ORPHANS COURT

At the regular session of the Orphans' Court for Caroline County on Tuesday there were present their honors, Judges West Harper and Shawn, and the following business was transacted:

In the absence of the Court, the Register of Wills, on application, granted letters of administration on the personal estate of Sallie F. Brown, deceased, to Thomas F. Brown. Bond filed and approved, notice to creditors ordered and Edw. E. Nuttle and R. W. Messenger were named as appraisers.

Grace R. Henry and Harvey L. [illegible]ber, administrators of S. Asbury [illegible]y, deceased, filed an inventory and appraisment of the personal property and an order to sell was granted.

In the matter of the estate of Mildred Louise, Richard Wallace and Raymond Edward Murphy, minors, on petition and order of the Court, Cora E. Murphy, guardian, was authorized and empowered to withdraw from the East New Market Bank of the Eastern Shore [illegible], a certain sum of money to be used for theing maintenance and support of her wards.

On application, letters of guardianship were granted to Sarah E. Matthews for Mildred Matthews, minor. Bond filed and approved.

Anxious To Please

"Did you say you were a distressed Arabian or an indignant Turk?"

"Whichever you prefer, mum," responded the wayfarer.— Louisville Courier-Journal.

Mistaken Identity

"Mister," whined the beggar, "will you give a poor man something for a drink?"

"You bet I will," said the pedestrian, brightening. "How much you got with you?"—Minneapolis Journal.

No Trespassing Signs

Hunting season is in and those land owners who do not permit hunting or trespassing on their land should placard it. The American Union is prepared to print these notices on short order.

Cruelty to Animals

To the Editor of The American Union:

As Caroline County has no society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, where superfluous, diseased and crippled animals may be cared for or killed in some humane way, is is necessary for people to give the matter their attention, and suggest that the Community Clubs take it up.

Perhaps cats have more hardships to endure than other animals because the supply always exceeds the demand. Many thoughtless persons have been guilty lately of dropping kittens along the public roads and in towns where they are left to suffer and die slowly from starvation. A dose of chloroform would prevent this unnecessary suffering. By this painless method the kittens go to sleep never to awaken—unless the job has been done by an amateur, in which case it is well to be sure that they have really experienced the great adventure of death.

Man will sometimes desert his friends, but animals will always repay kind treatment with undying affection.

A LOVER OF ANIMALS.

WEATHER REPORT

The weather was warm until Sunday the 18th; and cooler thereafter, but with normal temperature. There was considerable cloudiness, but sunshine was adequate. Light, scattered showers occurred on the 15th and 17th.

The weather of the week was favorable for farming operations, but was too dry for plant growth Drought of unusual length and severity in southern Maryland and in the central and southern portions of the Eastern hore was broken only locally.

Cutting or corn made excellent progress. Silos are mostly filled. The late corn in the southern counties was injured by the drought.

Late potatoes have improved somewhat in the northeastern portion, but the crop in all divisions has been cut short by the dry weather; digging has begun in Garrett County. Late potatoes, truck, gardens and pastures are in fair to good condition in the northern border counties and are poor to fair over the remainder of the section.

Harvesting of tomatoes, sugar corn and truck continues.

Harvesting of buckwheat continues in Garrett County; on the Eastern Shore buckwheat is drying up in some localities.

Sowing of wheat continues in Garrett County; elsewhere over the section the ground is too dry and hard as a rule to permit final preparation for fall sowing. Barley was sown in Carroll County.

The average man doesn't care much about the bad habits women are said to be contracting, such as smoking cigarettes and dressing as shockingly as they please, but they'd better never begin chewing tobacco.

COMMON SENSE

To see, to hear, to taste, to touch and to smell are the five human senses, and we, who have the good fortune of possessing them should develop a sixth, COMMON SENSE, and thereby, support our local interests. This does not apply to the wage earner alone, but it also applies to the merchants engaged in one line of business, who go out of our home town to do their buying in other lines.

MORAL—The man of sense will circulate his money for the betterment of local interests.
