American Union

Thursday Morning June 7, 1877.

THE Orphans' Court of Caroline county will meet on Tuesday 12th day of June, 1877.

The Editor's Hash.

—Samuel Jenny, the Quaker philantropist and author is dead.

—Personal and particular—have you paid your subscription to the Union.

—About 126,000 bushels of corn left the port of Baltimore last Saturday.

—Spring chickens are selling at Salisbury at 12 cents per pound. Here they are selling at 20 cents.

—A little grand child of a Mr. Kennady, at Port Deposit, fell into a spring on Saturday and was drowned.

—Why should the newspapers make such ado about decoration day. Every day is decoration day with the ladies.

—At the May term of New Castle Court 50 applications for liquor license were granted and 35 refused.

—Judging from the best information to be obtained, the apple crop will be a small one on this Peninsula this season.

—Gen E. B. Tyler, the newly appointed postmaster of Baltimore city, entered upon the duties of his office on Friday last.

—It costs 23 cents a day for the maintenance of each inmate in the New Castle, Del., almshouse.

—Thos. Higgin's farm house, near Viena, Dorchester county, was totally consumed by fire last week. Loss $2,500.

—Up to Saturday last the shipment of strawberries over the Delaware railroad, amounted to 229 car loads.

—The Maryland penitentiary contains at present 794 convicts. This is the largest number ever confined within its walls at one time.

—The Court at its late session at Easton, decided that the sale of "Bitters," unless sold for medical purposes, is a violation of ths Local Option Law.

—Rev. Elijah Crouch, a local minister of the M. E. Church, died at his residence in Dover, on Thursday last, in the 71st year of his age.

—Do not stupefy your baby with opium or morphia mixtures, but use Dr. Bull's baby syrup which is always safe and reliable and never disappoints.

—Two visiting Friends preached at the Friends Meeting House, near this place, on Saturday morning last. Their discourses were feeling, interesting and instructive.

—A Cecil county man is the owner of a cow that gives six gallons of good milk per day. So says the Cecil Whig, but we do not vouch for the truth of the statement.

—The members of Union Gamp Ground, near Camden, at a special meeting, have decided to hold a camp meeting on the old camping ground, to commence August 1st.

—A Delaware exchange says the season at Ocean City will open on the 50th inst., by the re-opening of the Atlantic Hotel.—Will our cotemporary inform us at what time the 50th inst. occurs?

—Gen. E. B. Tyler, Baltimore's new postmaster, has cut off the official head of two of the highest and best officers that held positions in that institution, viz: J.B. Askew and J. D. Taylor.

—Mr. E. W. Williamson, one of the best and most prosperous farmers of our county and an adept in the berry business, will accept the thanks of the editor for a basket of delicious strawberries.

—Don't rob the birds nest. Leave them alone to take care of and rear their young, and in the future they will repay you in their songs of joyous gushing melody.—This is our advice to heartless boys.

—Peach meetings are becoming frequent. The next one will be held at Middletown to-morrow. The committee on transportation, heretofore appointed; will then report, and more crop estimates will be given.

—Thompson & Kersey, names as familias to the people of Caroline as household words, are still leading the trade at Easton. The specialty just now is in the article of kid gloves, but all other goods are down to bottom prices.

—Next Sunday, is what is known in the Methodist Church, as Children's Day. It will be observed as such at the M. E. Church in this place with appropriate services. A sermon, suitable to the occasion, will be preached in the morning by Rev. J. M. Collins.

—A fire occurred at Elkton on Monday morning last which destroyed three buildings, occupied by Mr. McKensey, dry goods merchants; J. E. Alexander, tinner; and Mrs. Henry, confectioner. The fire is supposed to have been the work of burglars.

—The Maryland Steamboat Company, ever watchful as to the wants of our people, have made arrangements during the peach season to open up a daily line to Baltimore, and should this fail to meet the wants of our peach growers, they have a steamer in reserve to supply that want.

—A committee of Felton charge of the M. E. Church has been appointed on the subject of camp meeting, who in connection with other official members of the church are to meet on Spring Branch Camp Ground to-morrow, to decide upon the propriety of holding a camp meeting and to fix upon the time.

—A very important case was decided last week in Talbot county Circuit Court. It was an appeal to the Court under the provisions of the assessment law, taxing the Easton and St. Michael's Building Association. The Court decided that the property, real and personal, owned by the corporation, is exempt from taxation, but that the unredeemed shares of stock held and owned by the individual members of the corporation, are liable to assessment and taxation.

—Mr. L. W. Williams, residing in the 4th District, sent to this office on Tuesday last a few stalks of wheat, known as the Long Island variety, which measured 51 inches in height. The heads measured 7 inches in length and it has as high as eight grains to the bar, and one head we counted, contained 22 bars to the single head, or 176 grains to a single stalk.

—As Wesley, (a son of Mr. Robert Jarrell,) was leaving Goldsboro' church on Sunday last, the bit divided at the horses' mouth, and the horse was soon in full run, but had not proceeded far when he came in contact with a carriage, which threw Mr. J. from the buggy. The horse kept up his speed until he arrived in Greensborough, a distance of four miles, where he took up in Mr. James Horsey's kitchen yard, with but little damage to either horse or buggy.

A Grand Festival,

Given by the ladies of Potter's Land, will be held in the Congregational Church on Thursday evening, June 7th, commencing at 7½ o'clock, P. M. Refreshments will be abundantly supplied by the ladies.

Representative Meeting.

The various congregations on Denton Circuit are requested to send three delegates each to a representative meeting to be held at the M. E. Parsonage in Denton, June 12th, at 2 o'clock, P. M., for the purpose of considering the advisability of holding a Circuit Camp this year.

J. E. SMITH, Pastor.

Lusus Naturae.

We were presented last week with a specimen of a singular freak in nature in the shape of twin pigs, by Mr. Wm. W. Medford, residing at Spring Mills, about three miles from this place. They were perfectly formed in all other respects, but were united together the entire length of the abdomen and in a position as if embracing each other. They were dead when received at this office.

The Profits of Whiskey.

A writer has made neat calculations arising from the profits of distilled whiskey, and here is the result:

It is said that 3½ gallons of whiskey is manufactured from a bushel of corn. By the addition of water and the poisonous drugs used by the trade in getting up the article generally sold by dealers, this 3½ gallons multiplies threefold, and becomes 10½ gallons, or 42 quarts. Allowing 25 drinks to the quart, this will supply 1,050 drinks, which, at 10 cents a drink, makes the sum of $105 for the original bushel of corn.

Lost a Foot.

Last Friday morning Mr Jas. A. Melvin, formerly of this county, a brakesman on the Delaware Railroad, met with a severe accident at Delmar by which he lost a foot. He was standing on a bumper and just in the act of removing a flag from its position when his foot was caught and mashed into a jelly. He was taken to Wilmington and Drs. Maull and Dunning amputated the foot near the instep. Mr. Melvin is a young man, a son of the late Solomon Melvin, of this county, and has been married but a few months.

The Peach Crop.

Although thousands and perhaps millions of young peaches have fallen from the trees in this county, there is still a quantity yet left sufficient for every purpose. What is now left will load down the trees until in many instances the branches will give way beneath the load. So prolific were the buds and the young fruit that nature was compelled to unload herself of the surplus; hence the size and quality of the fruit which is left will be improved and will command better prices. No matter how good the quality of the fruit, prices must range low, as this season's crop may be regarded the heaviest ever grown on this Peninsula.

A Delightful and Pleasant Entertainment.

One of the most pleasant and delightful entertainments perhaps ever held in this county, came off at the residence of Mr. E. W. Williamson, on the Potter's Landing road, on Saturday evening last. The occasion of so large an assembly of the elite and sturdy citizens of the county was an invitation from Mr. Williamson and lady to their numerous friends including the Cornet Band of this place.

At an early hour the invited guests began to assemble and soon the spacious grounds surrounding the beautiful residence were alive with the presence of familiar forms, wearing bright and cheerful countenances. At 8 o'clock the numbers were considerably increased by the arrival of the Band, drawn by four prancing steeds, keeping step to the "Mechanic's Quick Step," which was rendered in good style and added additional interest to the occasion. An hour later, and in the home of Mr. Williamson, which is large and commodious, in the lawn and beneath the spreading branches of the shade trees, were to be seen neighbors and friends in social converse, smiling cheerfully and happy.

Mr. Williamson, his good lady and the other members of the household, who know how to entertain their friends and make them feel at home, were at their post to dispense good cheer and extend a hearty greeting to the company. It was none of those cold formal greetings, too often met with in the social circle, but the warm outgushings of friendly hearts that makes one delight to recall to memory its scenes and incidents when years have gone by on the tide of time.

While the halls and every available place in the spacious residence were alive with familiar forms and happiness reigned supreme within, outside, in the yard and lawn, which were beautifully lit up with transparencies representing prominent characters, could be seen friends young and old, enjoying the music of the Band without and the more gentle and soothing music of the piano touched by delicate lady fingers within.

But one of the most noted features of this entertainment, and one not to be forgotten, is the extensive tables spread in the lawn, covered in the most beautiful manner with floral decorations, and groaning beneath the weight of delicious cake, strawberries and cream. The table was spread beneath grape vine arbors, and here the hospitality of the family was generally dispensed to all in the most polite and attentive manner, until their wants were fully satisfied. From one hundred and fifty to two hundred persons were present, and so ample were the arrangements, that after all had partaken freely, quantities of cake and about a bushel of strawberries were left unconsumed.

There was nothing occurred to mar the happiness of the occasion. It was a season of pleasant enjoyment—a greeting of friend with friend, and a cultivation of those social qualities which go far to unite more closely the ties of friendship and good will toward each other. We hope to see more of these re-unions—where "friend holds fellowship with friend," and human hearts bind each in human sympathy—when each heart cords, touched by angel fingers, shall swell the chorus—"good will to man."

Strawberry Festival.

The Cornet Band of this town will hold a Strawberry Festival at the Court House, commencing to-morrow, Friday, at 2 o'clock, P. M., and to continue at night on Friday and Saturday afternoon and night. Cake, ice-cream and strawberries will be in abundance. The ladies have volunteered their assistance, and when fair hands are given in aid of any cause, there is no such word as fail. The lovers of good music, cake, ice-cream and strawberries, are expected to be present in force and contribute liberally to make this festival a success. Professor Scull, whose proficiency is unquestioned, will be present and lead the music.

For the Union.

The Minister.

To minister to the wants of a congregation, or community requires a brave or careles heart; if brave, the pastor must be as bold in duty as he is brave of heart, if careless, it is a matter of indifference to him what the the congregation or community think, and it is not my desire to say anything of the careless pastor.

It is of the brave earnest one I write, and weary indeed must be the task of such an one, for he is the target for every tongue and every eye in his circuit or parish.

If the pastor is bold in speech the timid ones of the flock fear that the influential graceless members will be offended; if he does not denounce the sins of the people in unmeasured terms then there is too much leniency, if he preaches against the shortcomings of all, then he is too harsh, if he happens to praise his members then he thinks too much of the saints and cares nothing for the sinner. If he does not visit each family of his congregation at least once a month, then he is accused of being proud, if by visiting the studies are neglected, then he is too fond of running about.

Should he and his family spend a few hours every day in innocent out door amusements, then the cries goes up that he had better attend to some of his pastoral duties, if he takes a keen interest in the moral political welfare of the State and nation, then the partizan to whom he may be opposed cries out with vehemence that he is not fit to be a minister of the gospel; if he jokes and chats freely with the sinner then saints hold up their hands in holy horror; if he is gay and cheerful then the sanctimonious raise the hue and cry that the calling is being defiled.

If he visits the wealthy oftener than he does the poor, then he is too fond of good living; if he should reverse the order, then the rest would cry out that he does not care for his standing and burdens those who are not able to hear it, and that he had better divide his time.

If he should insist that the people must live and do business as the Bible teaches, and that without just restitution their is no salvation, and should preach a few sermons on the venality and corruption, both of church and state, showing plainly how this miserable partizan spirit is ruining our whole social fabric, he might just as well explode a bomb shell in the Church, for it would have about the same effect, unless the thing was popular.

PAIGETTER.

Correspondence of the Union.

Editor American Union;

Dear Sir: We have thought proper to give you and your readers some account of a church festival held at Marydell on Saturday last. Perhaps you may hear from other sources, as to its merits, its pecuniary success, how much the people ate, sang and enjoyed themselves in various ways; but there was another feature connected with the occasion that struck us with more force than any of these, much as we love good things, and which we think demands attention—not only a passing remark of condemnation or regret, not only a short newspaper comment, but a practical consideration and rebuke—an official investigation and a bringing to grief, if posible, of parties who presume to outrage law, order, society and even the Church of Christ.—Prominent—very conspicuous among those present were several young men who we are told were from Henderson, Goldsboro', and other localities on the line of the railroad, who were very much under the influence of spirituous liquors. Passing the conduct of these young men, which every body knows could not be otherwise than rediculous to say the least, and saying nothing of their want of self-respect and the disgrace brought upon themselves; the question naturally arises now that "Local Option" prevails through out the county, where do they get their liquor? In answer to this inquiry we learn that it is currently believed that it is kept and sold by certain parties at or near Marydell, Henderson, Goldsborough and perhaps other places along the line of the railroad, and that it is furnished, or shipped secretly by the trains. That it is kept and sold in different places there can be no posible doubt, and the matter demands and should receive the attention and vigilence of every friend of law order and humanity in the detection of these miserable outlaws and the bringing them to justice. It is a mistake when the friends of prohibition think they have finished their work on the passage of a prohibitory law, or a Local Option law. It is one thing to get a law and another thing to apply and enforce it. In every community where it is suspected that liquor is kept and sold the citizens should call a meeting and form vigilence committes or constitute every man a committee to detect and ferret out evidence to convict the lawless culprits. The people of the county, by their untramelled suffrage, the highest gift to fremen, and the most potent means of giving expression to their wishes, have declared that the county shall be freed from the curse of the license system, and, as a consequence from rum. The license system conceived in hell and born of the Devil, is wicked enough, and the man who could engage in the business even under the sanction and sanctity of the law is wicked enough for any purpose the "Prince of the powers of darkness" has for him and more, but he who is lost to honor can do it; but what must be thought of the man who, without law, against the sanctity of the law, against the will of the people expressed by their voluntary suffrage—the people of the commonwealth of which he claims to be a citizen—what we say can be thought of the man who, under such circumstances will secretly, covertly, devlishly deal out the damning fluid to young men and make them drunk as a preliminary preparation and accomplishment to attend a church festival? No time should be lost, no pains should be spared to bring them to punishment and stop the traffic. Besides the more direct evils and wickedness growing out of this lawless traffic, these very parties that thus sell and drink illicitly and secretly will have the impudence to publicly use the fact that "liquor is sold and drank" as an argument against Local Option, and call it a failure. It is not a failure; in Queen Anne's, in the districts where it exists it is not a failure, it has accomplished all that the most sanguine could expect. Let a few of these lawless wretches be made an example of by bringing them to justice and they will find it is not a failure in Caroline. We hope these suggestions may have the effect to awaken interest in the matter, and that not only our churches and church festivals, but the entire county may speedily be freed from the curse and bane of intoxicating liquors.

Federalsburg Items.

Strawberries are plenty, and so far, prices have been remunerative. Our village is well represented in New York and Philadelphia by commission men. L. S. Davis in the former city and Kenney & Bro. and Williams & Mowbray in Philadelphia, all reliable firms.

Prof. W. B. Leighton, of Williamsport, Pa., lectured Saturday and Monday evenings on Astronomy, illustrating his lectures with Telescopic views of the different planets—also numerous scenes in the land of Palestine. The Proffessor is a fine lecturer, and his exhibitions are interesting and instructive to all classes.

The junior Preacher that came to this Circuit from New York has returned to his wife. The Stewards thought they could not find homes for two married men.

I learn that the junior Preacher on an adjoining circuit comes here to the mill occasionally—none better in the country I guess.

Goslin & Willey are selling a number of their fruit dryers.

D. O. P. Elliott is getting ready to enlarge and improve his residence on Main street.

Harris & Bro. have built a large porch in front of their new store.

Dr. Noble is having his property improved by the erection of a new porch in front of his dwelling.

Mr. Jehu Payne has opened a store on Main street, near the Depot. Some of the Baltimore merchants didn't seem to know how to spell Jehu for they marked the boxes "G. M. Payne." I suppose that will do for brevity.

A TIME-HONORED SPECIFIC.—The long and successful career of Dr. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL, as contrasted with the speedy collapse of nostrums devoid of efficacy which have from time to time been puffed into a brief notoriety during the twenty odd years that this celebrated medicine has been sold, affords a proof that the American public continues to repose its confidence in deserving articles only. The PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL has long been recognized as the leading specific for Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Diptheria, and all other diseases of the breathing organs. It is, moreover, a certain, speedy, and safe batonic remedy for Dyspepsia, Liver Disorders, Scrofulous Affections, Urinary Troubles, Gravel, Dropsy, Debility, Constipation, and Female Complaints. Constantly accumulating evidence of an unimpeachable character establishes the fact that it not only entirely eradicates the diseases to which it is adapted, but also that its action is remarkably prompt and thorough. The crucial test of experience has demonstrated its reliability in every particular. Sold by all druggists. Principal Depot, No. 916 Filbert Street, Philadelphia. [nov23-4w.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, and Consumption.

The reputation it has attained, in consequence of the marvellous cures it has produced during the last half century, is a sufficient assurance to the public that it will continue to realize the happiest results that can be desired. In almost every section of country there are persons, publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs, by its use. All who have tried it, acknowledge its superiority; and where its virtues are known, no one hesitates as to what medicine to employ to relieve the distress and suffering peculiar to pulmonary affections. CHERRY PECTORAL always affords instant relief, and performs rapid cures of the milder varieties of bronchial disorder, as well as the more formidable diseases of the lungs.

As a safeguard to children, amid the distressing diseases which beset the Throat and Chest of Childhood, it is invaluable; for, by its timely use, multitudes are rescued and restored to health.

This medicine gains friends at every trial, as the cures it is constantly producing are too remarkable to be forgotten. No family should be without it, and those who have once used it never will.

Eminent Physicians throughout the country prescribe it, and Clergymen often recommend it from their knowledge of its effects.
