The report that Mr. E. G. Cover, who purchased the Nuttle and Everngam stores last week would occupy them next year has not been confirmed as yet. There is no probability, at any rate, of Denton losing these enterprising merchants as places can easily be prepared for them, and Mr. Cover's business would be a big addition to our town.

Just before going to press the circus parade passed down Main street. The display of fine horses, elephants and wild animals was good, and no doubt the Japenese tumblers, clowns and equestriennes will delight the audiences this (Wednesday) afternoon and evening. The crowd in town does not seem to be as large as usual, owing perhaps to the threatening weather. The business managers of the Sanger shows are hustlers and we have no doubt they give a fine exhibition. As we go to press the afternoon performance is on.

Jack Perkins Captured.

Sheriff A. E. Cooper will endeavor to have Jack Perkins, the negro who is alleged to have shot and killed William Henry at Ridgely a year ago, delivered to the Caroline authorities by the officials of Delaware. The New Castle court sits this week, and Perkins is held at the workhouse on a charge of shooting another negro at Armstrong, near Middletown, before he is alleged to have come to Caroline and killed Henry.

Perkins disappeared after Henry was killed and was not located by Sheriff Cooper until he had been picked up in Delaware, a few weeks ago.

He was indicted for the murder by the Caroline grand jury at the October term of court, and as the punishment if he is convicted under this indictment is likely to be much greater than can be given him for the Delaware offense, the Caroline authorities expect the New Castle court to hand him over.

Mr. Stewart has been in extremely poor health for more than a year but was able to be out on the street only a few days ago and sat on the front porch on Friday afternoon. No man in Denton was better known to people all over the county than Mr. Stewart. His life has been spent in the town and for years he was engaged in the hardware business either for himself or as a salesman for some of the various hardware firms of the town. Later he engaged in the carriage business buying his stock by the carload and disposing of them to his customers in all parts of the county.

Mr. Stewart would have been 58 years of age in July and was a son of the late Capt. Alexander Stewart. He leaves a widow, formerly Mrs. Rebecca Bloxsom, and one brother, Mr. William A. Stewart, and one sister, Mrs. Frank A. Redden. The funeral took place Monday afternoon and the burial was in Denton Cemetery.

Discouraging Fruit Reports.

The latest reports from all counties on the peninsula from Wilmington to Cape Charles are to the effect that the growing crops and small fruits as well as larger fruits were badly damaged recently by the cold weather, cold rains and wind storms, and that there will practically be no peaches, few plums and hardly any pears. While the buds are still on the trees it is said the cold weather and the three big frosts of that week have practically killed the fruit and that the buds will gradually drop off and leave the trees bare.

The most discouraging reports come from Delaware. Not only have the peaches, pears and plums been practically wiped out, but cherries have been damaged and strawberries blackberries, raspberries and the smaller vegetables have been ruined by wind, rain and frosts. In Wicomico County the reports on the small fruits are very discouraging and in some parts of the county the vegetables have been badly damaged by being cut to pieces by the wind and hard rains.

Some of the strawberry experts say that the crop has been damaged so that there will not probably be more than a half yield, and unless the weather changes very soon not that much of a crop can be expected. The apple crop is said to be about the only fruit which has withstood onslaught of the elements during the past two weeks.

The very warm winter caused the trees and small plants to bud out much earlier than usual and they were in a tender condition when the cold weather and frosts struck them. It is to be hoped that the reports will not prove true in every respect as the loss of a fruit crops to the farmers of the peninsula would mean millions of dollars to this section of Maryland.—Snow Hill Messenger.

Not According To Rules.

A professor of art, whose absence of mind is remarkable, recently had occasion to use a cab. Looking round he espied one coming in his direction, drawn by a miserable specimen of horse-flesh.

The professor, says the Boston Journal, hailed the cabman and was about to enter the vehicle when, loooking at the horse, he stooped dumfounded.

"What's this, driver?" Asked the teacher of drawing, sternly.

"A horse, sir, of course," replied the cabman.

"A horse, eh," replied the professor abstractedly. "Well, rub it out and do it over again."

The Denton base ball club motored over to Easton on Friday to play a return game with the club of that city. The date for a return game has not been fixed

The base ball club from Hickman came over for a friendly game on Saturday afternoon and Denton won out by a score of 16 to 14. Johnson pitched for Denton and did good work but his support in the field was very poor. In fact the visitors kept the home team busy from the start. Fountain, the visitors pitcher put up a nice steady game, but his field support was also poor. Both clubs seemed to be able to find the ball and there were plenty of safe hits on both sides.

Our home team expects to have a game on Saturday afternoon on the home grounds, with the Centreville club.

Old Paca Heirloom.

At the store of Parlett and Pascault, Easton, lately, there was on exhibit a rare old colonial sideboard, which for many years graced the dining room of the old home of Governor Paca, on Wye Island, Queen Anne's county.

Mr. M. Tilghman Johnson purchased the "find" from a resident of Wye Island recently. The sideboard is of the old colonial type, with the knife and fork boxes at either side and on top. The general effect is rectangular, with four columns carrying carved caps. The drawers are oval in form.

This bit of old Queen Anne's history, which has gone to Talbot county, reminds many Queen Anne's countians of the rich antique furniture which reposed in the stately old Paca mansion before the fire in the early '80s. The furniture was considered the most magnificent ever seen in this section. There were richly carved pieces of furniture, and one set of chairs were used in Washington at the time of President George Washington's induction into office. Practically all of this valuable old furniture was lost during the fire which destroyed the Paca home, but some few of the smaller articles were scattered about among the old residents of the island.

The piece of furniture on exhibit in Easton would no doubt bring a handsome price at any of the city antique shops.—Centreville Observer.
