is upon which the Deceased looked up and said Oh so he is and this Deponent further saith that being at the House of the Deceased when no other person was present she this deponent asked the Dead if he had done his Will upon which he answered yes, She asked him if he knew what was in it he said yes to be sure this deponent asked him if there was nothing out that he wanted in he answered asked since no upon which she asked him again if he knew what was in this Will the Dead answered yes to be sure upon which this Deponent did not think proper to say any thing more to him apprehending him to be out of his Senses and this Deponent saith that she was frequently with the Family and watched an Opportunity in Order to discourse him upon some private Business but could never find him in his Senses Sufficient to talk upon any Subject

The Deposition of Elias Saunders being first Sworn on the Behalf of the Libellant saith that he knew Cornelius Dickinson Deceased and that he was at one Thomas Bowers when Thomas Jones came there and Mr Bowers family acquainted said Jones that Mr Dickinson had sent for him to write his will upon which the said Jones asked this deponent to go with him there which he did and when they came to the Deceased House they set some Drinks but the Deceased not mentioning any thing about his Will Jones spoke to the Deceased and asked him if he did not send for him to write his will he the said answered yes and accordingly was brought out of the room where he was into the other upon which this deponent asked the people present to walk out as he thought it proper to leave the Deceased and Mr Jones alone as he was about making his will. Mr Jones some time afterwards sent for this Deponent and asked him if he thought the Deceased was in his Senses in not saying the Deceased was taking his will in an odd sort of a manner this deponent answered and told the said Jones he could not tell upon which the Deceased said I am in my Senses but Mr Jones threw down his pen and said he did not think it was proper to write any further and being questioned said that he knows of nothing certainly to induce him to believe the Deceased was in was out in his Senses

Elizabeth Benston Sister to the Deceased wife being Sworn on the part of the Libellant on the Holy Evangels of almighty God Deposeth and saith that abt. a year and a half or two years ago before Cornelius Dickinson his death she heard him say that without amendment in his Daughters he would not leave them any thing he had and being asked if she knew any particular reason for the Deceased making use of such expressions saith that she knows of nothing only believes there might have been
