ANNOUNCE LIST NEXT WEEK

We will announce a list of entries in our issue of September 15th. You do not need to wait to see your name in the list before going to work, but be sure to have your name in the list. Send in your nomination today, we send full details by return mail, and if our plans appeal to you (and we know they will) why, you can go to work at once and pile up a big vote before the more negligent and dilatory one gets on the job.

HOW TO WIN

The whole plan is designated to increase the circulation of The American Union. Every subscription you secure COUNTS VOTES providing the subscriber pays for one year or more on his subscription. The way to win is to get your friends, neighbors and relatives to subscribe for one or more years to The American Union. You can also ask those already taking The American Union to RENEW for one or MORE years, and any person whose subscription is already paid in advance may have it extended from the time of its expiration to five years in advance.

FREE ASSISTANCE

The American Union stands ready to assist EVERY CANDIDATE in any way possible during the race. All will be treated absolutely fair and above-board, and NO FAVORITES WILL BE MADE. There will be no "doubling up," combining or "pooling votes," or any "shady business tolerated at any time." A fair field, a free race and no favorites, will make this a campaign that will be of interest to everybody, and decidedly profitable to those who participate in it. THERE ARE NO LOSERS—REMEMBER THIS—for The American Union offers YOU an opportunity to win a prize list worth $855 and at the same time GUARANTEES that ALL will get SOMETHING—a prize or a cash commission.

WRITE, PHONE OR CALL

If there is anything you do not understand about this subscription contest, call at The American Union office and get a personal explanation of the plan, or telephone or write the Campaign Manager, but do it now. Remember the campaign is short.

Once more, we cannot impress too strongly on you the great advantage to be gained by getting an early start while the five big "Opportunity Period Coupons" can be won by you. DEFENDERS DAY TO BE CELEBRATED

Monday, September 12th, is the anniversary of Old Defender's Day in the state of Maryland. This anniversary dates back to the War of 1812, and the attack on Baltimore by the British, in September, 1814. At North Point, on the morning of the 12th, General Stricker met and held the British, aided only by inexperienced militia. When the attack had been checked, the militia retired to the defences nearer the city.

This engagement is known as the battle of North Point and celebrated on its anniversary throughout Maryland as Old Defenders' Day.

The attack the following day on Fort Sumter ended the unsuccessful attempt of the British to take Baltimore.

It was during the stress of the night of the 13th that Frances Scott Key wrote what has become our beloved national anthem, "The Star Spangled Banner."

TEACHERS ARE HERE FOR INSTITUTE WEEK

County teachers institute is on this week in Caroline coutny. With a full quota of teachers for this year's work, the sessions being held at the high school building have been interesting and helpful to all. Mr. W. J. Holloway, state superintendent of Elementary Grades, was present yesterday and gave the teachers a splendid talk on the "New Course of Study" which was recently organized by the state for rural schools. Along this line he also spoke of the opportunities for teachers to receive academic credits towards certificates by extension work in the county to be carried on next year.

Miss Frances Clark, superintendent of the Talbot County schools, was also present and spoke on the work of the elementary schools and how it could be benefited.

During the week, Miss Mae Thompson had charge of the grammar work and Miss Lavinia Crouse had charge of the primary work. Mrs. Elizabeth Stone took charge of the attendance problems.

Community Club Meetnig

The Denton Community Club was very pleasantly entertained on the spacious lawn under the large shade trees at the home of Mrs. Kate Spence last Friday afternoon. At the close of the business session Mrs. Edith G. Norman gave a talk on the coming county educational exhibit which is to be held at Denton in October. Plans for different features of the exhibit were discussed after which the hostesses served delicious lemonade and cake. The ladies had the pleasure of a visit to Grandma Ramsdell's flower garden which is a bower of beauty despite the very dry weather.

Auto Prices Drop

SCHOOLS WILL OPEN MONDAY, SEPT. 12

Teachers Will Be Ready for All Schools---Expect 4,000 to Enroll

500 TOTS TO START

School days.

How they bring back memories to those of us who have left them behind—happy days of childhood, when we were attending school, enjoying good, healthy out-door exercise after its close each day, and looking forward to the holiday each week when Saturday came.

School days will begin for about 500 little folks on Monday in Caroline County, while for 3500 older ones, it will begin another session, another rung on the ladder of learning in preparation for the battle of life.

All white schools in the county will open with teachers waiting expectantly to take up the year's work. There are no vacancies this year.

In Denton the fifth and sixth grades will use the new portable school rooms recently erected, thus giving more room in the high school building for the high school work. Last year one or two subjects had to be dropped on account of a shortage of room, but this year the complete course will be given.

It is also important for the children to remember that attendance at Sunday School during the entire year will give them credit in their final marks next spring. An average attendance at Sunday School of 80 per cent of the number of times possible to attend is what is figured on. Any one not receiving 80 per cent attendance marks will not receive credit in their school work at the end of the year.

MORE TEACHERS WERE APPOINTED

At the meeting of the Board of Education this week the following appointments were made, which places a teacher in each of the schools of the county for the coming year:

Mrs. Sadie Crouse, Baltimore Corners.
Mrs. Mary Pleasanton, Whiteleys.
Miss Bessie Edwards, Greensboro.
Mrs. Mary Lee, assistant at Burrsville.
Miss Miriam Wright, Federalsburg.
Miss Ethel Eveland, Ridgely.
Miss Violet Turner, Friendship.
Miss Elizabeth Cannon, Cedar Grove

Other matters pertaining to the opening of school were taken up.

Questionnaires Not Out

At a meeting of the League of Women Voters, held at the home of Mrs. Stone of the 8th district, Tuesday evening, September 6th, it was discovered that some of the candidates had not yet received their questionnaires, which had been started on their journey some two or three weeks ago. Therefore those candidates are today securing questionnaires from one source or another, signing them and hastening them to the headquarters of the league. The league is nonpartisan and is seeking to assure each candidate of this, and so go on with its mission of educating the women and trying to secure for each candidate all of the votes said candidate merits. The slogan is "every woman an intelligent voter," and "every office holder the best man obtainable for that particular office."

LYNCH—CLARK

Miss Esther Clark, assistant cashier at the Bank of Ridgely, and daughter of Mrs. Ida Benson, was married to Mr. Joseph Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lynch, at her home on Wednesday, August 31st, by Fr. Joseph Lee. The bridal pair took a motor trip north for their wedding trip. Mr. Lynch is a farmer and lives on a farm a mile out of Ridgely where they will reside. Mrs. Lynch, who was formerly a stenographer for Mr. M. K. Newnam, will continue her work at the bank.

Exhibit at Fair

The Preston Farmers Association has a booth exhibit at the Timonium fair at Baltimore this week.

Democratic Primary Election

Tomorrow, September 9th, is the Democratic Primary Election day.

TEACHERS WARNED TO GUARD CHILDREN AGAINST FIRES

In a few weeks the schools of Maryland will be opened and every school room will be occupied by the children of our state.

Those who are charged with the responsibility of the care of these children should be sure that everything has been done to insure their safety. Be sure that every fire hazard has been removed; that the heating plant in each building is properly installed and in correct repair; that approved fire extinguishers have been installed when and where needed; that the installation of the electrical wiring has been thoroughly inspected and that same is in good condition, and that exits and fire escapes are in proper shape.

Ten percent of all accidental deaths in this country result from fire. Each year a great many of our school houses in the United States burn. Do not let it be said that any school house burns, or a child loses its life, as a result of your neglect or inattention.

Eighty-five percent of all the fires of this country are caused by carelessness, a proportionate part of which are in schools, not through the carelessness of the children, but through the carelessness of those charged with the legal obligation of safeguarding the limb and life of your child. This responsibility rests upon every school official, including teachers. If you are a member of a School Board, a township trustee, county superintendent of schools, or a teacher in the schools, you are seeing that the children are properly protected. Every parent should make it his or her business to see that their children are properly cared for.

During an average of five hours each day during 200 days in each year, twenty-five million children are in the schools of the United States. The attendance is compulsory; no fundamental educationel problem is greater than the safety of these children.

Fire drills are extremely important and should be held at least twice a month, but perfection of drilling is of little value if fire exits are omitmitted or improperly designed, or if doors are locked or do not open outward and should be equipped with panic release bar latches.

What the country needs is National Team Work, in fighting the fire waste. Our schools have a double responsibility and opportunity in the premises; first, to put their own houses in order, and second, to yield a powerful educational influence. The education of the public in matters of fire prevention is the most important step that can be taken toward limiting the loss of life and property by fire. If within the next year the teaching of fire prevention were incorporated in the courses of all schools and colleges in the United States, it is safe to predict that the effect upon the fire waste would be very great. Some states already require that a certain amount of time be devoted each month to the study of fire prevention in grammar schools.

It should be remembered that the degree of attention given to fire protection in the school buildings themselves will to a large extent determine the importance of fire protection in the estimation of the child. The best literature on fire protection should be in every school library, and important matters should be emphasized by pictures and mottoes.

Let each and every citizen of the state use their endeavors to reduce the awful fire waste which visits our state and nation each year.

Deputy State Fire Marshall

POULTRY LECTURE FRIDAY EVENING

Farmers Supply Company Secures Mr. Angell's Services from Beltsville

6,000 FEET OF PICTURES

Chicken fanciers of this section are to have a treat on Friday night when Mr. Albert Angell, Jr., of the Government Poultry Farm at Beltsville, Md., will deliver his illustrated lecture on "Standard Bred Poultry."

Mr. Angell is well qualified to give many points on the raising and care of chickens, and during the course of the lecture we feel sure that those who hear him will receive new light on the chicken question and will be helped in the problems which confront them from time to time.

During the course of the lecture, Mr. Angell will show 6,000 feet of moving picture films giving an idea of how to raise chickens, showing the best style of buildings and many other points about the chicken business which have been studied carefully and brought to a high state of perfection at the government farm.

Mr. Angell will appear here through the efforts of the Farmers Supply Co., whose advertisement this week calls attention to his coming.

The lecture will begin promptly at 8 o'clock Friday evening, September 9th, and is absolutely free.

6TH STREET OPENS NEW STATE ROAD

Last Friday 6th street was again opened to the public, opening a new link of the state roads on the Eastern Shore. This half mile of concrete road through Denton makes an unbroken stretch of state road running north and south on the Eastern Shore.

The work was done by the Kauffman Construction Company at the order of the State Highway Commission and originally called for only the centre of the street to be concreted. Patrons along the street, however, petitioned the town commissioners to pave the entire street and agreed to pay a proportionate rate and the work was done.

All of the gutter work and a few of the street crossings have not been finished as yet but the main thoroughfare is finished and open for public use.

Meeting of L. of W. V.

There were several of the candidates and to-be candidates present at the meeting and those who declared their alleggiance to the principles of the League of Women Voters as set forth in their legislative program, were Dr. M. B. Stephens and Mr. Lawrence B. Towers. Mr. Solomon Hurst was present but modestly declined to respond to the call for a speech; but his good wife came forth with expression of Mr. Hurst's principles. It seemed to the ladies that she ought to know.

Dr. M. B. Stephens has signed the questionnaire and subscribes to the entire program as put forth for the year 1922. In addition, he has made public these principles in many public speeches during the past few days and has also signified the same in letters written as early as the beginning of August.

WEATHER REPORT

The week was dry and very warm, with a mean temperature about 9 degrees above normal. The warm spell that set in on August 29 developed into a hot wave, with clear and sunshiny days. Maximum temperature was close to 90 degrees, or above, on five dates. This hot wave terminated on Sunday, September 4, and was followed by cloudy, humid and cooler weather. Light scattered showers occurred from the 2d to the 4th.

Growing crops and pastures were seriously affected by the heat and drought.

Early corn matured rapidly under the influence of dry ,hot and sunshiny weather; cutting has commenced and will become general during the coming week. Late corn was affected unfavorably in most sections and is drying up; some of it has "fired," or ripened prematurely.

Late potatoes continue in bloom, but the vines are drying up. Sweet potatoes are in fair condition. Truck crops and gagrdens are only poor to fair in most sections.

Harvesting of tomatoes, sugar corn, truck and tobacco continues.

Harvesting of buckwheat and seedingg of wheat have begun in Garrett County. Buckwheat in eastern counties is drying up.

Plowing for fall seeding was prevented by the dry and hardened condition of the soil.

HENS "ROLL THEIR OWN"—HIGH EGG RECORDS FOLLOW

As a result of eight years' feeding tests at the United States Department of Agriculture poultry yards at Beltsville, Md., a mash feed has been compounded which gives uniform high egg production This mash, which has been teestd for three years, is made of 4 per cent bran, 4 per cent middlings, 26 per cent meat scrap, and 66 per cent corn meal. In the experiments the hens were allowed to select their own mash ingredients. This is the proportion of those different feeds which they ate during the year. Several pens of 30 hens each, both of Leghorns and of Rhode Island Reds, have averaged from 140 to 155 eggs each while this mash was fed. While the mash seems to be particularly adapted for Leghorns, it has given very good results with the Reds. Wyandottes and Plymouth Rocks were found to get too fat on the ration and a mash somewhat lower in meat scrap has given better results with these breeds. Both the Wyandottes and Plymouth Rocks at Beltsville are large standard sized fowls. The tendency to become overfat on this mash probably would not be found in a smaller type of Plymouth Rocks such as is often found on commercial poultry farms.

CANDIDATES ANSWER L. OF W. V. QUESTIONS

The legislative program of the League of Women Voters was submitted in the form of a questionnaire, to each candidate for nomination to the general assembly on the Democratic ticket and each nominee on the Republican ticket in Caroline county, by the Caroline League of Women Voters. This was not done with the intention of embarassing any one, but it was felt, that if each candidate desires to represent the women of the county, in making laws, they are entitled to the knowledge that he will support the measures which they are backing.

The eight questions sent the prospective office holders are:

A children's code; a state department of child hygiene; raising the age of consent for girls to eighteen; equal guardianship of children; requiring health certificates from persons applying for marriage licenses; a general political disabilities bill; amending the present mother's pension law to make it effective; and amending the marriage and divorce law.

Mr. Nelson H. Fooks favors measures 1, 3, 6, 7, and 8. In measure 2 he expressed himself in favor of a trial of the measures proposed in the Sheppard-Towner bill. In measure 4 he favors 16 years rather than 18, because he believes the latter age would defeat the object sought. He says experience in some of the western states tends to prove this. In measure 5, he states that before arriving at a conclusion he desires to learn benefit and objection found in the application of such laws in states which have had them on their statutes.

Mr. A. Fletcher Sisk, in his reply, pledges himself to work and vote for the measures, if elected for the nomination, and regards them all as very important, particularly those relating to child welfare.

Mr. Norman M. Faulker, declares the measures important and promises to support all of them, if elected. He believes they fill a great need.

Mr. Martin C. Voss, declares the measures all important and that they should be enacted into laws. He pledges his support, if elected.

Mr. Harry H. Smith, will do all that he can, if nominated and elected, to secure the passage of the measures.

Mr. Arthur G. Smith, feels that as he is a candidate for nomination and not a candidate to the legislature, to take any stand in the matter, at present, would be premature. In the event of his nomination, he will reply to the questions fully. He is willing to assist in contributing anything to the future welfare of the infant, the child and the woman of the state.

Mr. J. Raymond Charles, reserves the right to express himself until after the Democratic primaries shall have decided whether he will be a candidate to the house or not.

Mr. Dudley, followed the most important passages of the story, and gave the general outline. These were interspersed with songs excellently rendered by the choir. A large congregation enjoyed this most unusual service.
