CAMILLA KENYON

The talented author of "Spanish Doubloons" says of herself:

"I was born in San Francisco with a family background of the early days. Ill health kept me from school much of the time and threw me on my books as my only resource. Apparently I lacked all feminist proclivities, for I scorned girls' books and instead, reveled in tales of adventure.

"For sea stories, particularly with a buccaneering flavor, I had and have an abiding love. Perhaps this is because I was brought up on a tale—whether truth or legend I am not clear—of an ancestor, a soldier of fortune, who when business was slack, eked out a living as a freebooter, though of course after the fashion of a perfect gentleman. I sometimes think that the soul of the old adventurer may have ensconced itself by mistake in my earthly frame."

This paper will carry "Spanish Doubloons" as a serial. It is a charming tale of adventure and romance in which the principal characters are women, and contains rare humor.

COLLECTIVE BUYING IS FARMERS' PLAN

College Park, Oct. 18.—A meeting of agricultural interests inthe State to take definite and final action on the State-wide purchasing plan for farmers, recently approved by the executive council of the Maryland Agricultural Society, is being called for 10 o'clock, October 27, at the Hotel Rennert, Baltimore.

Announcements of the meeting are being sent out by Dr. Thomas B. Symons, secretary of the Maryland Agricultural Society, following a recent determination on the part of the purchasing committee to push definite action on the plan to a speedy conclusion. It is expected that upwards of 150 representatives of farm organizations throughout the state will be present.

"Particular effort is being made," said Dr. Symons today, "to reach every organization of farmers in the state interested in co-operative buying and selling. All local organizations, including granges, are invited to send representatives to the meeting whether or not they are notified in advance. It is the purpose of the committee to create as wide-spread interest in the plan as possible, and it is important that all organizations be represented so that the plan may be thoroughly discussed and understood. Each county should have at least three representatives and every local farm organization engaged in co-operative enterprises should send its representative."

The purchasing committee, composed of C. E. Bryan, Dorchester county; H. E. Nelson, Talbot county; and George I. Gardner, business manager of the Maryland Tobacco Growers' Association; has made definite arrangements for the completion of preliminary details prior to the meeting on October 27. These details include the drafting of a certificate of incorporation, and a constitution and by-laws, the preparation of a prospectus, and consultations on the legal status of the proposed buying agency.

Messages to Seekers of Success

Luck and Lack

Don't trust to luck. Luck is untrustworthy. Systematic, scientific striving for any goal is far more likely to bring you success than any mere faith in your success.

Just as changing a single letter changes "Luck" to "Lack," so will the reverses of a single day change plenty to want. But you can insure yourself against this by building your success on the habit of saving.

Save and Win

Be well dressed. Make friends. Increase your influence in your community. Enjoy the respect of all your associates.

These things do not come to those who trust to luck for them. Systematic saving will win them for you. Systematic saving will accumulate for you a small fortune that can safely and readily be expanded to a large one.
