June Term 1818.

To the 4th Interrogatory he answereth he knows that Valentine and Charles each built a dwelling house on their parts of said land the deponent helped them to build said houses.

To the 5th Interrogatory he answereth he knew the aforesaid Henry Myers he has moved back some where he knows not where.

To the 6th Interrogatory he answereth that Charles Flegle one of the complainants bought timber for building one of said houses of Henry Brown and hewed it on said Browns land, and carried to his part of the land and there built the aforesaid house with it, that he knows Valentine Flegle one of the Complainants also bought timber of Jacob Runkle and hewed it on said Runkles land and carried it to his said Valentines part of the land and built the other of said houses with it then.

To the 7th Interrogatory he answereth has no further knowledge.

John Wampler aged about 32 years a witness produced on the part of the complainants being first duly sworn deposeth as follows to wit:

To the 1st Interrogatory he answereth he knows Charles, Jacob and John Flegle and believes he has seen Valentine but it is so long since he does not know that he would now know him if he seen him he knows Buckhart and has seen a woman who is said to be his wife, he did know Valentine father to the Complainants.

To the 2d Interrogatory he answereth has no knowledge.

To 3. 4. 5 & 6 Interrogatories not put.

To the 7th Interrogatory he answereth that about seven or eight years ago he was called upon by Charles Jacob and John Flegle three of the complainants to survey their respective parts of the land of Valentine Flegle the father as the complainants claimed the same under the agreement of the said Valentine the father that this deponent at the instance of the afs three of the complainants laid of the land of the said Valentine the father in four seperate parcels by the direction of the said three complainants that this survey was made without any courses, but by running from stones planted at different corners of each of the said parcels as was shewn to the deponent by said Complainants which stones seemed to have been planted some considerable time that a plot was afterwards made of said land agreeable to this deponents runing that this deponent does not know what became of the plott, Valentine the father was not present.

June Term 1818.

nor was he at home, this deponent saw him some time afterwards and he appeared to be dipatisfied that the land was so run.

Dewalt Young aged about 48 years a witness produced on the part of the complainants being first duly sworn deposeth as follows to wit:

To the 1st Interrogatory he answereth he knows the complainants but does not know the defendants, he knew Valentine Flegle deceased in his life time

To the 2d Interrogatory he answereth that about fourteen or fifteen years ago he was employed by John Flegle one of the complainants to work at making shingles to repair a house for Valentine his father to live in, that on the third evening after being at work there John Slife who was present said to Valentine the father that his sons were very good to him to repair his house for him to live in, he replied they were not doing it for him but for themselves, they knew what they were doing, he said he had divided his land into four lots for his four sons and planted stones on the corners that each might know his own land when he was dead, said Valentine the father told John his son that he had brought these boys to work here you must pay them, John paid him, he believes John also paid the others –

The remaining interrogatories he has no knowledge –

John Slife aged about 49 years a witness heretofore produced on the part of the complainants being already sworn deposeth as follows –

To the 1st Interrogatory answered as in his examination on the part of the defendants.

To the 2d Interrogatory has no knowledge

To the 3d Interrogatory he answereth that all he knows of the matter about fourteen or fifteen years ago John Flegle one of the complainants employed this deponent to repair a house of Valentine the father to live in that while they were engaged in the said repairs this deponent observed to the said Valentine Flegle that his sons were very good to him to build a house for him to live in in his old days, that the oldman replied that they are not doing it for me they are doing it for themselves that he had laid out his land in four lots for his four sons and planted stones on the corners that each might know his land after his decease and be no rangling and jangling about it he told this deponent and the other workmen when they were going away not to look to him for pay but to John who employed them and John must pay them John did pay this deponent that Charles Flegle one of the complainants then lived on the part of the land so laid out for him