Has Taken Paper 45 Years

Mr. W. L. Pritchett called at The American Union office Tuesday morning and gave the editor a little history of this community.

Mr. Pritchett formerly lived in Denton and he says that he does not see one old landmark that is as it was when he left here in 1878. It was then that he left Denton and moved to Henderson where he has since resided.

Mr. Pritchett stated that each year he used to take a census of the town and that he recalls the last census which he took in the year he moved from Denton the population was then 417. Mr. Pritchett has been a continuous subscriber to The American Union for 45 years.

WEATHER REPORT

Warm weather prevailed until Sunday, the 14th, and the 15th and 16th were cool. Thunder-showers occurred on the 12th and 14th. The rainfall of the week was unevenly distributed over the section: it was heavy in western Maryland, moderate in north-central Maryland, and light in southern Maryland and on the Eastern Shore. Sunshine was abundant.

This week's fine growing weather, following the beneficial rains of the preceding week, produced a marked improvement in all growing crops, which made excellent advancement.

Corn is in excellent condition and earing well.

Late potatoes continue to do well. Sweet potatoes are in good to excellent condition.

Truck crops and gardens are generally in good condition.

Pastures improved further and are good to excellent.

Tobacco is being housed and is a poor crop.

Harvesting of tomatoes, sugar corn, cantaloupes, melons and truck continues.

Wheat, rye, and oats are being thrashed in western Maryland.

Plowing for fall seeding made good progress.

The few apples and peaches that escaped the freezes of late March and early April are now ripening.

WILLISTON

Two more fine evenings of amusement were had at Hignutt's Park, Williston Wharf, last Thursday evening and last night.

Last Thursday about 500 people gathered there, some to enjoy a swim, others to dance, and a greater number to hear the music and enjoy a cool evening by the water.

Last evening, with the moon shining in all her glory, another large crowd wended its way to the park. The ground was rather damp after the showers of yesterday, but those who went didn't seem to mind it in the least and had a fine time, making the best of the weather conditions.

DELAY IN SWEET BILL DUE TO VETERANS WANTING HEARINGS

Washington, Aug. 17.—One of the most important steps in the direction of consolidation and simplification of the various adminstrative agencies of the government was taken when the Sweet bill, dealing with those agencies concerned with soldier relief, passed both houses of Congress and was sent to the President for his signature. This is one of the principal measures which ex-service men wanted enacted. It greatly facilitates the handling of their claims and the treatment of disabled soldiers.

A great deal of misinformation has been disseminated through the country in connection with the consideration and enactment of this bill. In some quarters Congress has been severely and very unjustly criticized for its alleged delay in enacting this bill into law. The plain truth about the matter is that the delay was occasioned by ex-service men who wished to have hearings upon the proposed bill in order that all phases of the matter might be brought to the attention of the Congress.

The Senate committee, to whom the bill was referred after its passage in the house, held the bill for over a month, not because it was opposed to its passage, but because during this period it was continuously holding hearings at which only ex-service men and men interested in ex-service men appeared and gave testimony regarding methods and practices which should be corrected. It was the wish of ex-service men that all of these facts be placed before the committee and therefore the committee gave ample time for hearings. The committee was thoroughly in sympathy with the request because it felt that if the bill to correct all of the evils should pass, it should be as thorough as possible. Both branches of the Congress feel that to criticize them for delaying the passage of the bill until they could hear all of the evidence which ex-service men had to offer, is a most unfair and unjust procedure.

Furthermore, it is pointed out that even though there was delay in passing the bill, it did not jeopardize the interests or claims of any ex-service men because since the reorganization by President Harding of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance, the Vocational Education Board and other agencies handling soldier relief, all claims of ex-service men have been promptly handled and there has been voluntary co-operation among these agencies, even though there was no law compelling it—a condition which did not prevail in the Wilson administration and the lack of which proved the need of legislation like the Sweet bill.

MORE PHILADELPHIA MEN RETURNED TO PAYROLLS

Philadelphia, Aug. 17.—The Chamber of Commerce has just completed a survey of local industrial conditions which shows in 72 per cent. of Philadelphia establishments there is an increase in the number of employees for the month of July, while 8 per cent. show no changes. From reports gathered by the Chamber of Commerce, manufacturers and business men alike are looking for material improvement in conditions as soon as the summer season is over and are making arrangements to increase their payrolls.

FARMERS EXTENDED $100,000,000 ADDITIONAL CREDITS IN 4 MONTHS

Harding Administration Has Kept Faith With Agricultural Interests

Washington, Aug. 17.—The enlargement of the powers of the War Finance Corporation, recently recommended by the President to Congress in connection with the financing of agricultural products will, ilf adopted, mean the adequate financing of the 1921 harvests for the purposes of foreign and domestic trade. Under the powers already dossessed by the War Finance Corporation, it has either advanced, or is negotiating advances in the aggregate sum of $63-471,000, approximately 93 per cent of which covers agricultural commodities.

The largest transactions relate to cotton and represent in the aggregate the financing of a million bales. The corporation has already closed loans on cotton in the sum of $16, 560, 000 and has under negotiation, loans in the sum of $15,225,000. It is negotiating an advance of $7,500,000 on approximately 10,000,000 bushels of wheat. Assistance has already been given in the exportation of 7,000 hogsheads of tobacco, representing an expenditure of $1,180,000 and another transaction covering 18,000 hogsheads representing an investment of $6,500-000. The corporation has also agreed to advance $8,500,000 on exports of condensed milk, $250,000 to co-operative associations on exports of canned goods and is negotiating an additional expenditure on canned goods of $550,000.

Inasmuch as a cotton planter, as a rule, buys most of his cereals and other food from the north and is, in common with all consumers, a patron of industries which manufacture household necessities, clothing and farm machinery giving employment to millions of workmen, who in turn consume food, it is believed that the financing of the cotton exports will immediately start millions of dollars into circulation in the various channels of American industry and immediately stimulate the market for the food products of the northern grain and cattle growers.

Other Loans to Farmers

In addition to the above mentioned advances on agricultural commodities made by the War Finance Corporation a banking loan fund of $50,000,000 has been organized and is in operation for the relief of the live stock industry. This fund was created largely upon the initiative of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. It became operative about the middle of July and already $5,000,000 has been loaned out of it.

In addition to this provision, Congress has enacted a law increasing the amount of loans available for farm loans by the Federal Farm Loan Bank. This is known as the Curtis-Nelson Bill and became a law July 1st. It immediately increased available farm loans in the sum of $20,000,000 and under the provisions of the act this sum will be still further increased. A bill to increase the rate of interest paid to investors in Farm Loan Bank bonds has passed the Senate and will pass the House in a few days. This will enable the Farm Loan bonds to compete in the market with commercial bonds and thereby increase the funds of the Farm Loan banks.

In addition to all this, the reduction of discount rates by the Federal Reserve banks and the extension of time on agricultural paper to six months, twice that extended on commercial paper will relieve the tension in agricultural sections and make it easier for the financing of agricultural commodities.

All told, the Republican administration, through Congress, the Secretary of the Treasury and other mediums, has within the past ninety days provided approximately $100,000,000 in extra credit to the agricultural interests of the country.

Painting Vault

The vault in the Clerk's office at the Court House is receiving a coat of white paint on the walls and shelves and a light gray paint on the floor. The work is improving the looks of the vault and has made it about 50 per cent. lighter. Mr. Lawrence B. Towers is trying to put the office in good shape for the new Republican Clerk to be elected this fall.

LOCAL INSURANCE MEN MAKE ADVISORY COMMITTEE

Messrs. F. Rawlins Camper and L. Reyner Dukes are in Wilmington attending a meeting of the Advisory Committee of the Continental Life Insurance Company. Both are members of that committee for the coming year having produced the amount of new business required for membership.
