MORALS RELIGION AND COMMON SENSE

It is hard to see how a great man can be an atheist. Without the sustaining influence of faith in a Divine Power, we could have little faith in ourselves. We need to feel that behind us is intelligence and love. Doubters do not achieve; skeptics do not contribute; cynics do not create. Faith is the great motive power, and no man realizes his full possibilities unless he has the deep conviction that life is ertenally important, and that his work, well done, is a part of an unending plan.

—President Coolidge, in addresses Boy Scouts

Eastern Shore Happenings

Three Queen Anne's countains won prizes in the recent subscription contest run by the Philadelphia Record, and when the relative population of a territory of the size of that county is taken into consideration, congratulations are due the winners, Woolsy J. Massey, of Price, H. L. Andrews, of Queen Anne, and W. H. Bishop, of Queenstown, were the winners. Mr. Massey's prize was a new Dodge coupe, Mr. Andrews a new Overland while Mr. Bishop won a cash prize of $100.

Elkton, Dec. 25—Owners of the hotel at Conowingo, this county, looking forward to a great influx of people when work is started on the building of the proposed immense hydro-electric plant across the Susquehanna river there, have awarded a contract to Benjamin Sargable, of Darlington, to build 70 additional rooms to the property.

It is generally conceded that work will be started on the Conowingo plant the coming spring. All obstacles have practically been removed.

Chestertown, Md., Dec. 25—In a pre-holiday raid here Wednesday night Sheriff William Goodman and his deputy, Harry Archibald, rounded up a dozen members of an alleged bootlegging gang, said to have been dispensing moonshine liquor with lavish hand among the colored population during December.

Information leading to the arrest was furnished the sheriff by three colored detectives who had been operating for several weeks. These detectives made companions of the suspects, lived among them and worked with them, using legitimate means to secure the necessary information before giving their names to the sheriff.

Those arrested were all negroes, five of them women. Sheriff Goodman confiscated between seven and eight gallons of moonshine liquor found in the homes of several of those arrested, the bulk of which was gotten from the home of Bill Waters, who has served a number of terms in the House of Correction. Three other men implicated escaped, but their names are known. All are being held for a preliminary hearing.

The mystery of the disappearance of potatoes, chickens, ducks, and turkeys, from near Hebron and around Columbia, a few miles west of Laurel was solved last week through the arrest of John Fleetwood of Laurel, Del.

Farmers around Hebron and Columbia have been missing white potatoes and poultry for the past three weeks and have been unable to find where they were going. Last Wednesday night the thieves were at work on the farm of John S. Hearne just across the Delaware line, and just as they were leaving with their load of stolen produce, Mr. Hearne got near enough to get their car number. It was reported to the Delmar police and Constable Hearne of that town came here Friday and traced the car to the home of John Fleetwood. Considerable difficulty was experienced in making the arrest but with the aid of local police he was finally placed under arrest and taken to Delmar where he was turned over to the Maryland authorities. At a hearing Friday before next term of court.

On his way to the Salisbury jail with the Maryland state police, Fleetwood is alleged to have confessed to various robberies he had committed. While he was being taken from the car into Salisbury jail, Fleetwood broke loose from the cop and escaped and at this writing had not been captured.

Denwood Culver of Hebron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Culver, met with a painful accident while crossing the Rock Hall ferry with a sudden jar catching the young man between two trucks. He was rushed to the University hospital in Baltimore and it was found that his collar bone was dislocated and his shoulder and breast bruised. He returned home Friday and is getting along nicely.

New York, Dec. 28—The probable disposition of the large estate left by [illegible], editor and publisher who died yesterday of peritonitis has aroused wide interest.

His fortune is variously estimated at from $20,000,000 to $40,000,000 including his two newspapers in New York, the Sun and the Telegram. He has no direct heirs.

Whether Mr. Munsey like Victor F. Lawson, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, who died last August willed his large estate to friends, employees, and institutions as well as to relatives, is a subject of speculation.

Contractors who have been in charge of the extensive improvements at the Dover Water and Light plant have finished their work and have turned the new machinery and equipment over to city officials. Nominal supervision will be maintained for a time by representatives of the contractors but plant officials are now in full charge.

The improvements represent an outlay of approximately $50,000 and are expected to save taxpayers that sum many times over in reduced lighting and power costs. City Council at its last meeting, approved some reductions and further cuts are promised .

The improvements include the installation of a new general electric 500-kilowatt turbine, condensing equipment furnished by the C. H. Wheeler Manufacturing Company, Philadelphia, and new spray pond.

The installation of the new machinery will double the capacity of the plant and is expected to effect a coal saving of approximately 50 per cent at the plant.

Laurel, Del., Dec. 29—The sweet potato storage house, with 600 baskets of potatoes, owned by William B. Gordy, was destroyed by fire, of unknown origin, this afternoon. The loss is $2,500.

Centreville, Dec. 28—Narrowly escaping drowning yesterday morning when his boat capsized in Wye river, off the farm of Henry McClyment, James E. Thompson, a Queenstown business man, was compelled to paddle his way to safety with his hands while lying on the bottom of the overturned craft.

Thompson and James F. Boyles were ducking from a blind on the McClyment shore when they crippled a whiffler, and Mr. Thompson took the boat out on the river for the injured fowl. When he reached for the bird the boat turned over, throwing him into the water. He managed to crawl on the bottom of the overturned craft and, under the direction of Boyles, paddled his way to shallow water.

A new charter for the city of Salisbury will be asked for when the next General Assembly of Maryland meets. This was definitely decided upon by the "City Fathers" at their regular meeting Monday night. Mayor L. Thomas Parker will name the body immediately. The municipality, now operating under a charter authorized in 1886 has, in recent years, found itsself handicapped in many ways as changed conditions presented problems not taken care of in the Charter nearly 40 years ago, although that document has been several times amended.

Well Prepared

Is your boy's eyesight normal?

Bob's parents knew the tremendous importance of normal eyesight to children. So they had Bob's eyes examined. The slight defect revealed was corrected easily (and in time), by the eyeglasses prescribed.

Hence Bob's quick answer—his better report cards.

Wellsworth Windsor spectacles are sturdy and good looking.
