Savage South Sea Isle Provides Startlingly Colorful Setting For Victor Fleming Film

Brilliant Cast, Headed by Tom Moore, Pauline Starke, Wallace Beery and Raymond Hatton, Is Striking Feature of Picture Made on Elaborate Scale

It lives up to its title! That's the one big, outstandingly important fact about "Adventure"—it lives up to its title!

Adventure! The dictionary defines it as: "the encountering of risks; a bold undertaking, in which hazards are to be met and the issue hangs upon unforeseen events." Magnify old Noah Webster's definition with all the superlatives you can think of and still you will come short of getting an accurate impression of this Paramount picture.

"Adventure" is crammed so full of adventurous stuff and genuine thrills, tense drama and suspense, unlimited action and heart appeal, that it must be seen to be thoroughly appreciated. The story was adapted to the screen by A. P. Younger and L. G. Rigby and is based upon Jack London's greatest dramatic novel of the same name.

Considered from an artistic standpoint, there is little use in trying to describe the beautiful photography and natural, picturesque settings. The photoplay was filmed on an island in the Pacific and realistically recreates the South Sea atmosphere and backgrounds.

The cast is a notable one and brings together a group of experienced and well-liked players, each of whom has an acting role worthy of his individual talent and ability.

IN HONOR OF A GREAT EVENT

Birthdays are always important occasions, especially if one is very young or very old. Before long The Youth's Companion will be a hundred years old, and the event is going to be made a memorable one for The Companion's many friends. So, although the date is not until April 16, 1927, preparations will begin with 1926.

In honor of its birthday The Companion will come to you next year at the new low price of $2. It will be dressed in its party clothes, with new cover designs, enlarged illustrations, new brilliantly clear type, and over 200 pages more than last year. It will contain 9 book-length serial stories, fascinating mystery stories, tales of adventure on land and sea, the new "Make-It and Do-It" Pages, radio, games, books and puzzles, interesting special articles and the ever-delightful Children's Page. Don't miss this great year of The Youth's Companion; subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1926, and
2. The remaining issues of 1925.
3. Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions.

Both publications, only $2.50.

Your Birthday
Is it this week?

November 1 to 7

If your birthday is this week you have an exceedingly progressive mind. You are always busy with new ideas and inventive thoughts.

You have a very positive and inflexible will. Your pertinacity, grit and determination impel you to Herculean achievements in overcoming difficulties. You are secretive, and seldom divulge your plans—not because you object to having them known, but because you fear some one else might make use of them.

You are not demonstrative, and never show the affection you feel. Because of your cold, distant manner, even your most intimate friends never entirely understand you, and you do not readily make friends.

The women are brilliant conversationalists, and make fine musicians, writers, elocutionists and actresses.

The men become chemists, house and floral decorators and musicians.

A RED-LETTER DAY
IN BASEBALL

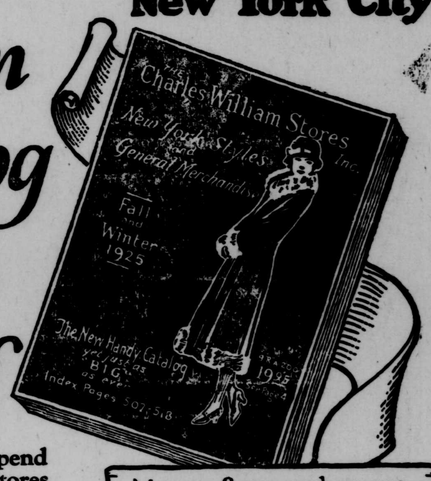

Thursday, October 15th, will go down in base ball history, as a red-letter day . The Pittsburg "Pirates" with everything going against them in the first few innings, were undaunted—they felt they would win—they worked to win—they WON the World Series by masterful playing—and COURAGE.

Let this be an example of COURAGE to YOU in life.
