Cork the 12.th of May 91:

Loving Kinsman

I recd. thine of the 23 of July 1690: an acc.t of my Dear husbands death, being deceased September 1689: w.ch I recd. very kindly, and shall if I can in my power be always ready to relaliate y.e same as my husband left it upon the plantation for I doe not doubt but they will be for my good, w.ch I pray continue and encourage the plantation that nothing may be out of ord.r when I send w.ch will be in some little time I hope, and that I may find that will greatly inclyne me to gratitude: I understand that John ffendall have employed one that is gone to Virginia, to dispose of my husbands concerns for his acc.t thinking Jamy dead, w.ch proceedings I utterly forbid, and if any such thing is done it is in his owne wrong, & that he shall know, for altho my husband is dead I am not left destitute
