THIS HOARD WOULD HAVE DOUBLED IN VALUE—

Deposited in this bank at 4 per cent interest, the hoarded money which has been lying idle for years would have doubled in value instead of merely accumulating dust and cobwebs.

Happily not many persons today actually heard money with the belief that it is safe from theft or accident.

Money need not be buried in old walls or cellars to be hoarded. It is hoarded money if it is idle money, useless money.

The safest way to make your money work for you and the community is to deposit it in the bank, where it is safe, draws interest, and helps build up the local community, thus enhancing the value of your property.

Our officails are business executives and can help to make your money work more profitably for you. Consult them without obligation.

FEDERALSBURG

Birthday Celebration on Christmas

Christmas day was a gala day indeed for Mr. M. L. Williams, whose birthday coincides with this great holiday an on this occasion, the seventieth anniversary was made happy by the homecoming of several children. Among those who helped celebrate Mr. Williams' natal day were Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Schug, of Easton, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Langford and daughter Pauline, of Wilmington.

Mr. Williams, who despite his 70 year, retains his excellent health as well as a youthful spirit, greatly enjoyed the splendid dinner prepared in his honor, of which the especial piece de resistance was an immense birthday cake bearing seventy varicolored candles burning brightly.

Neal—Stevens

On Wednesday, Decmeber 26, at 1:30 o'clock, Miss Louise Amelis Stevens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stevens of this town, was quietly married at her home to Mr. Francis West Neal, of Philadelphia, formerly of Federalsburg.

The home was made most attractive by the use of Christmas greens, the wedding music being furnished by Miss Mary Davis. Rev. F. C. MacSorley, pastor of Union M. E. church performing the ceremony in the presence of the family and close friends.

The bride was becomingly attired in a draped gown of Brown velvet, fur trimmed with which were more worn becomingly, hat gloves and slippers. She carried white carnations. Immediately following the ceremony, an informal reception was held, after which, Mr. and Mrs. Neal left by train from Bridgeville for a northen trip. The bride donned a handsome dark brown wrap with beaver collar for the jaurney.

Mrs. Neal has for several years been the popular teacher of the fifth grade in Federalsburg; Mr. Neal was as one time cashier of the First National Bank here, but is now located at Philadelphia, where he and Mrs. Neal will reside.

Christms Entertainments by Children

The local churches each held entertainments in keeping with the Christmas season during the holidays. Christ M. P. church had its annual entertainment on Sunday evening prior to Christmas in the church. This consisted of appropriate readings rendered by the pupils interspersed with choruses of music and terminating in a beautiful pageant "The White Christmas of the Wonder Book".

The celebration of Union M. E. church took the form of a cantata, "Santa Claus and His Helpers", given Thursday evening, December 27th at the Temple. Music of a very pleasing character, figured largely throughout the play in which black Dinah rivalled Santa Claus in popularity. The cunning little Brownies, the dainty fairies and Jack Frost, all added much to the attractiveness of the cantata which was produced under direction of Mr. J. R. Charles, assisted by Mrs. O. McClure. The annual "treat" consisting of a box of candy and orange was distributed to all children of the Sunday school.

Operetta a Success

The light opera, "The Witch of Fairy Dell" presented by the Glee Club of Federalsburg high school on the evening of December 21 at the school was a decided success despite the disadvantages of working without a curtain. The music was catchy, and the singing whether in solo, duet, or ensemble was excellently done, while the scenic effects, particularly in the dance of the fairies, were beautiful.

The returns amounting to $115.00, were used to procure a curtain for the school auditorium.

Mrs. Carrie J. Carroll entertained at a dinner party last Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Handy, Miss Mary Handy, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Handy, Miss Ruth Jefferson, and Miss Adelaide Jefferson.

A Rat That Didn't Smell After Being Dead for Three Months
