IN YE OLDEN TIME

Hoop skirts were worn by those who first asked the druggist for, and insisted on having, the genuine Golden Medical Discovery put up by Dr. Pierce over fifty years ago. Dress has changed very much since then! But Dr. Pierce's medicines contain the same dependable ingredients. They are standard today just as they were fifty years ago.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for the stomach and blood cannot be surpassed by any remedy today.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak women has never been equalled for the distressing complaints incident to womanhood. What others say:

MONTROSE, W. VA.—"Last spring after having the flu I was very weak and nervous. I got one bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and two bottles of Favorite Prescription and they helped me so much. I am sixty-seven years old and did lots of work last summer and am doing my house-work and washing now for four in family."—MRS. L. R. WILMOTH, R. F. D. 2.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Womens' complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

ILL WIND FOR MR. CAT

ONE morning Mr. Tom Cat was running through the barnyard when he happened to look on top of the barn, and there sat Mr. Mouse looking down at him.

"Oh, dear me, Mr. Mouse," said Mr. Tom, "how you frighten me. You should not be up so high. Come down, or you may fall and be killed."

Mr. Mouse knew full well that Mr. Tom was only concerned about him because he was out of his reach, so he replied: "I am a better climber than you, my good fellow. You could not even climb to the top of the barn with safety, while I can easily reach the top of the weathercock's head and never be harmed."

"Well, well, you may be right," said Tom, knowing he could not reach Mr. Mouse, for by the time he reached the top of the barn Mr. Mouse would be somewhere else.

"I know you are a very limber fellow, Mr. Mouse, but I really do not think you can reach the top of the weathercock even if you are so spry."

"Watch me, then," said Mr. Mouse, who was very proud of his spryness, and up the pole he ran and was soon sitting on the weathercock's head.

By the time he had reached this high place Mr. Tom Cat had reached the top of the barn, and there he stood looking up at poor Mr. Mouse, who now must stay where he was or come down for Tom to catch.

"You certainly are a good climber," said Tom, swinging his tail back and forth. "Let me see if you can run down as fast as you went up."

Poor Mr. Mouse knew he was in a very tight place, but he decided he would better stay where he was and see if Mr. Tom would get tired of waiting and go away.

Pretty soon the wind began to swing the weathercock and Mr. Mouse clung on for dear life, while Mr. Tom Cat, with his head tilted backward, looked steadily at him, thinking every minute Mr. Mouse would be in his paws. But the wind was changeable that day, and around swung the weathercock so fast that Tom Cat grew dizzy watching it, and before he knew what had happened he lost his balance and tumbled off the barn to the ground.

Of course he landed on his feet. Cats always do. And when he had gathered his senses he looked up at the weathercock, but Mr. Mouse had gone.

Mr. Mouse was safe on the top of the barn and was just running into a hole in the roof, but he stopped to call to Mr. Tom Cat: "It is an ill wind, you know, that blows no one any good, and I happened this time to get the good."

"You wait until I meet you on the ground, and it will matter very little which way the wind blows that day, I promise you," replied Mr. Tom, licking his mouth at the thought of the dinner he had lost.

HONOR FOR CANADA

Wins Championships at International Live Stock Show.

Splendid Exhibits, Both of Animals and Grain, Won Admiration of Judges and Spectators.

One of the most interesting sights at the International Live Stock show at Chicago was the evening parades of horses and cattle. As the Canadian section of these parades came into view, and as it passed around the ring, there was continued applause. There were two or three reasons for this, the principal one being that in this section there were the wonderful Clydesdales, the Belgians and the Percherons that had carried off championships and first prizes. The province of Saskatchewan had a splendid display of Clydesdales and showed in a number of classes, and in every class they got in the money. A remarkable and noted winning was that of the University of Saskatchewan, showing "Lady Bruce," female Clydesdale, in a class of 24 and taking second. In competition there were entries from such famous studs as Conyngham Bros. of Wilkesbarre, P. L. James of Easton, Mass., and George Chiett of the same state. She was beaten by an imported mare, but was later made champion American-bred mare and reserve grand champion, an honor never before conferred upon anything but an imported animal.

The following are some of the good things that Canada won at the International, in a fair fight and no favors. Grand championship for Clydesdale stallions; championship for American-bred Clydesdale mares; reserve senior and reserve grand championships for Clydesdale mares; grand championship for Southdown sheep; sweepstakes grand championship for wheat for the continent of America; championship for Durum wheat for America.

Another of the reasons for the applause given the Canadian sections of the parade was the heartiness with which the American spirit was imbued that impelled it to greet with the fullest appreciation the efforts of the winner, and the hundreds of Canadians in the immense audience of the amphitheater appreciated it.

The purpose that Canada had in making exhibits from their farms whether it was of live stock—and they had it there in all branches—grains, grasses or roots, was to demonstrate that the war had not created devastation, that the country was alive with interest in the matter of production and that it had ability to produce in a manner that would bring it championships, and what better place than the International, where it would be placed before thousands, many of whom, with the enlightenment thus gained and with a desire to better their condition, would be made to realize that in the neighboring country to the north there was an opportunity that it might be of advantage to them to embrace.—Advertisement.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN

Mrs. Little Tells How She Suffered and How Finally Cured

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was not able to do my housework and had to lie down most of the time and felt bad in my left side. My monthly periods were irregular, sometimes five or seven months apart and when they did appear would last for two weeks and were very painful. I was sick for about a year and a half and doctored but without any improvement. A neighbor recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me, and the second day after I started taking it I began to feel better and I kept on taking it for seven months. Now I keep house and perform all my household duties. You can use these facts as you please and I will recommend Vegetable Compound to everyone who suffers as I did."—Mrs. J. S. LITTLE, 3455 Livingston St., Philadelphia, Pa.

How much harder the daily tasks of a woman become when she suffers from such distressing symptoms and weakness as did Mrs. Little. No woman should allow herself to get into such a condition because such troubles may be speedily overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which for more than forty years has been restoring American women to health.

HE HAD SOMETHING COMING

Postmaster Quite Ready to Resign After Satisfactory Financial Settlement Had Been Made.

When J. K. Paulding was secretary of the navy he wrote to the postmaster of a small village in the South as follows: "Sir: This department wishes to know how far the Tombigbee river runs up." The answer came back: "It don't. It runs down." The postmaster general was informed of the affair and failed to see the humor of it. He wrote a letter to the postmaster that said: "Sir: Your appointment as postmaster is hereby revoked. You will turn over funds, etc., pertaining to your office to your successor."

In no wise put out the postmaster once more took up his pen, and the postmaster general received this: "The revenue for this office for the quarter ending September 30 has been 65 cents; its expenditures, same period, for candles and twine, 85 cents. Please instruct my successor to adjust balance."

KNEW WHAT WOULD HAPPEN

John, for Once, Thought of an Effective "Comeback" During a Little Matrimonial Tiff.

Judge Gary of the United States Steel corporation was discussing marriage.

"Many a marriage which began as a pure love match," he said, "develops into an eternal wrangle. Haven't you seen marriages wherein the contracting parties do nothing but argue and fight and contradict each other over trifles from daylight until dark?"

"I remember dining once with such a menage. When the soup came on they started an argument about the price of parlor carpet or some such ridiculous matter, and the serving of the fruit saw this argument at its height.

"Then the wife interrupted herself to say to her husband plaintively:

"'I don't know what would happen, John, if you ever agreed with me on any topic.'

"'I'd be wrong,' said John. 'I'd be wrong.'"

HOW DO YOU SAY IT?

By C. N. Lurie

Common Errors in English and How to Avoid Them

"VERBAL" AND "ORAL."

THESE two words, "verbal" and "oral" are misused frequently even by persons who are careful in their choice of words. We hear dialogues such as the following: "Did you send him a letter accepting his terms?" "No, I gave him a verbal reply."

For the word "verbal," in the sentence just quoted, the word "oral," should be substituted, since "verbal" means "consisting of words," and "oral" means "by word of mouth." A verbal message may, therefore, be given either in writing or in speech, an oral message only in speech. It should be said, however, that while grammarians generally make this distinction, and express a desire for its general adoption, they say also that the word "verbal" has been employed so long and so generally as a synonym for "oral" that it is probably hopeless to try to establish the distinction in common usage.

PEN-KNIVES.

THE handy little knife you carry in your pocket was evolved of necessity in the days when people wrote with quill pens instead of steel. The quills wore down or broke, and it was necessary to reshape them. Scriveners found it unhandy to have a straight knife always with them, so the present folding article was invented to fill the want. The name survives though the use has gone.

BEAUTY BATHS

soiled ones are soaked for Monday's washing—these, I suppose, are the baths of necessity. But the daily bath—what a pleasure it can be. Given a tub with plenty of running water, a shower, a cake of bath soap, and a soft brush, with a brisk rub on the rough towel and a dusting off of the entire body with scented bath powder—wouldn't such a bath be a pleasure?

To be sure, this special pleasure is mostly reserved for those who have a bathroom and running water installed. No house should be built nowadays without such sanitary arrangements. Even with labor and materials at their present prices the cost of putting a tank above the house and a pump to force up water, of running pipes and putting in some sort of bathroom, is but a small addition to the cost of the house, and more than pays for its investment in the increased value it gives the house, as well as in its comfort and cleanliness.

Arrangements for heating plenty of hot water can be secured cheaply. And there is nothing else that will make one feel fresh and fit as the morning tub. It takes all the tiredness and listlessness from the body, wakens the brain and whets the appetite for business. It stirs the blood and rests the muscles.
