again as also to the third time still leaving her more Stupid and Tonsless every Time but it all did ago together. that some Time before before the death of her Husband I often heard him say he was ashamed to see her any longer in company, as she was not capable of behaving herself days before Mr Elliots Death his Wife came into the Room where he lay. and behaved Stupid. he said to a good woman present Strange would it be Madm. if this poor ill Creature Should Survive me. that is past every thing and has run so ever Since She had Them kind of Fits which I thought would have Carried her of long ago, and before the death of Said Elliott I have seen her in publick Company. though Clean dress Spit and Slaver on her Cloathes. Both Laugh and Cry. with any Visible Cause. Soon after the death of her Husband I met her Straying for the Town. as no person was with her. I asked to here she was going. for it was Common for none one to be with her. she Said to Calmore. she being out of the way I then asked her what She was going after She Said to see Tommey. Told her Tomy was gone to Sea and She fell a Crying. I again Saw her at her Son John Hedricks and the Little Boy that generally went with her came in and Said to her Granny I have been Hunting all about Town for you she then fell a Crying — about November Last I Saw her in the Street. and I made towards her she saw me after her, set a Running I found she would fall. or perhaps be taken with a fit. I Ran but She fell before Before I got up to her. much Cut herself on the face I Bound up the Wound and She was Ledhome. Quite Stupid! not so much as one Compliment or thankt Me for what I had done. neither did I expect it from her. as I well knew she was past Complements. The Last Time I saw her to take any particular Notice of her was at the Burying of her Grandchild. when She was a Little Troublesome to be Kept back from going with the Company to the Grave. I endeavoured to persuade her as not being able to go but she gave me no Answer but Still Cried I Pitied a old Gentlewoman and really thought it was Time for her to leave the Earth — further Saith not
