MORALS RELIGION AND COMMON SENSE

YOUR TOWN

I am your town. Make of me what you will—I shall reflect YOU as clearly as a mirror throws back a candle beam.

If I am pleasing to the eye of the stranger within my gates; if I am such a sight as, having been seen he will remember me all his days as a thing of beauty, the credit is yours.

Ambition and opportunity call some of my sons and daughters to high casts and mighty privileges, to my greater honor and to my good repute in far places, but it is not chiefly to these who are my strength. My strength is in those who remain, who are content with what I can offer them, and with what they can offer me. It was the greatest of all Romans who said: "Better to be first in a little Iberian village than second in Rome."

I am more than wood and brick and stone—more even than flesh and blood—I am the composit soul of all who call me Home.

I AM YOUR TOWN.

Eastern Shore Happenings

Chestertown, Md., Nov. 20—Yesterday and today presented busy scenes at the home of H. Stockton Startt, when thousands of pounds of fine young turkeys and guineas were purchased for city buyers from the farmers of this section at 45 cents a pound dry picked, which is an advance of 7 cents over the price last year, and close to the price being paid for squab turkeys, thousands of which have been bought in Chestertown and Millington during the month at the fancy prices of 50 and 60 cents a pound.

Mr. Startt states that scarcely in the history of the industry in the county has there been such a large crop of turkeys in Kent county.

Crisfield, Md., Nov. 20—A series of ten robberies within the past few weeks of stores in the lower business section of Crisfield have, it is said, aroused the merchants to the imperative need of an airing of the local Police Department. The latest thefts occurred early Friday morning when the grocery store of A. D. Nelson & Sons was entered and a combination of steel file which was used for records of accounts and a safe was taken through a front window of the store. There was only $15 in the cast department, but the robbers got away with all records of accounts, which can not be duplicated.

Entrance was secured by breaking a large front windsow. After leaving this building it is thought the robbers proceeded to raid the confectionery store of D. Saltz and Company, which is in the next block. Again a front window was smashed and the robbers, evidently looking for cash only, chiseled the combination from the safe. Clarence Owens, who occupies an apartment above the store, was awakened by the hammering and interrupted the thieves about the time they were ready to work on the inner safe door. They made their escape, but the safe was badly damaged.

Other recent store robberies were those of the A. R. Harsey Company, when approximately $1,200 worth of clothing was stolen; Kirk Saltz, robbed of $500 from a safe; Samuel Crandell, store entered twice and clothing taken confectionery store of H. G. Mears, robbed twice. Thomas Shargo and Lenox Wharton suffered smaller robberies.

It is indicated that the merchants will demand of the local government efficient and adequate police protection for their properties. It has been said since the recent robberies that the night policemen are frequently in some remote part of the town. It is thought that an investigation of the Police Department will result.

No arrests have been made and the local officials apparently have no clue. It is thought that one gang of robbers is responsible for all the robberies. Finger-prints were left on the glass in the Saltz building and it is probable that other finger-prints can be secured from the Saltz safe.

Most of the merchants have lights burning all night in their stores, which are extinguished when the robbers enter.

Salisbury, Md., Nov. 20—Legislation to give Maryland municipalities authority to license automobiles may be sought by the Mayor and City Council of Salisbury at the next session of the General Assembly.

Efforts of the city to impose a tax upon automobile owners have utterly failed to accomplish that purpose, according to city treasurer, E. J. C. Parsons, and a system of licensing motor cars appears to be the only solution open to the city if revenue is to be derived from this source, Mayor Parker and the Council have been informed.

Captain Frances B. Carter, commander of Company K, First Infantry, Maryland National Guard, will requst Centreville Lodge of Masons to take charge of the corner-stone laying of the new $50,000 armory, when the contractor is ready for this portion of the structure to be put in place.

This announcement was made this week, in explanation of the reason there were no ceremonies to mark the breaking of ground as had been originally contemplated.

In all probability Governor Albert C. Ritchie, General Milton A. Reckord and other state officials will be in Centreville to witness the cornerstone laying by Centreville Masons, and to participate in any exercises that may be arranged following this event.

Bishop Charles Edward Locke, of the St. Paul, Mnn., M. E. Conference area will preside over the Wilmington M. E. Conference which will meet at Dover on March 24 next. Bishop Locke was assigned to the session by the board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church in session at Buffalo on Saturday. It is the first time he has been assigned to Wilmington Conference.

Bishop W. F. Thirkfield who presided over the conference session held in McCabe Memorial M. E. church, Wilmington, last spring, will preside over the Atlanta Conference which will meet at Gainesville, Ga., on December 9 and also over the Delaware Conference which meets at Chester, Pa., on April 7.

Bishop W. F. McDowell, of the Washington Area will preside at the Wyoming conference at Forty Fort, Wyo., on April 7. He usually presides over the Wilmington conference but the Board of Bishops made a general shift of bishops sectionally for next year's conferences.

Monday morning next week will mark the dawn of a new era for East Main street, Salisbury, and at that time hundreds of Salisbury folk will change their day's itinerary so as to include one or more visitations to that section. Postmaster R. Harry Phillips announced Sat. that the occupation of Salisbury's magnificent $105,000 post-office plant will have been completed by that time and Uncle Sam's mail business, locally, transacted from that site.

Last Saturday patrons of that office found in their boxes in the Masonic Temple, where the government post office has been located for just two decades, a notice informing them that keys now held to the old boxes will be exchanged at the new government building for new keys which will open boxes which will then be assigned them.

The new brick and terra cotta building is of attractive design and constructed to meet every need of the postal service. The first floor contains a spacious lobby, postmaster's office, workrooms, carriers' department, money order and registry departments, general delivery and parcel post sections, lock boxes, numbering 404, receiving and loading room, etc. All of the furniture and equipment is new and of the most modern type.

In the basement are offices for the U. S. Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue stationed there, C. Emmett Adams, Postoffice Inspector, Inspector J. E. Sentman, of this district, and a civil service examining room. Rest rooms, showers, lavatories, etc., are also located in the basement.

Townsend, Del., Nov. 19—The eastern section of this town was probably saved from destruction today when a fire which broke out in the old Dickington hotel was confined to that building through the aid of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The town is without a water supply and when it was seen the building was doomed, Station Agent Richard Hodgson, communicated with the superintendent of the Delaware division and he was ordered to flag the next train and use the engine in aiding to extinguish the fire.

An express was stopped and the water in the tender pumped on the blazing hotel. When the water was exhausted the engine made three trips to Middletown, six miles away and replenished the supply. The loss was estimated at $10,000.

Long & Short, who conduct a modern ladies store in Milford, entertained their employes at supper at the Hotel Rigbie, at Laurel on Wednesday evening of last week. Employes of the firm from the Laurel and the Federalsburg stores were also entertained at the dinner. During the course of the evening addresses were made by the three stores representatives and the employees were entertained with an appropriate program. The party was part of the twentieth anniversary festivities which Long & Short are just starting. The employees from the Milford store report that the party at the Laurel hotel was very enjoyable and that the managers of the three stores of the company more than outdid themselves in making the affair an enjoyable one for them.

Ice Costs Less In The Fall And Winter Months

Ice melts slowly in cool weather, the ice man makes fewer stops at your door, consequently, your Fall and Winter ice costs will be less than one-half of your Summer costs.

Housewives, who use ice the year around, would not willingly do without it. Ice Surely does save food and work.

The temperature in your home is not low enough at any time to keep food pure without refrigeration.

Fresh foods are wholesome, nutritious and appetizing, these foods if exposed to warm air for a few hours not only lose most of their flavor, but may possibly become dangerous to health.

There is a real danger in relying upon the cellar or back porch. You will find as much satisfaction from the use of ice now, and through the coming months as at any time of the year. It is worth to you many times its little cost.

Is your boy's eyesight normal?

Bob's parents knew the tremendous importance of normal eyesight to children. So they had Bob's eyes examined. The slight defect revealed was corrected easily (and in time), by the eyeglasses prescribed.

Hence Bob's quick answer—his better report cards.
