EATING HARD COAL. HEAVIEST BABY LAMB. POODLES. 2 AND 4 LEGS. BURBANK AN INFIDEL?

Failure of another effort to end the coal strike brings coal so much nearer to control by the Government. Coal under ground is owned by individuals only through public consent. Everything that represents absolute public necessity (air, water, coal, railroads) must naturally be subject to public control.

Mine owners are said by union leaders to be forcing a practical lockout. The unions brought trouble on themselves in the beginning by defiant refusal of arbitration.

Unions and owners are working here as they have done in England toward Government control of mines. It will come in England before long. It will come here eventually. The people will not forever consent to shiver, while "capital and labor" fight about the terms on which the people may have heat.

The heaviest new born lamb on record arrives on the farm of Robert Magee in Michigan, weighing fourteen pounds.

The new born cub of a 500 pound bear weighs only a few ounces, and the mother is usually sound asleep, in late Winter, when her baby is born.

Why should nature inflict on delicate human mothers infants weighing twelve pounds and more? An Italian doctor believes that the right diet for the mother would make the new baby much lighter and stronger and childbirth much easier.

The fattest, heaviest baby is not necessarily the best.

Profits on the Pennsylvania Railroad for one year reach a "peak," for all time, more than $100,000,000.

This, and increasing railroad profits everywhere, should gain a friendly hearing and better pay for railroad workers.

To raise the pay of millions of men would cost hundreds of millions a year. But that is the scale we are now geared up to, nationally, and the hundreds of millions would be poured back into general prosperity, the railroads getting their share.

Husbands are gradually losing their ancient "rights." The marriage service no longer makes woman promise to obey. English law no longer permits a man to beat his wife "with a stick no bigger around than his thumb." A Russian husband no longer beats his wife gently on their marriage day to prove that he is boss. And now a wife gets her divorce with cash alimony simply because the husband, during the past eight years, has had a way of calling her in the morning by throwing cold water on her as she lay in bed at 6. An occasional, not frequent beating, added to the effect of the cold water.

An expert says poodles and other lap dogs "go mad" oftener than dogs that take more exercise. Another expert, friendly to poodles, says that isn't so. One thing IS certain, HUMAN poodles, petted and pampered by inherited money, go mad, or lose their balance much more quickly than those that work for a living. See the divorce and "high class" crime news in your daily newspapers.

Luther Burbank in a San Francisco pulpit gives more information concerning his views on a Supreme Being. He says he is an infidel, but believes in God. Of course he doesn't KNOW that he is an infidel, and he can't tell whether he believes in God or not. "Belief" is a word used commonly to describe a mental habit.

As to the existence of a Supreme Being, the belief of individuals, from Thales to the Mahatma Gandhi, is about as important as the beliefs of so many hoptoads speculating on the nature, power and purposes of a passing airplane. We don't even know positively that we exist, and haven't the vaguest idea how or WHY we exist. Our abstract speculations are foolish, but we can't help trying.

About Your Health

Things You Should Know

by John Joseph Gaines, M. D.

"COLITIS"

Most every one knows the location and general outline of the great sewer of the body. Colitis is defined as "any disturbance of the secretion or innervation in the colon." It is not necessarily inflammatory. Displacements or sagging of the colon may be a partial cause, and overloading contributes to the ugly process. Protracted errors of diet are probably the most real source, and these errors, if known, may be avoided. I have seen chronic colitis intensified by surgical operations in the abdomen, leaving the patient wondering why she didn't get entirely well—the operator apparently overlooking the complication. And, too much, even of the right kind of nourishment, will keep colitis active.

Diet is all that may be suggested here. Swallow no fibers, skins, or seeds. Fibers may be animal or vegetable; tough meats, fried steaks, celery, radish, or hard, raw fruits,—abandon them. Skins of grapes, baked apples, prunes, cherries, tomatoes—all harmful. Seeds of blackberries, raspberries, and pies made of those berries—avoid them. It is well also, to exclude dressings, such as are served with baked fowl, and sharp, peppery condiments. Do not use irritating cathartics, unless you would keep the smouldering fire burning. Use boiled or stewed meats and vegetables; stewed fruits are better than raw fruits, though citrous fruit-juices are advisable for the nerves. Soft cereal with cream, butter and toast are excellent. Eggs too. Brown bread and not white bread, should be eaten. If you are over-stout, cut your dietary in half until you reduce. Buttermilk is most vaulable—sweet milk is objectionable, unless ordered by your physician. The treatment of colitis may involve many months.
