The commander for the flight was Liut. A. H. Wann, while among the others on board during the cruise were Air Commander Brooke-Pop ham, Air Commodore Maitland and Superintendent Campbell of the Royal Airship Works.

After further trials at Cardington and Howden to test the thorough reliability and general airworthiness of sh airship, she will be handed over to the American crew who will carry out the flights necessary to familiarize themselves with the handling of the big flier before her departure.

This Hen Breaks Record For Big Egg

The best egg story of the section has just reached Laurel from Mardella Springs, Md., where Mrs. I. H. Evans, of Athol, a small village near there, took to a local store and egg nine and one-fourth inches long and seven inches around. Inside the egg was another egg of regular size, perfectly formed and with a hard shell. Between this and the shell of the large egg were all the component parts of an egg

SALISBURY FACTORY SWEPT BY FLAMES

At 2:45 o'clock last Wednesday morning, a general fire alarm was sounded, upon information received that a fire had broken out in the section of the city west of Main street bridge, Salisbury. The fire department promptly responded to the call, and, on reaching the scene, found the planing mill of Mr. Charles Tingle, near the B. C. & A. railroad was in flames. The firemen were handicapped by a lack of available water, the nearest fire plug being nearly a mile distant. As there was insufficient hose to cover the distance, the firemen were restricted to chemicals, through the effective use of which, they were enabled to save the dwellind and warehouse and the large quantity of finished cantaloupe carriers the latter contained.

The loss included about 50,000 feet of rough lumber, 15,000 feet framing, a large quantity of material ready for the manufacture of carriers, 25,000 plastering lathes, gasoline engine with wood saw, flooring and planing machine, Federal truck and Overland car involving o total loss, estimated at from $7,000 to $9,000. A valuable Nash truck was saved.

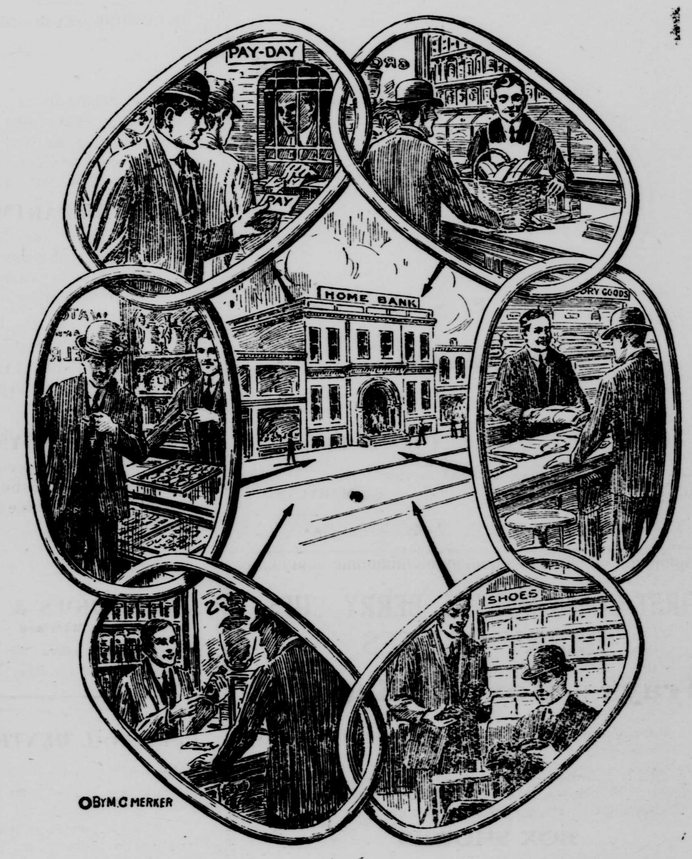

Mr. Tingle built the mill about a year ago and the structure and equipment were comparatively new. Five or six men and fifteen or twenty boys were employed, as he was busily engaged. He lost heavily through the fire, as unfortunately, no insurance was carried. While the cause of the lieved to have originated from the fire is not definitely known, it is becareless throwing of a lighted cigarette among shavings.

McAllister, of Wilmington, and Mr. Herbert McAllister, of Denton. One sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Guthrey and one brother, Mr. Washington Milligan, both of Seaford, also survive.

Funeral services were held at the home, Monday afternoon, the Rev. William P. Taylor officiating and interment was in Parsons cemetery. The deceased had been a member of the Riverside M. E. Church for about 20 years.

THE WELDING OF THE MIGHTY CHAINS

The strongest chain is that made of the most powerful links, and just so strong is the business chain of a community as its citizens choose to make it. The ideally welded chain of commerce is that wherein the man who receives his pay begins his rounds of the stores of his home town, paying here and there his obligations. Each day takes the ideal citizen to one or the other of the home town temples of commerce. The business man in turn proceeds to the bank, and the bank in turn gives out the money in pay for the following week, thus welding a mighty chain by keeping business within the community.

MORAL—The man who welds the chain is the man who profits most in its daily use.
