Poor Nancy Hanks!

On February 12th we pay distinguished homage to Abraham Lincoln with all too little recognition of the magnificent mother who reared him.

Poor Nancy Hanck Lincoln died in her thirties, a tired, over-burdened pioneer mother. Not one labor-saving device did she own. She spun the wool for the clothes, and sewed them by hand. She washed on a board, cooked over a fire that she tended herself, groped her way about the windowless cabin in the uncertain light of the fire place. She died 43 years before her son was inaugurated.

Somewhere in America today, another young mother is rearing a future president. Her household labors are lifted by electrical appliances. Electricity washes the clothes, cooks the food, cleans the rugs, lights the home.

This mother will live to see her son inaugurated, her span of years lengthened by electrical service.

That Extra Band Above the Knee

One crack above the knee and a boot is gone. This is a complaint that fishermen have always made about boots.

The new "U. S." Gray Sole boot has an extra band above the knee, wide and secure. It insures longer life to the boot, greater protection to the wearer.

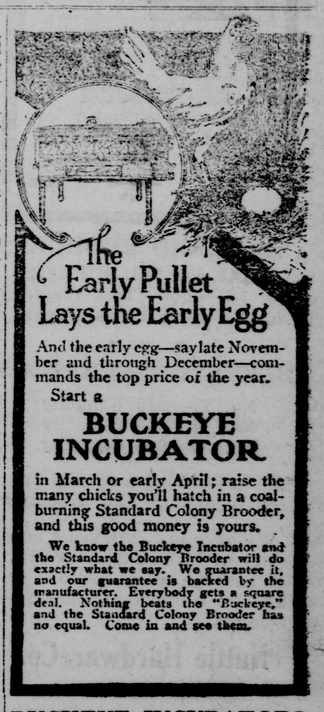

The band is only one of many new features which are making the "U. S." Gray Sole Boot a boon to fishermen. Ask the men who are wearing them now.
