MORALS RELIGION AND COMMON SENSE

SAYINGS OF LINCOLN

Let none falter who thinks he is right.

It is no pleasure to me to triumph over any one.

I do not impune the motives of any one opposed to me.

I have not willingly planted a thorn in any man's bosom.

All that I am, all that I hope to be, I owe to my mother.

There is no grievance that is a fit object of redress by mob law.

Suspicion and jealousy never did help any man in any situation.

God must like common people or he would not have made so many of them.

For thirty years I have been a temperance man and I am too old to change now.

When you have written a wrathful letter, put it in the stove

A private soldier has as much right to justice as a major general.

Faith in God is indispensible to successful statesmanship.

Eastern Shore Happenings

The first of five new bridges being placed over the Chesapeake- Delaware canal—a new steel lift bridge at St. Georges which has been undergoing construction since September, 1924, was opened to public traffic last Monday.

The bridge is 175 feet long over the lift span and it lifts to a height of 140 feet above the water level, five feet higher than the Brooklyn Bridge.

Seth Gibbons and Dan Wolfe, who were formerly lock tenders at the canal at Delaware City and Chesapeake City, have been engaged to operate the bridge and from the center tower will operate the mechanism which raises the span to let vessels pass under it. The span weighs about 1000 tons.

The new bridge at Chesapeake City will be completed late in April or early in May, it is expected. Another span being constructed at Summit will be ready for use about June 1, and another at Delaware City some time in July. These bridges are being constructed by the Government. A fifth bridge to span the canal near Kirkwood is being built by the Pennsylvania Railroad. The five bridges when completed will represent a cost of about $1,500,000.

Berlin, Md., March 3.—For the first time in years Berlin is in line for city primaries for nomination of a mayor, following the definite announcement by the present executive, Ernest E. Burbage, of Berlin, that he would not become a candidate for reelection, coupled with the fact that it has been rumored that a woman may enter the race in the general election in May.

Georgetown, Del., March 5.—Threatening letters have been received by some members of the jury that convicted Harry Butler, negro, who was hanged here February 26 for assaulting a 12-year-old white girl.

Sheriff Johnson, Deputy Sheriff Coy, Deputy Clerk of the Peace O. S. Wilson, and Postmaster J. F. Hudson, who had a part in the trial of Butler, have also been threatened.

Postoffice authorities are investigating the letters which were sent from Philadelphia and Wilmington and written in red ink.

They not only make threats aainst those to whom they are addressed but also threaten the burning of the court house and jail. The jurors and county officials are admonished to "repent of their sins" because of their part in the Butler case.

"Blood and death," a card received by Postmaster Hudson, says: "Property will be burned in your city. More blood armed band of colored people."

Plans are rapidly being completed for the entertainment of the fifty-eighth annual session of the Wilmington Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church which will open in Wesley church, Dover, on Wednesday, the twenty-fourth of March. The ministers and laymen will remain in Dover until the following Monday. Former Judge William A. Powell, who is chairman of the conference committee of Wesley church, has completed the work of assigning the ministers and laymen to homes during their stay here and the list will be made public next week.

Bishop W. F. McDowell of Washington will preside over the sessions of the conference and deliver several sermons during the week. Bishop McDowell presided over the conference when it met here several years ao.

One interesting feature of the program will be a pilgrimage to Barrett's Chapel, familiarly known as the "Cradle of Methodism." A special service will be held there by the ministers and laymen of the conference.

Chstertown, Md., March 7.—County Farm Bureau officials and County Agent H. B. Derrick have begun a campaign to improve the sheep-raising industry in Kent County, to increase the annual revenue to the farmer. It has been estimated that the annual revenue from wool and lambs is $80,000, and the officials believe this amount can be greatly increased by judicious care in raising the right kind of stock and in the preparation of the product for selected markets.

The total number of sheep on the farms in the county is 8,000, and the annual crop of wool is 36,327 pounds. The total income from lambs is estimated at $65,000.

Farm Bureau officials believe this income can be greatly increased every year through the purchase of purebred rams, proper care of lambs and the correct wrapping of fleece.

Salisbury, Md., March 4.—The report of chemists is awaited today to solve the mystery of the death of Asbury Gravenor, 57, night engineer at the plant of the Citizens Gas company here. The chemists will determine whether Gravenor was asphyxiated by gas or committed suicide by poison, physicians who were called to attend Gravenor say.

A negro workman who arrived at the gas plant early yesterday morning heard moans from the engine rooms. Summoning another negro they found Gravenor in agony and partly stripped of his clothing lying in a corner of the room. Dr. George W. Todd was summoned and ordered the man taken to the Peninsula General Hospital. Efforts of Dr. Todd and Dr. H. A. Barnes to revive him were unsuccessful.

Hundreds of Queen Anne's county friends of Major Harry C. Butler, World War veteran, commander of the Second Battallion of the First Maryland Infantry, and prominent Fifth District farmer, will doubtless be surprised ao learn that he was one of the witnesses of the $16,000 Western Maryland Dairy hold-up in Baltimore.

Major Butler stepped from the front door of a drug-store at the corner of the block just as the bandits made their getaway, leaving Patrolman Patrick J. Durkin and Emanuel I. Berlin, dairy messenger, prostrate on the street with bullet wounds.

The Quen Anne's man was startled by the firing of pistols and rushed to the doorway in time to witness the escape of the bandits. With others who were attracted by the shots he rushed to the injured men and helped render first aid until physicians arrived.
