FEMININE TOPICS

The best results are secured with rolled cookies if the mixture is thoroughly chilled before being rolled out.

Vests for women's suits will be tremendously popular for the new spring suits.

A great many of the newer frocks are shown in the sheath style and caught up at the hip.

A fashion note that distinguishes this season's knitted suits and dresses is a band of color on the bottom of the skirt.

Boyish lines in suits will be the note for spring and the materials will include serges, twills, tweeds and flannels.

The topcoat will share equal honors with the new spring suits so that whether you invest in either or both you will be right up to the minute.

Novel pocket effects and painted rabbit trimmings are used on coats.

Monkey hair, pretty well crowded out by the season's novelties, nevertheless persists. Its latest use is as a barbaric sort of edging of pumps of gray suede.

Fine thread laces are combined with satins and crepes and used over silk foundations for frocks.

Rosemary and Sulphur (which is sold at all drug and department stores) will improve the condition of the most rundown scalp if it is consistently used each night. Just rub it vigorously into the roots of the hair.

Many black satin gowns are enlivened by a discreet note of red appearing in collars, braids, pipings, buttons and such things.

The box coat that ends short of hip length is what the fashionable miss is likely to select to-day when picking a tailored suit. The pattern will probably be either a check or a hair line stripe; the plainer models are reserved for older women.

Good news for the lady who hates to darn. You may have your stockings painted on your limbs to-day, and they are said not to rub off except with warm water.

There are certainly more black hats to the square inch in this spring's millinery lines than there were last year. The all black hat in small and medium shapes, in combinations of straw and fabric, is being featured just now.

Dull silver is a bright thought for spring. You see dull silver earrings, which easily flatter the skin; dull silver buckles and buttons and dull silver gowns.

Sweaters are being made so smart and attractive that they can easily take the place of the costume blouse.
