MORALS RELIGION AND COMMON SENSE

A BUSINESS MAN'S PRAYER

"Teach me that 60 minutes make an hour, 16 ounces a pound, and 100 cents a dollar.

"Help me so to live that I can lie down at night with a clear conscience, without a gun under my pillow and unhaunted by the faces of those to whom I have brought pain.

"Grant that I may earn my meal ticket on the square, and that in earning it I may do unto others as I would have them do unto me.

"Defend me from the jingle of tainted money and the rustle of unholy skirts.

"Blind me to the faults of the other fellow but reveal to me my own.

"Guide me so that each night when I look across the dinner table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I will have nothing to conceal.

"Keep me young enough to laugh with children and sympathetic enough to be considerate of old age.

"And when comes the day of darkened shades and the smell of flowers, the tread of soft footstep and the crunching of wheels in the yard, make the ceremony and the epitaph simple, 'Here lies a man'."

Eastern Shore Happenings

Dover, Del., Sept. 17—Fire that threatened the heart of the business section on Lookerman street Thursday afternoon destroyed the building occupied by A. B. Clements and badly damaged the barn of Mrs. E. M. Stevenson, which adjoins the destroyed building.

The firemen were hard pressed to keep the flames from spreading to the many frame buildings which line the south side of the street.

The Shore Transit Lines, Inc., has purchased bus lines operating from Chestertown to Tolchester Beach and will merge that service with the present schedules of the Shore lines.

The deal involves the transfer of equipment of Vernon M. Barnet bus lines, which at present operate from Chestertown and the bay side resort and intermediate points and all rights and privileges of the company it is said.

Elkton, Md., Sept. 14—The Circuit Court for Harford county is now in session. There are many criminal cases to be tried. The most important one is that of Joseph A. Furbershaw, of Washington, a prohibition agent, who is charged with the murder of John Bungori, a world war veteran, who was shot while running away from Furbershaw, who charged Bungori with the sale of a pint of whiskey at the Harford Hotel, Havre de Grace, last July.

Definite plans for a monster indoor carnival under the auspices of Centreville firemen, were launched last Tuesday evening at the special meeting of the Good Will Fire Company. The decision was unanimously reached to hold the proposed fete, and the date will probably be some time the latter part of November.

The carnival will be held to raise funds for the liquidation of an indebtedness of about $600, which is the remainder of a $1,200 debt incurred when new equipment was added last year. The Second Alarmers, an auxiliary organization of the fire company, have already been instrumental in raising half of the amount.

The public hearing on the need of widening and deepening the Wicomico River channel, held in the Chamber of Commerce room on Thursday evening and called at the instance of Messrs. Charles E. Harper and W. T. Gardner, members of the Waterways Committee of that body, was attended by a large and enthusiastic number of chamber members, business men and others interested in the commercial expansion of Salisbury.

The hearing was before Major C. R. Pettis, District Engineer, War Department, Baltimore, who was present with Major John D. Doyle, who for a number of years has been connected with the office and is well acquainted with the river. The purpose of the meeting was to present facts and figures which would tend to show cause why a survey of the stream should be made as authorized by the Rivers and Harbors Act passed by Congress last March 3.

Easton, Md., Sept. 21—With the condition of Steven J. Reynolds, of Baltimore, critical, as the result of being shot in the back Sunday night, Henry Chairs, watchman at the Hammond & Ferguson Tannery, near here, has been arrested.

Dr. W. N. Palmer, attending Reynolds at the Emergency Hospital, reported that his recovery is doubtful.

Reynolds was a workman at the tannery. With other employes he was living in a shack near the tannery.

The workmen were drinking yesterday, according to Chairs, and toward night they became noisy.

When he went to the shack to try to quiet them they attacked him, and Reynolds threatened to shoot him, Chairs said.

He told Sheriff William H. Hopkins, who arrested him after he had taken Reynolds to the hospital, that, after Reynolds made the threat, he turned away, supposedly to get his revolver. Chairs then drew his pistol and fired, intending to shoot Reynolds in the leg, he said.

Cambridge, Md., Sept. 21—Claiming to be the most substantial fire company on the Eastern Shore, the Rescue Fire Company, of Cambridge, boasts that it has $6,000 in cash, besides 5 or 6 mortgages on country properties. It is joining with the city of Cambridge in the erection of a new community building to cost $60,000.

It was organized in 1882, succeeding the Cambridge Fire Company, formed by John Foble in 1846. The first action taken by the old company was the purchase of a hand-pumping engine from a Baltimore company. This apparatus, called the "Dolphin," served until a steamer was purchased about 1865.

On the roll of the Rescue Company are 3 members of the old Cambridge Company, who are active today in fighting fires. A. Hamilton Baily, a Confederate veteran of Dorchester county, whose age is about 85, is foreman of the truck company. Another member who has pulled the brakes on the hand engines and still goes to the fires is Martin Wright. He, too, is an octogenarian.

While this company is primarily for the protection of property, it also maintains a clubroom, where cards and other games are permitted.

Returning from a 5,000-mile motor jaunt in a Ford roadster, which carried them through the famous resort sections of Florida, Kent S. Price, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Medford Price, of near Ruthsburg, and Samuel Blades, son of Mrs. Annie R. Blades, of Sudlersville, are now preparing to reenter University of Maryland, where they will be members of the senior class.

They left Queen Anne's county June 28 on their flivver trip to Florida, and on Monday of the following week left Washington at 2.30 o'clock. At 9 o'clock that night they reached Petersburg, Va. Getting a start at 7 o'clock Tuesday morning they reached Columbia, S. C., at 11.30 that night.

Bright and early Wednesday morning the little flivver again hit the trail and at 10.30 that evening they were in Jacksonville, Fla. After two or three days in Jacksonville they motored to West Palm Beach, Miami and other points, spending a short while at each resort. Later they went to Tampa and spent two weeks.

While in Florida they made expenses by working and upon returning to Maryland Mr. Price for several weeks filled the post of assistant county agent in Frederick county. The two lads had numerous interesting experiences during their journey, and are planning a pilgrimmage to California next summer.

Floyd E. Schaeffer, one of the four prisoners who escaped from the Kent county jail on the night of August 8, has written to Sheriff Wix, of Kent county, from Mt. Crook, Neb., requesting the local officials to arrange to have him brought back to Delaware.

Schaeffer's motive, however, is apparently a selfish one. He is now in the custody of the U. S. Army authorities at Mr. Crook and evidently prefers to take his chance with the authorities of Delaware rather than face charges against him in the army.

When Schaeffer escaped from the local jail he was being held on a charge of stealing the automobile of Fennimore Wilson. He was also wanted at Fort duPont from where he is said to have deserted after being placed on parole.

Collins; vocal solo, "My Task," Mrs. Nola Marvel; reading of quotations from Frances E. Willard; presentation of a blue china, 19-piece ice cream set from the Union, by Rev. Essel P. Thomas. Mrs. Walson was also presented with a shower bouquet of white roses.

Hall's Catarrh Medicine

Those who are in a "run-down" condition will notice that Catarrh bothers them much more than when they are in good health. This fact proves that while Catarrh is a local disease, it is greatly influenced by constitutional conditions

Bob's parents knew the tremendous importance of normal eyesight to children. So they had Bob's eyes examined. The slight defect revealed was corrected easily (and in time), by the eyeglasses prescribed.
