Thanksgiving Proclamation.

Washington, D. C., Sunday—President Wilson in a proclamation has designated Thursday, November 28, as Thanksgiving Day and said this year the American people have special and moving cause to be grateful and rejoice. Complete victory, he said, has brought not only peace but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which "justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations."

The proclamation follows:—

A PROCLAMATION.

It has been our custom to turn in the autumn of the year in praise and thanksgiving to Almighty God for His many blessings and mercies to us as a nation. This year we have special and moving cause to be grateful and to rejoice. God has in His good pleasure given us peace. It has not come as a mere cessation of arms, a mere relief from the strain and tragedy of war. It has come as a great triumph of right. Complete victory has brought us not peace alone but the confident promise of a new day as well, in which justice shall replace force and jealous intrigue among the nations.

Our gallant armies have participated in a triumph which is not marred or stained by any purpose of selfish aggression. In a righteous cause they have won immortal glory and have nobly served their nation in serving mankind. God has indeed been gracious. We have cause for such rejoicing as revives and strengthens in us all the best traditions of national history. A new day shines about us, in which our hearts take new courage and look forward with new hope to new and greater duties.

While we render thanks for these things let us not forget to seek the divine guidance in the performance of these duties, and divine mercy and forgiveness for all errors of act or purpose, and pray that in all that we do we shall strengthen the ties of friendship and mutual respect upon which we must assist to build the new structure of peace and good will among the nations.

Wherefore I, Woodrow Wilson, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate Thursday, the twenty-eighth day of November next, as a day of thanksgiving and prayer and invite the people throughout the land to cease upon that day from their ordinary occupations and in their several homes and places of worship to render thanks to God, the ruler of nations.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done in the District of Columbia, this sixteenth day of November, in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-third.

By the President.

WOODROW WILSON.

Robert Lansing,
Secretary of State.

Regarding the Fair Price List.

With this week there are a number of changes in the Fair Price List published by the Food Administration. This is due to the fact the National Food Administration has prescribed a number of maximum margins which it is willing to permit, and in some cases these margins are larger than those which have been insisted upon by the local Food Administration.

It is not intended that in every case the retailer should bring his prices up to the maximum stated. These maximum margins represent the highest price which may be charged without a violation of the rules of the Food Administration, and the establishment of the somewhat higher maximum is accompanied by a statement on the part of the Food Administration that the enforcement of these prices is to be more rigid than it has been in the past.

Fed. Food Admr. for Maryland.

Sugar Allowance Misunderstood.

To all wholesale dealers in sugar and the Press:

It has come to our attention that many dealers do not understand the present sugar situation.

The most recent adjustments apply only to manufacturers and a letter explaining these changes is being prepared.

For the present, and certainly until December 1st, the household sugar allowance is 3 pounds per person per month, the 4 pounds allowance will not go into effect until December 1st.

The hotel and restaurant allowance is 3 pounds for each 90 meals served and will not change until December 1st when it will become 4 pounds.

Very truly yours,
W. H. MALTBIE,
Fed. Food Admr. for Maryland.

Wheat, $2 36; corn, $1.60.

Have you renewed your subscription.

To thousands of Americans the official announcement last week by the Federal Food Administration of the total lifting of its wartime regulation requiring use of substitutes with wheat comes as the most joyous and "appetizing" piece of news received since that telling of the signing of the armistice and cessation of hostilities. Many have had difficulty in keeping their digestive systems "fit" with the regular use of bread containing corn and other substitutes with wheat, and the fact that the loaves the baker man leaves at the door will be the kind "to which we were accustomed" is occasion for great ...ness.

Farms for Returning Soldiers.

The Committe on Public Lands of the Senate has unanimously reported in favor of a bill appropriating a million dollars to make surveys of farms for returning soldiers. In its report the Committee says:

"The proposed legislation is for the purpose of providing an opportunity to procure homes for those of our returning sailors and soldiers who may wish them upon their return from the war, as well as giving a like opportunity to thousands of workers in munitions factories and other war industries who at the conclusion of the war will be out of employment. It is intended to promote as nothing else ever has the "back to the land" spirit. It is recognized that one of the great evils of the times in our country is the overcrowding and congestion of people in the cities, many of whom are utterly unfitted for city life and not adapted to the avocations thereof. After the war this undesirable condition will be greatly intensified. Further, there will be hundreds of thousands of young men who will have returned from service in our Army and Navy who will be out of employment and for whom there will be no jobs or positions. In addition there will be thousands and thousands of men and women, now employed in munitions factories and other war industries which will have to close at the end of the war, who will be out of employment. Many of them will have some means which they will have saved at their employment and with which they could locate upon and improve land and engage in agriculture, horticulture, or live-stock raising. All of the above-described classes of people will be needed on the land. The land will need them and they will need the land. It should be the object of the Government and it is the object of this proposed legislation to provide them the opportunity of getting on the land. Furthermore, the undertaking which this proposed legislation contemplates, if embarked upon by the Government, would afford employment to thousands of men who will be out of employment at the termination of the war, when there will be a scarcity of employment in this country and when the idle will be clamoring for employment.

"This bill is in line with proposed legislation suggested by the Secretary of the Interior, and the Committee believes it of great importance. The Committee further believes that it should be attended to in ample time and that no time should be lost in doing so. The committee believes the proposed legislation and the undertaking contemplated thereby to be of great and vital importance to the country and a great and valuable economic program."

Caroline relatives last week received postcard pictures of a group of soldiers of the 310th Field Artillery in France. Twenty-one of the boys were pictured, and among those readily recognizable were Elmer Hignutt, Henry Hynson, Clarence Chaffinch and Sherman Tribbett, well known local boys. Other Caroline boys in the group, whose cheery faces shine out in the picture and are recognized by many in the county, are Messrs. Pritchett, Lynch, Collins, Neff, Bridegroom, Gordon, Dhue, Fisher, Todd, Conner, Bacsak, Pearson, Clark, Chambers, Magers, Hickey, and Maloney.

TO MUSTER OUT TROOPS IN UNITED STATES WITHIN THE NEXT TWO WEEKS.

Order to Start Demobilization is Given by Gen. March.

Troops now in the United States will be mustered out at the rate of 30,000 a day when the demobilization machinery now being set up by the War Department gets in full operation. This announcement has been made by General March, chief of staff.

Orders already have been issued for the discharge of 200,000 men within the next two weeks.

General March also announced that the divisions brought back from France will be mustered out in the vicinity of their homes. The New York troops, for example, probably will be brought back to Camps Upton and Dix.

Before they are finally mustered out, however, New York city will have an opportunity to see these fighting organizations. General March said that in all cases the divisions would be paraded in the nearest adjacent towns to the camps.

The scheme now under contemplation by the War Department provides for the clearing out of the camps and cantonments in the United States first. They will be placed in charge of units of the regular army, which will take care of them until the troops come back from overseas. The order in which the organizations from abroad will be sent back will be determined by General Pershing. The demobilzation of these forces will depend in large measure upon the arrangements made by the War Council for garrisoning occupied territory.

General March said he had issued orders in compliance with a plan evolved for prompt reduction of our forces in the United States for demobilization in the following order:—

First—Development battalions, 71 in number, embracing 98,199 men.

Second— Conscientious objectors not serving sentences.

Third—Spruce production division.

Fourth—Central training schools for officers.

Fifth—United States guards, comprising about 135,000.

Sixth—Railway troops

Seventh—Depot brigades.

Eighth—Replacement camps.

Ninth—Combat divisions.

"We have in the United States now something like 1,700,000 men, and to muster out a force of that kind, of course, will take some time," continued General March. "Each man has to be examined physically, his final accounts made and a copy of his medical record transferred to the War Risk Insurance Bureau, so that the men may get compensation they are entitled to under the act, which must be properly safeguarded. Great masses of blank forms have been prepared in advance, and they are being shipped to the various camps for use as these orders go into effect.

General March indicated that the Forty-second (Rainbow) division, in recognition of the fighting record has made in France, would be marked for special treatment.

The Twenty-sixth (New England National Guard) and the Forty-first (Sunset) divisions are in the same class, so it would not cause surprise, therefore, if these three organizations should be designated by General Pershing as the first to return.

With six weeks of 1918 left it is possible they may be home before New Year's Day.

The Philadelphia Record.

Newspaper readers who have been accustomed to finding in the fiction supplements of Sunday papers only the reprints of out-of-date novels have a pleasant surprise in store for them in the new tabloid fiction magazine section of "The Philadelphia Record."

On next Sunday, November 24th, E. Philips Oppenheim's great German spy story, "The Zeppelin's Passenger," will begin in "The Record." The story is a masterpiece of diplomatic intrigue, mystery and swift-moving events, crowded with thrills of danger, daring and suspense. The plot is ingenious and baffling and on the face of it is inherently improbable, but plausible enough when you are furnished at last with the clues which govern its action.

The story is laid in a sleepy little English coast town, where the Zepp lands its "passenger" unknown to the villagers—but they find a derby hat. There the wonderful story starts. In "The Zeppelin's Passenger" Oppenheim is at his best—which means that all who begin the story next Sunday in "The Record" will see it through to the finish.

Lieut. Harold Andrew, whose duties are with the corps testing big guns, etc., at Aberdeen proving grounds, has been home on a furlough of several days.

FAIR PRICE LIST.

Issued by the Federal Food Administrator For Maryland November 16, 1918.

These prices are the fair prices for use in Baltimore city, and imply normal deliveries and credits. Unusual delivery or abnormal credits will justify an increased price.

Except where specified they cover only standard goods and are not meant to apply to fancy or special brands.

In points outside Baltimore city these prices are subject to an increase on account of transportation where goods must be shipped from Baltimore, and to a decrease of similar amount in the case of local products.

Newspapers Must Collect Subscriptions In Advance

Latest Instructions From War Indnstries Board to Publishers of County Newspapers.

Under the latest instructions sent out by the War Industries Board to county newspaper publishers, the imperative demand is made that Section 2 of these instructions shall be strictly lived up to and all publishers will be forced to discontinue all subscriptions three months in arrears, from that date. Section 2 reads as follows:

"No publisher may conttnue subscriptions after three months after date of expirations, unless subscriptions are renewed and paid for."

Any newspaper failing to obey these instructions is likely to be penalized by having its distribution stopped through the mail. The editor of this paper will, therefore, be forced to discontinue all subscriptions which are in arrears three months, and which are not paid one year in advance promptly, as these instructions from the War Industries Board must be strictly lived up to by the publishers of this paper. We cannot do otherwise without jeopardizing the continuance of this publication, and this is fair and sufficient notice to all subscribers that their subscriptions must be paid in advance by December 1st, or their papers will be discontinued on that date.
