SMALLEST REAL AUTOMOBILE IS LIGHT ENOUGH TO CARRY AROUND

When this tiny car develops engine trouble the driver just picks it up and walks back to his garage; but when the engine is running smoothly the auto rolls along at 25 miles an hour, propelled by a 1¾ horsepower engine. It is a real car with three speeds and reverse and is believed to be the smallest practicable motor car ever built. The maker lives at Kingston, England.

DRIVER STEPPED ON WRONG PEDAL

George L. Cowen of Milwaukee was accustomed to driving a different make of car and when the gear shift lever jammed on this new coupe he stepped on the gas instead of the brake. The car plunged through a 14-inch brick wall and into a neighbor's patch. But the only damage to the car was a smashed sun visor and a cracked radiator cap.

FARM BUREAU NEWS

Farm bureau women of Maryland are taking mere perfunctory interest in the farm bureau work in the various county and local units scattered all over the state.

This is in full keeping with the policy and announcement of president O. E. Bradfute, of the American Farm Bureau Federation, and the farm bureau is not exclusively a man's organization, but an organization in which both men and women can render valuable service for the uplift and improvement of agricultural conditions throughout the country.

Under the expert leadership of Ms. Josiah W. Jones, of Olney, Montgomery county, the home and community committee of the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation has already set in motion the machinery necessary to bring the farm bureau women of the state into closer and more intimate rleatjonships, one with the other and for the purpose of improving social and economic conditions in the rural sections of the state. Mrs. M. Melvin Stewart, of Gambrills, Anne Arundel county, is secretary of the committee.

Already, many of the counties have observed the effect caused by the women taking an active part in the social and entertainment features of the various locals and in every instance the attendance at these local meetings has been greatly increased. The women of Howard, Anne Arundel, Montgomery and several other counties have taken hold of this work and as a result the average attendance at all farm bureau meetings and entertainments in which they take part, has shown a steady increase.

The increased activities of the farm bureau women of the state was first shown at the annual convention last month during which time the first annual meeting of the home and community committee of the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation was held in the Southern hotel in Baltimore. Mrs. Jones presided over these sessions and the reports submitted by the various county chairmen indicated that this year will be one of much accomplishment by the women of the state and for the betterment of agricultural conditions in the rural sections of the state.

Reported by Rev. J. A. LEACH, Berlin, Md., Chairman of Board.

Farm Pamphlet Is Too Funny

Since investigations are all the rage in Washington, Dan Dobb demands another. In a farm bureau pamphlet we read, "Hens ar being vaccinated for chickenpox." Perhaps the small bantams are being vaccinated for smallpox.

Ducks, of course, should be vaccinated by quacks. We don't know why, unless it would be for flat feet. Maybe you could vaccinate a flivver for the ague, or a steel trap for lockjaw. This should be nivestigated at once.
