MORALS RELIGION AND COMMON SENSE

BUSINESS AND RELIGION

The relation between religion and business is not one of antagonism. Men plead the pressure of business as an excuse for want of interest in spiritual things. Let us remember that in order to be a first rate business man does not involve being a forth or fifth rate Christian. In order to enrich oneself in trade, it is not necessary to starve oneself at religion. Work and worship are not opposed.

The relation between religion and business is not one of separation. Business does not require a man when he leaves the pew on Sunday to say goodby to his religion for another week. It is not true that Sunday is a day for religion and the other six days for business. All of our days are days for religion. Religion has Business with Business, and Business has Business with Religion.

The relation is one of combination. Not slothful in business, at same time fervent in spirit. That religion is worthless which leaves out business. If a man will not work, neither shall he eat. If a man provide not for his own household, he is worse than an infidel, and has denied the faith. That business is wicked which leaves out religion. It will cheat and bribe, and crush the poor. The only proper way is to combine the two.

There are ways in which godliness helps business. "Godliness is profitable in all things." Godliness makes a man honest. Godliness makes a man industrious and earnest; makes him prudent and thoughtful; makes him firm and decided. A Christian must be able to say No, and mean No, to say Yes and mean Yes. On the other hand business helps religion. Business is a school of knowledge. It is a school of patience. It tests and therefore strengthens our graces. It is a school of integrity . It is a source of wealth which may be consecrated to religion. "What God has joined let no man put asunder." These things God has joined—work and worship—religion and business. Whether ye eat or drink or whatever ye do, do all to the glory of God.

Eastern Shore Happenings

Chestertown, Md., Sept. 29—Dr. A. L. Sterling was called to the bedside of his aged father in Crisfield, Tuesday by a peculiar accident, which may result fatally.

A boy was playing on Saturday with a sharp hatchet in a yard which adjoins the Sterling home in Crisfield, and the lad's father, seeing the danger to his son in playing with the sharp tool, went into the yard and took the hatchet.

Not observing Mr. Sterling, who was standing in his yard, the man threw the tool back of him over into the Sterling yard.

The hatchet struck Mr. Sterling, inflicting an ugly wound from which peritonitis has developed. He was immediately removed to the Crisfield Hospital where his condition is reported to be critical.

Newark, Del., Oct. 1—For the seventh consecutive year Delaware's delegation of boys' and girls' clubs members won more honors in the judging competitions at the Eastern States' Exposition, at Springfield, Mass., than any of the other groups from the twelve states represented.

The twelve Delaware boys and girls from various sections have just returned home elated over their success. The agricultural and home-making clubs of which the youngsters are members are conducted by the Extension Department of the University of Delaware.

* * *

Wilmington, Del., Sept. 30—Governor Robinson appointed Pierre S. du Pont, former head of the Du Pont Company, as State collector of income tax for a term of office beginning next Monday. The position will add a salary of $4,000 to the millionaire's personal income.

The appointment was made after a split in the Republican party caused by two factions putting forward candidates for the office. Mr. Du Pont was selected as acceptable to both sides in the controversy.

Under the Delaware law the revenue derived from income taxes is devoted to the public school system, in which Mr. Du Pont is greatly interested.

* * *

Chestertown, Md., Sept. 30—Hog cholera, whose ravages every year take heavy tolls in valuable swine from the farmers' slaughtering pens, has made its appearance for the second time within two years among the hogs on places in the vicinity of Galena, Black and Lambson stations and Locust Grove, and hundreds of dollars will be lost by farmers who have just begun to pen their animals for the fattening season.

* * *

Chestertown, Md., Sept. 30—The directors of the Citizens Bank at their regular meeting elected George D. Lofland president to succeed the late Hope H. Barroll.

James Elwood Morris was elected vice president, to succeed Mr. Lofland. William M. Culp, prominent hardware merchant of Chestertown was elected a director in place of Mr. Barroll.

Announcement was made last week that William E. Valliant, of Laurel, has been nominated to receive the thirty-third degree in Masonry. Mr. Valliant is the son of the late Edwin S. Valliant of Church Hill, and Mary J. Valliant who now lives in that town and up until about 15 years ago made his home in this county. He is a brother of E. Stephens and T. Rigby Valliant of the firm of E. S. Valliant & Son, fertilizer manufacturers of Centreville.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 2— Delaware is without a director of its Federal Prohibition activities.

William J. Swan, the retiring Federal director of prohibition, has quit. He was in the city today and informed F. H. Pohler, the deputy administrator of the newly-created sixth district, embracing Delaware, Maryland and the District of Columbia, that he had resigned twice, and had turned in his resignation to take effect October 1, and was quitting.

W. Elwood Wright, Georgetown, deputy clerk of the peace of Sussex county, supposedly is the assistant administrator for Delaware.

On the one visit he has made to Wilmington since his appointment, Wright was most uncommunicative.

"I have not refused the job," he said. Then, on reflection, he added, "but I have not received my commission as yet."

ADD SHORE

Salisbury, Md., Oct. 2—The second annual training school for church workers will open at Asbury Methodist Episcopal church on October 11. The school will run through that week until Friday night with a faculty of four experienced teachers, who will handle short courses in religious subjects.

Last year's school was attended by about 150 church workers from several religious denominations, and it is anticipated that there will be a larger enrollment at this year's school from the territory around Salisbury.

The Rev. F. A. Lindhorst, of Dover, will be dean of the school.

* * *

Easton, Md., Oct. 2—John M. Elliott, one of the leading citizens of Easton, died last night in Kansas City. He had been in poor health for some time and went West, accompanied by his wife, for treatment. A telegram received today announced his death but gave no particulars.

Mr. Elliott came here from Missouri about 40 years ago and has been engaged in the real estate business ever since. He was head of the Elliott & McDaniel Company. He was one of the founders of the Talbot Country Club and had been treasurer of it since it was organized in 1910.

* * *

Bridgeville, Del., Oct. 2—The mystery of the death of many hogs around Bridgeville is thought solved in the killing of a large Belgian police dog belonging to Harry Cannon. It is thought at least $500 to $600 worth of porkers were lost.

The marauder was generally supposed to be a bear reported to have gotten loose from a circus. Recently a hog weighing around 300 pounds, belonging to Edwin Myers, was attacked and the next night Ralph Adams, armed with an automatic shotgun, stationed himself near the pigpen. At midnight he saw an animal he took to be a bear. He waited to see what the supposed bear would do and it made for Myers' pigpen, but just as it reached the pen Adams shot the animal. Investigation proved the supposed bear to have been Cannon's police dog.

Seafohrd, Del., Oct. 6—William O. Johnson, of Blades, 61 years old, ex-sheriff of Sussex county, was injured severely here today when his automobile, which he was cranking while in gear, started, catching him under it and dragging him some distance into a tree.

His hand, with which he held to the bumper, was so badly hurt that the thumb had to amputated. Several of his ribs were broken, his face and hed cut and it is feared he is injured internally.

Mr. Johnson is a wealthy brick manufacturer of Blades.

Seaford, Del., Oct. 6—The gross receipts of the firemen's carnival, which closed at Seaford Saturday night, were $6,500, with a net profit of about $4,000. It is estimated a crowd of 10,000 people attended the closing night when 1,007 automobiles were parked on the streets of the town.

Dover, Del., Oct. 6—Thirty-five years ago Mrs. Fondelia Wilds, now an old woman, was given a check for $3.10 for services in appearing before a justice of the peace in settling the estate fo her late husband, W. D. Wilds. The check was dated November 4, 1890.

Mrs. Wilds kept the voucher, and a few weeks ago, remembering she had it, presented it to the county for payment.

At its meeting the Kent County Levy Court paid the $3.1 over to her in cash.

Centreville, Md., Oct. 2—A gift of $5,000 by deCourcey W. Thom, a prominent lawyer of Baltimore, whose summer home is "Blakeford," near here, has insured the building of a fully equipped armory for this town.

The announcement was made last week by Gen. Milton A. Reckord, that the $60,000 State appropriation would be used on the building, but would not care for extra equipment.

The proposition of a new armory in Centreville has been talked of since the appropriation was made by the Legislature in 1922. The selection of a site created a hard fight. When finally that was settled and bids were asked, they were all above the amount appropriated and were rejected.

The $5,000 gift of Mr. Thom was received by the Centreville people with much gratification, as now the building will boast a stage, dressing rooms and other modern conveniences.

PRACTICAL INSTRUCTIONS IN HOME SEWING

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS

DRESSING TO TYPE—THE RIGHT HEMLINE

Paris, Aug. 28—This fall, as for the past two seasons, there will be a good deal of diversity in skirt lengths. The skirt that reaches about five or six inches below the knees seems to be liked best by those who have straight slender figures and trim legs and ankles.

Parisian designers know that the mode cannot be made alone for this type. As one expresses it, "There is a hemline for every figure. The woman whose hips are large must have fullness—else when she sits down she will no longer be beautiful. If the legs and ankles are not chic—I look to the length."

A dress with an overskirt often gives an illusion of shortness, as in the model in the center. An uneven hemline is also smart and is good for women who do not wear short dresses well. For evening frocks of transparent material, with slip several inches shorter than the dress itself, are much used. This hemline is also a happy well dressed in an extremely short compromise for one who does not feel costume.

Your Birthday
Is it this week?

October 11-17

If your birthday is this week, you are very fond of luxury, beauty, and physical comforts. You love excitement and are irresistibly attracted toward the busiest throng. You are competent and level-headed, extremely conscientious in the performance of your duties.

You readily acquire knowledge, and are a natural leader of mankind, holding your power over your fellow men by sheer force of unassailable right. Your great love for humanity makes you very approachable—and regardless of your position in life, you are never too busy to hear and sympathize with other people's troubles.

Persons born under these dates are inclined to be very sensitive, permitting trifling affairs to cause them deep distress. Very easily hurt, they often imagine that they are not valued at their true worth. They are nervous and excitable, and at such times, blame all who may be around them for their nervous state.

Women born under these dates are very domestic. They are also fine librarians, teachers, music instructors, and actresses. The men are very shrewd—and are excellent business men—successful in any undertaking. They also make fine lawyers, judges, interpreters, and orators.

School Days/
Is your boy's eyesight normal?

Bob's parents knew the tremendous importance of normal eyesight to children. So they had Bob's eyes examined. The slight defect revealed was corrected easily (and in time), by the eyeglasses prescribed.

Hence Bob's quick answer—his better report cards.

Wellsworth Windsor spectacles are sturdy and good looking.
