To Help You Win

Riches—power—happiness. The average man places these as his goal. He dreams about having them.

But the average man is slow to take a practical step towards that goal. He is content to dream about it—and never gets there.

The most practical start is to start a savings account. Rockefeller had to save his first thousand dollars. It earned the rest of his fortune.

Character Earns Credit

Saving men not only have capital for their efforts. In saving, they establish a reputation which will make it easy to secure additional capital when necessary.

A farmer has frequent need for capital if he is striving continually to improve his property. How important it is then that he build up his credit—establish his character.

The easiest and quickest way is to start a savings account.

THE SCIENCE OF CHILD TRAINING

and cheerfully, to buy the plaything. Remember that no child must be "put off" with a promise, and then the promise lack fulfullment. There is a psychological reason for having the dessert at the end of the meal.

6. This may be stated in a simple way, as work before play, and the duller things before the happier things. If a hard task is to be done, the reward should come after the task is completed. Otherwise "pleasure is lessened by dread, and pain, increased by thought of previous pleasure." "If every child were led to form the habit of enjoying reward only after earning it, the world would be vastly better." The pampering and demoralizing tendency to get what has not yet been earned, by going in debt, gambling or speculating is the result of a childhood that has been allowed to take the sweet first, then dodge the bitter or take it with much grumbling.

Vry eary the child should be taught the joy of giving pleasure in one form or another to others; to care for others, to help others. These are higher instincts.

To help the child to form good habits is the work of the home group; good physical habits, habits of daily conduct; treatment of others; care of animals. Accustom the child to day by day do something which is right, but which he dislikes to do, and it will become a habit.

Habits and acts of service, which at first were carried on because mother insisted, may finally be done because of their rightness, or because the child begins to realize that in these ways he assets the family group. A daily duty may finally be accepted by the child as his contribution to the family life.

Many of a child's ideals are received from the books which he reads. Or he greatly admires some person. But if these ideals are to be carried out, they must be founded on weil-established habits.

Much may be written on these topics, but the mother will be greatly helped if she realizes that obedience is not only important in itself, but for what it involves—that the great end of obedience is self-control. "Obedience is a temporary virtue which becomes mature and lasting when it grows into self-control, by appropriating outer laws and making them standards of conduct." The person or persons in authority over a child exert great influence for good or ill by the demands for obedience which they make. Caution must be exercised, lest undue and even unjust demands for obedience be made. The child may understand also that some laws are made which apply only to his own good, but other laws have been necessary for the welfare of the family.

Establish then in the child good habits of conduct. Help him to endure hardship. Help him to know that it pays to do right. Help him to acquire self-control. Help him to realize that he is a part of a group, to realize that he is a part of a group, and that the welfare and happiness of the entire group must be considered.

HOBBS

Rev. A. W. Betts, and son, Martin, of Felton, were guests of Mr. William Hubbard and family on Tuesday .

Mr. and Mrs. William Hubbard spent Sunday with the latter's sister, Mr. Ralph Hubbard of Union Grove.

Mr. and Mrs Clinton Williamson were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Williamson's brother, Mr. E. Lord and family of American Corner on Sunday.

Mr. Isaac Starkey entertained on Sunday last Mrs. Thomas Morgan, of Wilmington, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Jones, and Mrs. Mannie Trice of Baltimore, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Paisley of Dover, and son Edward, of Philadelphia.

Mr. Elbert Williamson had the misfortune to get one of his fingers nearly cut off while at work for the Hobbs Manufacturing Co. on Tuesday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Addie Reed was the guest of Mrs. Reed's uncle, Mr. Walter Lord and family of Concord on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bright spent the week end at Hickman, and were very agreeably entertained by Mr. and Mrs. William Noble, and listened on Sunday to two able discourses by Mr. W. H. Dickerson of Wilmington. In the forenoon his subject was "The Purchased Possession," Eph. 1:14. In the afternoon his subject was on the "Millions Now Living Will Never Die" with many scriptural proofs to that effect. Further meetings will be duly announced in these columns.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions.

HALL'S CATARRH MEDICINE consists of an Ointment which Quickly Relieves by local application, and the Internal Medicine, a Tonic, which assists in improving the General Health.

Sold by druggists for over 40 Years.

DO YOU WANT THE NEWS??

If you want the NEWS, then YOU WANT

THE AMERICAN UNION

for it has more news of Caroline County and the Eastern Shore in it than any the paper published in Caroline County.

Examine carefully the papers of Caroline County, count the number of columns of local news in each and see for yourself that the above statement is true. Our aim is to give the news, ALL the NEWS of the county.

We have each week two columns of news for the house wife, which are written by a specialist in her line. These two columns are well worth the price of the paper themselves.

On the first page of The American Union each week is an article written in prose-poetry, taking up some thought along life's highway which is very interesting and well were a little afterthought.

Another section of the paper is devoted to items from all over the Eastern Shore, which gives an idea of what is going on among our neighbors.

For those who like to smile we have a joke column under the heading "Chips" which we endeavor to keep filled with sayings worthy a smile.

All through the paper you will find columns of news from the various sections of the county, giving the comings and goings of your friends and neighbors.

As this section is primarily devoted to farming, we print each week much news of interest to farmers, poultrymen, hog raisers, etc., which comes either from the government, College Park, or some other approved source, and is calculated to save you time, money and energy. Here again we outrun the other papers, in the amount of such news printed each week.

We are glad to receive suggestions at any time. If there is something you want to know, some question you want to ask, some way in which we can help you, just let us know, and we will do our best to help you.

SUBSCRIBE NOW—THIS WEEK—TODAY—Let us send you this paper which has the most news and the most helps for the farmer and his household.
