SALISBURY MEN FIND AN AVIATOR'S BODY

The trip of the local delegation of the Chamber of Commerce to the western shore of Virginia in the interest of establishing freight service between points on that shore and Salisbury, was married by an unusual and depressing incident Wednesday evening.

While returning from Reedville, Va., on the yacht 'Chicota', owned by Mr. G. C. Bounds, of Hebron, the members of the party sighted a body floating in the water about two miles off Tangier Island and about a quarter of a mile from the yacht. Upon running closer to the body, it was indentified as the corpse of an American soldier and subsequent developments proved it to be the remains of an aviator killed in a collision between two aeroplanes near Tangier about two weeks ago. The corpse was attired in a regulation American aviator's uniform and flying shoes, over which was a pair of overalls.

Due to the fact that the corpse had been floating in the water since the accident it was decomposed and otherwise terribly mutilated. The remains were towed to Tangier and placed in charge of an undertaker there at which time officials at the Custom House at Crisfield were notified. It was afterwards learned that for several days six aeroplanes and a balloon manned by comrades of the deceased, whose name was undisclosed, had been searching for the body.
