Very few arrests are made in the counties these days, and prisoners are few. The sheriff's office is not a valuable one, now that John Barleycorn is out of business.

Eastern Shore sportsmen are preparing to make a concerted effort to have the federal game law amended so that duck shooting may be lawfully engaged in during February.

The Annapolis Claiborne ferry began Tuesday Feb 17, on one trip schedule. As soon as conditions will permit two trips a day will be made, and this will expedite the mails.

On Wednesday, February 18th, at the parsonage in Goldsboro, Mr. Samuel E Conley, of Goldsboro, and Miss Mudred Thompson, of Marydel, were united in marriage by Rev. J. P. Stump.

Weather Observer Mason's records disclose the fact that this has not been an exceptionally cold winter. Its rigorous aspect was gained, in the public mind, by the long duration of bad conditions under foot.

Missess Helen Murray of Hampstead, Md; Clemence Hoffman, of Baltimore; Eva Deputy, of Milford, Del., and Harriette Shuman, of Bloomsburg, Pa., spent the last week end with Miss Thelma Everngam.

The late Dr. Clinton S. Wyatt was an enthusastic member of two great fraternities—the Masons, who had charge of the burial, and the Junior Order United American Mechanics, in which he had attained especial distinction.

There was an electrical storm Saturday night, Feb 14, and the heavy thunder and lightning lasted some time. The home of Samuel Callahan, a farmer near Federalsburg, was considerably damaged, but the house was not set on fire.

Dr. F. J. Wright and Mr. E. W. Smith, who have been enjoying Florida's balmy breezes and sunny skies for some time, have returned home. They found the temperature about 80 in the sun and summer clothes and straw hats were in order.

Miss Maud Dunham, daughter of Captain and Mrs. A. L. Dunham, of West Denton, and Mr. Roy Watson, of Philadelphia, were married recently by Rev. Samuel W. Purvis, in the latter place. Mr. and Mrs. Watson will reside in the Quaker City.

A letter from Chincoteague, Va., Monday said: Mr. Kermit Smith, of Queen Anne, Md., freight agent of the Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington Railroad at this point, and Miss Jennie Daisey, were married. Rev. O. W. Sawyer performed the cermony.

John M. Dennis, of Baltimore county, who is president of the Union Trust Company of Baltimore, is State Treasurer again. He filled the office in the first half of the Harrington administration, but gave way to William P. Jackson, Republican, two years ago.

The new State home for the feebleminded near Stockley, Del, has been completed and will be ready for occupancy in a couple of weeks. It was officially turned over to the State the first of February. Each county will pay a per diem amount for each inmate sent there.

We sent quite a number of subsesiption bills to our subscribers last week, and we hope to hear from them soon. This money is due us, and while it would not be much to the subscriber it would mean a great deal to us. So pay up, and start 1920 by being square with the printer.

Winter may endure for a while, but spring is coming. Even now the confectioners are making chocolate Easter eggs, and all the straw hats for next summer are made up. It will not be long before we will be putting next winter's coal in the bin.

No extension of time for filling income tax returns will be granted this year by the Bureau of Internal Revenue, a Washington dispatch states. Commissioner Rope announced that conditions which justified extension in the past do not exist now and that those who failed to make the required returns on or before March 15 would be subject to heavy penalties.

Notwithstanding the fact that nearly enough States have already veted to ratify the suffrage amendment, and the necessary 36 will, according to suffrage leaders, be reached promply, Maryland legislators on Tuesday went on record against the measure. Only 9 Senators voted for it Senator Nuttle, of Caroline voted in the affirmative In the House there were 36 votes for it. Delegates Andrews and Covey being on the affirmative sides, while 64 were opposed, including Delegate Brumbaugh, of Caroline.

The senior class of Caroline High School will present "The House of the Heart," including "Miss Burney at Court," and "The Snow Witch" in Masonic Hall on Friday evening March 5th, at 8 15 The class in presenting this entertainment desires to get away from the conventional type of class play usually given by high school seniors and to give the public something worth while. Complete returns from the Fourteenth Decennial Census will show that Queen Annes County has not regained the prestige lost ten years ago, when its representation in the Maryland House of Delegates was reduced from three to two members, because population figures fell from above 18,000 souls to a total count of 16 839 Although figures for 1920 will show that Queen Annes county's population has not again reached the 18,000 mark, and the county will continue to receive only its present representation in the Maryland Legislature.

The Executive Committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association at its February meeting considered a number of protests from its country members the action of the Chamber of Commerce and the Telephone Protective Association in their movement to have the telephone Company separate their receipts in the city from those in the county with a view to adjusting rates. Upon motion it was unanimously agreed to endorse the protests of the county members. The matter is now being considered by the Public Utilities Commission

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Watson, of Philadelphia, and their friend, Mr Bryan Phillips, of the same city, made a visit to Denton on Saturday evening last, where they visited among their friends, of which they have very many. Mr Watson is employed in the city by the Pennsylvania Railroad Co He and his better-half returned home Monday afternoon last. They all claimed they had the cracker jack time of their lives. We know they got plenty to eat, for they were guests of our boarding house, and we know the lady of the house always has aplenty, and doesn't fail to know how to prepare it. They also got a drink of the Denton spring water, so we shall expect to see them back in the good old summer time. Do be sure to come back, for we wish to say good-bye in the same old way.

In 18 rabbit drives conducted in three successive weeks by the Bingham County Idaho, Farm Bureau, with the cooperation of the Biological Survey, United States Department of Agriculture, 30,500 rabbits were killed The first week there were 4 drives in 3 communities, and the number of rabbits destroyed was 8,000. 208,000 Men For New Army

The new army reorganization bill ordered favorably reported by the senate military committee. is expected to be called up in the Senate next week. It provides for military compulsory military training for boys between the ages of 18 and 21 inclusive This provision having been included by a nine to five vote of the committee.

The bill also provides for the establishment of one army to be divided into a citizen army composed of men who have received the compulsory training, a standing army consisting of 208,000 enlisted men and 18.000 officers, and the national guard. The citizen army will be called to the colors only in case of war.

All youths who have undergone the four months training would be subject to two weeks training annually. During training dependents would receive allowances similar to those now provided under the War Risk Insurance Act.

Chesapeake's Oyster Industry and Its Potentialities

The third lecture on "The Oyster" in the series of lectures on Maryland's Water Resources contained much of interest to the Maryland oyster-man as the views expressed by the lecturer were based on extensive investigations of the Bay last summer under the auspices of the Bureau of Fisheries, in cooperation with the Conservation Commission and upon daily contact with oyster problems as a practical oysterman.

The lecturer showed that the natural conditions could scarcely be better anywhere; the salinity of the water is excellent, food abundant, enemies few and the fecundity of the oyster astounding. In spite of this, however, the oyster business is in need of rehabilitation as shown by the alarming decrease in output of decades, since 1885; the reduction aggregating nearly 80 per cent during the whole period.

Concrete suggestions for improvement were made as follows:

1—The return of all shells to the water.

2—Closed seasons for certain beds (rocks) to allow for rehabilitation

3—Removal of month of September in order to effect three ends:

a—Prevent 12 per cent waste due to killing action of tongs on spat until September's shell growth is added.

b—Prevent the loss that may occur in warm September due to spoilage-10 to 30 per cent in September, 1919.

c—Allow packing house labor to continue in the canneries until the crops are preserved, earning a certain wage rather than the uncertain wage of early oystering.

4—Encourage individual development of areas absolutely barren.

Germany Pleads To Save Its Guilty

The German Government has sent a note to Paris trying once more to induce the allies to renounce execution of article 228 of the peace treaty, dealing with the surrender of persons accused of acts in violation of the laws and customs of war.

The note affirms that the execution of the article would cause economic troubles, which would affect the production of the nation, particularly in the case of mines.

The Government again proposes that the trials of such persons be held in Germany, with Allied representatives present.

Ropatriation of German prisoners of war, which began last week, is now proceeding rapidly. Trains have left from Valenciennes, Cambri, Toul, Verdum and other concentration points. Other trains are to leave Soissons and and Loan. Two German ships now at Havre will take home 1,500 German prisoners in a few days, and two other ships are ready to take back fifty German officers and 700 men.

The Tagebatt and Vorwaerts admit that the first German prisoners who have returned from France appear to have been well fed and cared for, and that generally they make a good impression.

LOWDEN CUTS TAXES THIRD IN TWO YEARS

Illinois Executive Shows That Business Methods More Than Counteract High Prices.

A RECORD OF ACHIEVEMENTS

Executive Departments Consolidated —Business Men Put in Office— Sound Financial Policy Applied to State Affairs.

Gov. Frank O. Lowden's great record as war executive of Illinois has made him one of the leading candidates for the Republican nomination for president. It is a story of administrative achievements. Every pledge to the people has been redeemed.

Despite high prices and unsettled conditions due to the war, Gov. Lowden, by the practical application of business methods to the management of the state's affairs, reduced the tax rate in Illinois 33 per cent in two years. His friends are certain that he can do for the nation what he has done for Illinois in the matter of good government and lower taxes if he is given the opportunity.

When Governor Lowden assumed office as executive of Illinois in January, 1917, the state treasury was practically bankrupt. There was only $550 to the credit of the general fund, when outstanding bills had been paid. One of his first official acts was to abolish many political jobs by combining the work of 125 different departments and bureaus into nine compact central departments. Gov. Lowden also had the state adopt a budget system which he thought would be a model for other commonwealths. He placed business men and trained experts in charge of each of these departments with gratifying results to the taxpayers.

The cost of conducting the state government was reduced hundreds of thousands of dollars a year while the quality of service to the public showed a marked improvement. The effects of a business administration in the state were manifest in a short time. The state gradually built up a cash balance and was able to discount its bills.

As a practical illustration of what good government means it is officially estimated that Illinois will have a cash balance of $9,877,225 on hand July 1, 1920, in spite of a reduction of 33 per cent in the tax rate. This is what Gov. Lowden's business administration has done for Illinois.

In addition to these things Gov. Lowden succeeded in accomplishing these concrete results:

Began work on the state's $60,000,000 good roads system. Two hundred miles of good road were built last year. One thousand miles will be completed in 1920.

Authorized the beginning of work on the last link of the state's system of waterways, which will connect the Great Lakes with the Mississippi river.

Obtained needed tax reforms for the people.

Reorganized the state's penal and charitable institutions on a humane basis.

Brought about a constitutional convention for Illinois, which is now in session forming a new basic law for the state.

Friends of Gov. Lowden believe that actions speak louder than words, and they point to his public record as evidence that he is the type of man needed for president in this critical period of the country's history.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY CHIEFS BACK LOWDEN

SENATOR McCORMICK, HAROLD ICKES AND OTHERS PUSH ILLINOISAN IN RACE.

The closest friends of the late Col. Theodore Roosevelt and former leaders of the Progressive party in Illinois and other states of the middle West are enthusiastically supporting Gov. Frank O. Lowden's candidacy for the Republican nomination for president. United States Senator Medill McCormick is one of the most active workers in Gov. Lowden's behalf, both in Washington and in Chicago.

Other former Progressives who are fighting for Lowden in the present campaign are: Harold L. Ickes, former chairman of the national committee of the Progressive party; Congressman Ira C. Copley of Aurora; B. F. Harris of Champaign; Frank H. Funk of Bloomington, Progressive party candidate for governor of Illinois in 1912; George H. Porter of Chicago, and Thomas D. Knight, former president of the Chicago Progressive club.

Col. Roosevelt was the guest of Gov. Lowden for three days at the executive mansion in Springfield, Ill., in August, and again in October, 1918.

If nominated for president Gov. Lowden will, in the opinion of the leaders, unite all factions of the party. He is perhaps the only candidate mentioned acceptable to the old leaders as well as to the Progressive element.

The thunder storm of mid-summer severity on Saturday night was followed by a very cold snap. The weather man's repertoire has some remarkrble numbers this season. A bolt of lightning shot out of the skies during Saturday night's storm and struck the great wooden dome of the State House at Annapolis, but little or no damage was done.
