bushels this week last year."
