Thursday Morning May 3 1877

THE Orphans' Court of Caroline county will meet on Tuesday 8th day of May, 1877.

The Editor's Hash.

—May parties are in season now.

—Near Salisbury, garden peas are a foot high on a level.

—See change in route of Chester River Steamboat Company.

—About 30,000 shad are caught weekly in the Delaware river.

—Spring chickens are selling at 20 cents per pound in this market.

—Thirty thousand herring were caught at a single haul on Elk river last week.

—The Salisbury Advertiser boasts of having the largest shoe store on the Peninsula.

—Butter, which has been very scarce is more plentiful, and sells at 30 cents per pound.

—Six prisoners, convicted at the recent term of Somerset county Court, were sent to the Penitentiary last week.

—A steam tug passed this place on Monday on her way up the river to secure a lot of piling to be conveyed to some of our northern cities.

—A new Court House is about to be constructed at Salisbury. No public buildings have been erected since Wicomico became a county.

—A neat and durable fence is being constructed around the Episcopal Church yard at Princess Anne, which when when completed it is said will cost $500.

—The Newark, Del., Grange recently received 366 bushels of the Early Rose variety of potatoes from Canada. They cost delivered at Newark $1.65 per bushel.

—Hydrophobia is developed among the hogs on Mr. Bailey's farm, near Ruthsburg, Queen Anne's county. Several of the animals have died from the disease.

—The managers of the Rehoboth Beach Camp Meeting Association have fixed on July 19th as the time for the commencement of the camp meeting at Rehoboth.

—An election for Commissioners of the town of Denton, will be held at the Court House, on Monday next. Polls open at 2 o'clock, P. M. and close at 5.

—It is cruel for parents to let their children suffer with coughs and colds, which in so many cases lead to consumption and premature death. Give Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

—The new jail at Salisbury is completed, or so nearly so, that it is ready for those who violate the law. Last Thursday two colored men became inmates of its walls on the charge of arson.

—Miss Regina D. Pritchett will return from Philadelphia to-morrow and have her Spring stock of millinery, fancy goods and notions open for inspection on Saturday.—Ladies do not fail to call and see them.

—The Havre de Grace Republican says the run of fish is now excellent. The largest haul recently took 4,000 shad and 10,000 herrings. The latter fish are in large schools at Havre de Grace.

—Horse trading and a general traffic in stock have been the chief attractions at Henderson, for several months past, but probabilities are looking up to something better and more important for the future.

—Last week a horse fell down an old well in Church Hill. The fall didn't hurt him, but his owner, a Mr. Anderson, broke his neck in hauling him out. The rope was put over his head instead of around his body.

—Rev. Daniel E. Reese, D. D., the last of four Reverend brothers, died at St. Michael's last week. He was a distinguished minister of the gospel in the Maryland Annual Conference of the M. P. Church, and was in the 68 year of his age.

—The iron steamer being built at Harlan & Hollingworth's ship yard, Wilmington, for the Chester River Steamboat Company, is about ready for launching. This steamer will be completed and placed on her route about the first of August.

—The annual conference of the A. M. E. Church, which closed its session in Cambridge last week made the appointments in this and the adjoining counties as follows:—Denton, Thomas M. Cole—Easton, Americus Woodhouse—Cambridge, A. M. Green—Chestertown, W. H. Chambers.

—At the recent session of the Grand Jury for Kent county they refused to recommend liquor license for a scope of country fifteen miles in extent in the lower part of that county, bordering on the Chesapeake Bay. What they need in Kent is a local option law, similar in its effects to the one we have here. Then all further trouble will be at an end.

—The upper portion of this county was visited with a hail storm on Monday night last, and on Tuesday morning quantities of hail stones were to be seen along the sides of fences until about 9 o'clock. Fires and overcoats on Tuesday became indispensable articles of comfort to our citizens. No damage was done to the fruit crop that we have learned of.

—On Thursday last the morning train on the Md. & Del. railroad when about 3 miles from Easton went through a bridge, the wood work of which had been burned away, causing delay in the trains and doing much damage to the locomotive, tender and baggage car. In consequence of this accident no mails were received on the line of the road until the next day.

—The Maryland State Temperance Convention to be held in Baltimore on Tuesday and Wednesday, will consider a number of interesting questions, including the local option movement, the reform movement, and other subjects. Dr. Jewett, Francis Murphy, Joshua Bailey, Judge Pearre and others will take part in the sessions, which will be held at the Academy of Music.

—Zion M. E. Church, near Milton, was burned on Wednesday night. It had not been used for several years, the congregation worshipping in another edifice.

—Mr. Wm. H. Councill, editor of the Easton Gazette, has been re-appointed Post Master at Easton. He has already held the office for the last twelve years and has made a most obliging and efficient public officer. We congratulate our brother editor upon his success.

—The Denton Cornet Band will not visit Federalsburg on Thursday evening as stated last week. There seems to be a hitch in some of their plans which prevents their complying with their promise. At some future time they propose to make good their promise, of which due notice will be given.

—Some sneak thief, not having the fear of the moral law before his eyes, entered the residence of Rev. Arthur W. Milby, at Harrington last week, and stole from a tin box a fifty dollar note. The box contained three fifty dollar notes and a five dollar bill, but the thief was very considerate to take but one of the bills. He left his card on which he wrote, "I take with me the front door key so that I shall have less trouble when I call again."

—The Denton Cornet Band will repeat their entertainment on Saturday evening next, at the Court House in this place.—This entertainment is for the benefit of the Band, and they entertain the hope that the citizens of this community will give them liberal encouragement, and aid them in their efforts to instruct, amuse and please them.

—John W. Cheesum & Co. at Easton have just returned from Philadelphia and Baltimore with a heavy stock of Carpetings, Mattings, Cloths Cassemeres, Ladies Dress Goods, Notions, Prints, Domestic Goods, Groceries, &c., all of which they are offering at very low prices. Fuller particulars by advertisement will be given next week. In the mean time they would like to receive an early call from their friends and all in want of cheap goods.

—The general prospect for a large peach crop is flattering. In some few localities the crop has been damaged but the injury is not of that extent as will be likely to affect the general crop. There will be an abundance for every purpose and to meet all demands. The season is now so far advanced that all fears of injury by freezing weather may be abandoned and the crop may be considered as out of danger. The trees are laden with young fruit and a full crop may be anticipated.

—Rogers, Peet & Co.'s. strong ground. This firm whose establishments are to be found at 184 West Baltimore St., Baltimore; 487 Broadway, N. Y., and 404 Fulton St., Brooklyn, have recently taken the public by storm in the announcement that they repudiate high rates. They give no credit—they have no losses—sustain no high prices. This is what the people want and will enable Rogers, Peet & Co. to retain the suffrages of their customers.

—O'Brian's circus and menagerie exhibited at Easton on Monday last. It is said to have been the largest show that ever visited that place. Thousands of people from the surrounding country were present and some of the oldest inhabitants say they never saw so many people in Easton before. But few of our people knew anything of the show and we purposely avoided giving it any notice, believing our people had no spare funds to invest in the concern.

—This season has been the most unprofitable to Choptank fishermen of all that has ever preceeded it. From three to thirty shad and from fifty to five hundred a day has been about the success attending haul seines. There is not a fisherman perhaps on the river, from its source to its mouth, that will even pay the cost of the seine, to say nothing of other expenses.—The scarcity has caused higher prices than ever before—shad selling throughout the season at 40 cents per pair and herring at $1.25 per hundred. The season may be regarded as now closed, although some of our fishermen will continue to trouble the water until the 20th inst., when the law will put a stop to the business.

Christianity a Living Inherency.

[The following is a brief abstract from a sermon preached at the M. E. Church in Denton, Sunday evening, April 22d, 1877, by Rev. J. E. Smith, minister in charge for Denton Circuit.]

It is surprising to note in how many instances the life and character of our Lord was mistaken during His ministry among men. The distortion of a character so simple, pure and holy into one totally at variance with every proper notion of the Divine must have originated, not in the indefiniteness or complexity of that character, but in the false opinions, hopes, ambitions and loves of men—men who mistook His mission to be that of an earthly conqueror did so—not because that was the true indication of His life, but because that was their supreme hope concerning Him, and because they would love more to see Him bearing this than any other character.

As the divine character and life was perverted by the misjudgment of men, and that judgment the index of their individual hopes, ambitions and loves, so the christianity which he left in the world,—so simple, pure and holy, has been misjudged and distorted into all manner of hidious shapes by the carnal apprehensions, unsanctified hopes and ungodly ambitions of unrenewed men; and many of these are his professed followers.

The truth of these statements will appear as we further consider the various opinions held at this day concerning the nature of the religion of Christ, its seat in, and its effects upon the life of man. One class hold their religion as a precious relic; an heirloom handed down from former generations; they believe thus and so, because their fathers believed it; we hear of no special conviction of right; no spiritual awakening; no conscious acceptance.—They are like the Jews of old who, "having Abraham to their father," care for nothing else in the religious line than to know they are his descendants.

Another class seem to hold that the reality of religion consists in external performances; the obsevance of a set of monotonous rites and ceremonies; they know of no struggles with innate depravity; no particular regard for moral living; no anxiety for, or deep yearning after heart purity. For them it is enough to have the outside of the cup and platter clean while within remain the soul defiling dregs of sin and the gall of bitterness.

Another class have a religion all in Christ, without respect to any work of grace in themselves; a faith entirely objective, ignoring the subjective, respects a Saviour without or external to the man, but not within him, believing that the efficacy of the atonement consists in the perfect work of Christ as presented before the Father's throne in our behalf, without considering that the same Christ has also a work in us to accomplish—that of cleansing, purifying, saving within us.

However men may differ upon other points, certainly this fact is established by the Scripture, that the religion of Christ is an inherency, and not only an inherency, but a living inherency, an active, vigorous, animating, forceful principle within us, causing us to will and to do, of His good pleasure. What means the Psalmist when he exclaims, "create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me"? Who can tangle into unmeaningness the unequivocal words of the divine Teacher himself, when he says, "the kingdom of God is within you"? Or who can mistake the condition of the everlasting covenant, voiced to the world in accents so clear, and ringing in the far off ages, and emphasized by the inspired unction of the Apostolic Church, "a new heart also will I give you, and a new spirit will I put within you, and I will take away the stony heart out of your flesh." This one fact was settled forever when the weary traveler said to the woman at the well, "the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water springing up unto everlasting life."

Religion is a great causative principle implanted in the human heart. Its correcting and directing influences are intended to reach the ultimate of life, an indwelling power which animates and energizes the whole being of it possessor. The difference between this and other kinds, is the difference between the statue and a living person. The statue has splendid proportions, carved with exactest skill, wrought with wondrous patience and most exquisite taste—a magnificent figure. But there is no life there. The figure is motionless; no speaking gesture; no animated look; its lips are motionless; no light of life beams from the marble eyes; it is lifeless, brainless, soulless; fit only to be admired of man. What we want is a heart that can throb and thrill with holy emotion—a brain that can burn with holy thought—a countenance that can glow with holy light, and from its eye needs to leap the fires of religious ardor, all of which is the result of an all-pervading life force. Religion must not be put on; it must come out. As the wings of a bird are the outcome of the natural life; so must our religious life and character be the outgrowth from the divine implantation. If we may, let us suppose the case of a wingless creature, let us attach wings, and to the wings add feathers and, having completed its artificial equipage, toss it into the air, bid it fly, and the result is, it falls to the ground an inanimate thing, incapable of flight—why? Because its wings are merely attachments which receive no life from the body. But take the eaglet captured from his own mountain peak, and releasing him from the hands of imprisonment restore him to his freedom; spreading his broad wings he rises from earth toward the clouds; at every stroke of his mighty pinion he rises higher and higher, until we hear his last shrill shriek of triumph as he wheels around his own native summit. So religion is the result of an inherent power, and as a spiritual life comes as naturally from that power, as the wings and plumage of a bird are the result of its nature and life.—A mere practiced, professional, put on christianity is utterly powerless to lift the soul which is permeated by this inherent principle and power of divinity, and rise superior to every earthly care and sorrow, piercing the darkest cloud of human distress, turning its eye undimed upon the splendors of the eternal throne soars away to the home of the saints and God.

"I want a principle within,
Of jealous, Godly fear;
A sensibility of sin,—
A pain to feel it near:
O may the least omission pain
My will-instructed soul,
And drive me to the blood again,
Which makes the wounded whole."

Federalsburg Items.

The "big show" passed through here Sunday morning, affording the children, (as well as the older people,) an opportunity to see the "elephant," camels and pretty show wagons.

The colored people are going Maying today, they expect to have a procession, with martial music—crown the "Queen of May," have a big supper, an exhibition, and I don't know what all.

Postmaster Allen has put up a "bran new" sign over the Post office door. The Democrats said last fall before the election, if the Republicans succeeded there would be no change of the firm—"it would be the same old firm with new sign," and our P. M. don't want the Democrats to yarn.

T. A. White, boot & shoemaker, has removed his stock and fixtures into his new store house on Main street.

The junior preacher for this Circuit is expected here this week. He is from New York. Can't give his name. Now "let us have peace."

PRESIDENT HAYES's uncle, Austin Birchard, of Fayetteville, Vt., has declined an invitation to visit Washington on account of weakness and the death of his daughter at Ashtabula, and it is thought that the President will visit him next summer.

False Impression.

It is generally supposed by a certain class of citizens, who are not practical or experienced, that Dyspepsia can not invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER has never, to our knowledge failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomach, Costiveness, Sick Headache, palpitation of the Heart, low spirits, &c., &c. Out of 30,000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from Druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular Size 75 cents. For sale by Dr. G. M. Fisher and Chas. Stevens, Denton, Md., and J. H. Douglass, Preston, Md.

Good Advice.

Now is the time of year for Pneumonia, Lung Fever, &c. Every family should have a bottle of BOSCHEE'S GERMAN SYRUP. Don't allow for one moment that cough to take hold of your child, your family or yourself. Consumption, Asthma, Pneumonia, Croup, Hemorrhages, and other fatal diseases may set in. Although it is true GERMAN SYRUP is curing thousands of these dreaded diseases, yet it is much better to have it at hand when three doses will cure you. One Bottle will last your whole family a winter and keep you safe from danger. If you are consumptive, do not rest until you have tried this remedy. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Sold by your Druggists, Dr. G. M. Fisher and Chas. Stevens, Denton, Md., and J. H. Douglass, Preston, Md.

A TIME-HONORED SPECIFIC.—The long and successful career of Dr. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL, as contrasted with the speedy collapse of nostrums devoid of efficacy which have from time to time been puffed into a brief notoriety during the twenty odd years that this celebrated medicine has been sold, affords a proof that the American public continues to repose its confidence in deserving articles only. The PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL has long been recognized as the leading specific for Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Diptheria, and all other diseases of the breathing organs. It is, moreover, a certain, speedy, and safe botanic remedy for Dyspepsia, Liver Disorders, Scrofulous Affections, Urinary Troubles, Gravel, Dropsy, Debility, Constipation, and Female Complaints. Constantly accumulating evidence of an unimpeachable character establishes the fact that it not only entirely eradicates the diseases to which it is adapted, but also that its action is remarkably prompt and thorough. The crucial test of experience has demonstrated its reliability in every particular. Sold by all druggists. Principal Depot, No. 916 Filbert Street, Philadelphia. [nov23-4w.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it, acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health.

This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it, never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it, from their knowledge of its effects.
