The History Of An Eraser.

Each month the teachers of the various schools send to the School Board office language papers written by their scholars and from these the best is selected. The following was marked "First Choice" for March, and was written by Mattie Woodward of Saulsbury's School.

Boys and girls would you like for me to tell you the history of my life? I have not always been in the condition that you see me now. Only a year ago I was hundreds of miles away from here and in a very different country from what you now see me.

I first lived in a tree in a very hot country called Brazil along the banks of the Amazon river.

One day last spring as the sun shone over my head and the days began to grow longer something seemed to tell me that spring was fast approaching and that it was time for me to awake so I began to move slowly up the trunk of the tree.

A few days later a man came into the woods and I soon heard a "tap, tap" on the out side. He bored a hole into the tree and I began to move slowly into a bucket. How glad I was to leave my dark home and get into the beautiful out side world!

Then I was taken where I was heated very hot. This was not at all pleasant and I began to wish my self back in my old home. But I was not kept there any longer than I was changed into a solid state.

Soon I heard a whistle, I knew I was on a big boat sailing down the Amazon river. After a long voyage down this river we came to a place called Para. Here I was taken to a rubber factory and heated again and put under heavy rollers, and treated so roughly that I began to wonder what they would do to me next. I looked around and saw some of my frinds coming out in the form of bicycle tires, boots, over shoes, and various other articles, but when I came out they called me an Eraser.

A few days later thousands of my friends and I were packed in a box and sent on another long voyage this time on the ocean.

Growing weary of the long voyage we feel asleep, and when we awoke found ourselves in a large store in a town called Denton.

Hardly had we been placed in the show cases when a little boy came running into the store and asked for an eraser. I was picked out from hundreds of my friends and sold to him for five cents.

He carried me to a school Saulsbury's where I expect to spend the rest of my day's, now I'm sure after hearing the history of my life and the hard times I have had you will always be kind to me and not give me to many hard rubs.

Recommended for a Good Reason.

Spray For Insect Pests.

The school of Horticulture of the Maryland Agricultural College and Experiment Station has just completed the spraying and pruning demonstrations inaugurated in February. There has been a great demand for these demonstrations in all parts of the State and they have been largely attended. Growers are recognizing more and more the importance of starting the trees right by pruning them properly.

The time will soon be at hand when apple orchards should be sprayed with the concentrated lime, sulfur solution 1-40, and 2 lbs, arsenate of lead to 50 gallons of water, applied just as the blossoms fall, to prevent injury from Codling Moth-Curculio and various diseases. Peach orchards should be sprayed just as shucks are falling from the young peaches with the self-boiled lime sulfur, 8 pounds lime, 8 pounds sulfur and 2 pounds arsenate of lead to 50 gallons of water.

The school of Horticulture desires to also conduct as many spraying demonstrations for these pests as possible, to show the growers of any community how orchards can be made to yield fine quality fruit with such treatment.

Anyone desiring bulletins on treating orchards for these pests or desire spraying demonstrations in their community should communicate at once with the School of Horticulture Maryland Agricultural College and Experiment Station.

Coughs and Consumption

Coughs and colds, when neglected, always lead to serious trouble of the lungs. The wisest thing to do when you have a cold that troubles you is to get a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery. You will get relief from the first dose, and finally the cough will disappear. O. H. Brown, of Muscadine, Ala., writes: "My wife was down in bed with an obstinate cough, and I honestly believe had it not been for Dr. King's New Discovery, she would not be living today." Known for forty-three years as the best remedy for coughs and colds. Price 50c and $1.00. Recommended by All Druggists.

Convicts on Road Work.

It is hoped the Levy Court and the trustees of the New Castle County workhouse will be able to agree upon a satisfactory plan for putting into effect the proposition of the trustees to have the inmates of the workhouse employed in building and repairing county roads. The work already done in this direction by the workhouse trustees shows that the system is easily adaptable. Work by convicts on public roads is not a matter of difficulty. The convicts prefer it to labor within the prison walls, and it is much better for their physical comfort. Very few of the entire number are men who would give the overseers of the work any trouble.

This plan would enable the community to profit largely by road work. The construction and maintenance of public roads are elements of great cost, and no community can afford to indulge therein to the extent of the public demand. Cheapness means a larger indulgence, and convict labor would afford the desired economy. And convict labor applied in this direction would not interfere with honest labor.—Wilmington Morning News.

Thousands recommend Electric Bitters as the very best stomach and kidney medicine made. H. T. Alston, of Raleigh, N. C., who suffered with pain in the stomach and back, writes: "My kidneys were deranged and my liver did not work right. Denton vs. Easton.

The game of ball with Easton on Saturday proved a very agreeable surprise, as it was thought Easton would bring a team that would soon finish our town club. The game was rotton from the start as the score of 12 to 11 shows. Wine pitched for Denton but was given poor support and Easton made 2 runs in the first inning. The Denton boys were retired in almost 1, 2, 3 order in the first three inning but secured one run in the 4th, Easton also scored in the 4th. Easton made 4 runs in the 6 and 2 in the 7th and the score stood 7 to 5 in favor of Easton. When the Denton boys went to bat in the last half of the 9th the score was 11 to 6. By a wonderful batting rally and the weakening of the Easton pitcher they piled up 6 runs and closed the game 12 to 11 in favor of Denton. The battery for Easton was Legates and Morton. Wine and Nuttle did Dentons battery work. The clubs were entertained in the evening by the girls of the high school at the home of Miss Eleanor Barnhart.

The Great American Sport.

Why worry? Chase the crow's feet out of your countenance and loosen up the noise works in the region of the Adam's apple with a little spring training. The baseball season is here and the crack to the base hit summons the American citizen to duty as the drum beat at Lexington did in a day long past.

If President Wilson reads his next message to Congress from the top of the Washington monument, we will decline to put on mourning about it. Besides, he has a season pass to the games of the dandy Nationls and says he's going to use it every day he can. A man who is as thoroughly in touch with the institutions of his country as that can't be half bad.

Secretary Bryan will have a good excuse for refusing to wear his new silk hat when he goes to the games because a stray foul tip might put it in a condition that would lead to alarmist rumors about a meeting with Champ Clark face to face on the street.

Governor Goldsboro, after innings of agony while the home team's pitcher is being batted all over the lot, can reflect that there are worse things even than an extra session of the Legislature.

Mayor Preston can see a game won by a daring slide in the last half of the ninth inning and coyly reflect that maybe he can hand them a little surprise on the Senatorship yet.

And the plain, everyday citizen will just whoop until he is so hoarse that he can hardly ask his wife to pass him the rolls at supper. The one contagion against which it is useless to try to inoculate anybody is going round, and only a nipping frost next fall can stop it.—Baltimore News.

ECHOES FROM EASTON.

Easton Happenings Always Interest Our Readers.

After reading of so many people in our town who have been cured by Doan's Kidney Pills, the question naturally arises: "Is this medicine equally successful in our neighboring towns?" The generous statement of this Easton resident leaves no room for doubt on this point.

Herbert O. Gale, 115 Locust St., Easton Md., says:

"At my work I am often called upon to do heavy lifting and this has brought on pains in my back. For days after doing any lifting, my back was very painful. I had faith in Doan's Kidney Pills from the many endorsements I had heard people give them, and I began using them. They relieved me quick. My former words of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills still holds good. I am always ready to say that this remedy cured me of kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.
