LOCAL INTERESTS.

MINOR MATTERS.

—The first shad was caught on Steven's shore Monday. Several have been captured since.

—Bishop Lay preaches in Christ church on the evening of March 17th and morning and evening of the day following.

—We are very sorry to announce that fashion has decreed that the broad-brimmed hats of the ladies are to be larger than ever for spring and summer wear.

—Four sail vessels and a steamboat were at the wharves at Denton Bridge one day this week. It has been remarked that the appearance about the Bridge is getting more and more like Baltimore.

—While potatoes at 85 cents a peach basket causes farmers to smile who are so fortunate as to have them to sell. But is awful hard on those who have to buy. Potatoes at a penny apiece is a little steep.

—The time is approaching when the sentimental young man will sit on the piazza steps with his sentimental girl in the soft evening light, gush nonsense and swear he will accomplish impossible things.

—The young wife of Mr. Emmett Downes, of this place, died on Sunday of consumption. A few years ago she was brought over from Baltimore, a lovely bride. Her body was taken back there for interment on Monday.

—Mr. John Harris will make two trips daily to Ridgely after the 15th of this month, affording those below Ridgely on the Delaware & Chesapeake Railway opportunity to come to Denton by early train and return same day.

—Sheriff Cohee on Monday last took James Lewis, the negro boy who stole the bitters, over to the Maryland House of Correction for six months. Caroline county has heretofore had no representative among the prisoners of this institution: a little county pride gone.

—The Dorchester and Delaware railroad directors last week took steps for procuring another locomotive. It is expected that if the huckleberry crop is anything like, the receipts will be sufficient to secure lots of new things for the railroad.

—Methodist preachers will be scarce in our pulpits next Sunday. They are eating chicken, oysters and terrapins and having a general good time at their conferences, at Middletown and Baltimore. Full report of their doings in next week's JOURNAL.

—The bill before the Legislature authorizing the appointment and election of a treasurer of this county, and the borrowing of money and issuing bonds therefor, passed the Senate last Monday. It will doubtless become a law before the end of the session.

—The heirs of the late Samuel Hardesty, who some years since removed from the Eastern Shore of Maryland to Virginia, can get on the track to recover the property of which the said Hardesty died seized amounting to some $3,000, by applying to George T. Melvin, Denton, Md. tf

—The extra mail service for Denton, mentioned some weeks ago in the JOURNAL as having been asked for by our leading citizens, has been granted by the postoffice department at Washington, and after Wednesday next there will be two mails daily to and from Ridgely, connecting with the Delaware & Chesapeake Railway. Besides being a great convenience to our business men, it will no doubt increase travel to Denton by railroad, which has heretofore been very limited, there being no public conveyance to Denton from the early train. By the new arrangement a passenger can leave Baltimore on boat at 9 o'clock P. M. and take the train at Oxford or Easton, and reach Denton a little before 10 o'clock the following morning. It will also enable us to get Baltimore evening papers and other mail matter by steamer about five hours earlier than usual.

Personal Mention.

—Maj. Wm. E. Stewart was in town Tuesday.

—Miss Lila Hopkins, of Easton, and Miss May Pratt, of Dover, are visiting Miss May Chilton.

—Mr. William Stevens, clerk to the county commissioners, moved his family in town last week.

—Secretary Bird, of the Maryland Steamboat Company, paid Denton a visit on the last trip of the Ida.

—The Junior of the JOURNAL had a pleasant visit from Mr. John D. Urie, of Queen Anne's county, on Saturday last. His was an acquaintance made while at school and most highly esteemed. Since his graduation from Washington College last summer, he has traveled extensively through the south as agent for a large firm in Baltimore.

A Worthy Tribute.

In an obituary penned by a ministerial colleague the evangelical abilities of Rev. T. J. Prettyman, well known by many of our readers, who died last week, at Newark, Worcester county, Md., aged 35 years, are thus alluded to:

"In this special work his powers of endurance were perfectly wonderful. He has been known to preach, pray and sing for eight hours in succession, and the success that attended his labors was certainly wonderful. The seals to his ministry are more numerous, perhaps, than any of his brethen. His religious life was a flame of glory for his God. The few days of his illness were characterized by the climax of his joy being reached as he shouted and praised God day and night. It seemed as if the Home of his soul was in view of him so clearly that death was his greatest triumph. Well may it be said of him:

'Servant of God, well done,
Thy glorious warfare's past,
The battle's fought; the race is won,
And thou art first at last.'"

—There are 11 steam saw mills in and around Bridgeville.

The Wilson Damage Suit.

One night about two years ago a Mr. Wilson, when returning to his home in Milford, Del., from a visit in this county, broke through the bridge over the headwaters of the Choptank, near Goldsborough—horses, carriage, Mr. Wilson and his mother all went into the water. Mr. Wilson brought suit against the commissioners of Caroline county and the case was removed to Talbot, where a verdict of $1,000 damages was given. Soon after Mrs. Wilson concluded she ought to have something, and her case was taken up by Major Wm. E. Stewart and Mr. Geo. M. Russum, who alleged damages to the amount of $5,000, and suit was instituted in the United States Court in Baltimore last November. The county commissioners on Tuesday last were waited on by counsel for plaintiff who succeeded in effecting a compromise, by which the commissioners paid $625. All further proceedings in the matter are to be quashed. Damages, costs and altogether, this bridge breaking has cost the county about $3,000.

The Will of Mrs. Bourne Decided.

The contest growing out of the will of the late Mrs. M. A. Bourne, who was a native of Caroline county, and spent her summers at The Plains, a handsome estate on which she had erected magnificent buildings, has just been decided at Newport, R. I. The decedent was a widow when she married Mr. Bourne, of Boston, a wealthy bachelor. She had three daughters by her first marriage, one of whom, who died before her second marriage, was the mother of Allen Thorndike Rice, editor of the North American Review. The other daughters were bitterly opposed to the marriage, and they treated their step father most discourteously. Mr. Rice, however, entertained filial regard for Mr. Bourne, who frequently expressed a desire to advance the young man's interest. Mr. Bourne's will left his property to his wife, who in turn bequeathed to her grandson a sum equal to about that which she received from her second husband ($500,000), in addition to a third of the residue, which would have been his mother's share. When the will came up for probate it was opposed by the daughters through counsel, as Mrs. Bourne directed in her will that her sons-in-law should have no part in the management of the estate, as they were foreigners, a class she disliked. It is thought by many that they were instrumental in bringing about the opposition of the daughters. Judge Baker probated the will, and the usual forty days given to file a formal appeal have now just expired without an appeal having been filed. The result is that the contest is at an end, owing to default. One of the daughters who opposed the will is the Countess Riannelos.

Methodist Conferences.

MIDDLETOWN, DEL., March 8.—The Wilmington Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church opened this morning, when the Communion service was held, Bishop Hurst officiating, Presiding Elder Matlack and the Rev. W. L. S. Murray assisting. The roll-call showed nearly all the members present. Mr. Rigg was re-elected secretary unanimously, and the Rev. Messrs. Nelson, Cleaver and McMichol were elected assistants. Bishop Hurst made an opening address, in which he spoke of his early conversion, and alluded to the venerable Bishop Scott, of Odessa, as instrumental in the conversion of his mother.

The regular standing committees were then appointed, when Presiding Elder Matlack made his report in relation to the Wilmington District, where, he stated, the collections were larger than ever before. New parsonages were built at Charleston, Elk Neck, and Union. Many church edifices have been improved and revivals have generally resulted in great good. The Rev. M. A. Richards, of St. Paul's Church, Wilmington, presented a letter from J. M. Carter, surrendering his parchment as deacon and elder, he being no longer in accord, in practice, with the vows upon which they had been received into the Philadelphia Conference.

THE M. P. CONFERENCE.

The annual conference of the M. P. Church opened Wednesday in Broadway M. P. Church, Baltimore. The conference embraces Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia and a few charges in Pennsylvania and Virginia. In 1880 it contained 110 itinerant ministers, 60 unstationed preachers, 15,882 members, 218 churches; the value of church property was of $688,375. In addition to the 110 ministers about 80 lay delegates are entitled to seats in this conference. The First Methodist Protestant Church in this city of which Rev. Fred C. Klein is pastor, sent Wesley Dill as the lay delegate to represent it at the conference.

Codfish in Chesapeake Bay.

Mr. T. B. Ferguson, Maryland Fish Commissioner, has interested himself very much recently in efforts to introduce the codfish into the Chesapeake bay. By his connection with the United States fish commission Mr. Ferguson is enabled to secure many natural advantages in the important work of fish culture for the waters of his State which he would not be enabled otherwise to get. On the subject of codfish Mr. Francis W. Ryder, of Boston, Mass., writes to the United States fish commission as follows:

"In the summer of 1834 I was a boy on board the brig Cato, of Boston, a packet sailing between Boston and Baltimore, and commanded by Capt. Franklin Percival, of Barnstable, Cape Cod. We were on our passage from Boston to Baltimore, and became becalmed near Cape Charles, Smith's Island being in sight. We had three or four fish lines on board, which were brought on deck and baited with clean salt pork, having no other bait on board. The lines were lowered, and immediately each line had a fish, and on being hauled in we found them to be codfish, and for two hours we caught codfish as fast as we could lower and haul in our lines. We caught several hundred. A breeze sprang up and we filled away for the Chesapeake. The weather being very warm we dressed and split our fish and salted them in our chain-cable boxes, having no other means to keep them. We arrived at Baltimore the next day, and there was a great demand for our corned codfish. We had a great rush for them, and soon sold out. I have no doubt that codfish can be caught in the same locality to-day. It is but a short run from Norfolk, Va."

New Advertisements.

—Mr. Elias W. Williamson offers for sale plank for barge patterns, at the Pea Liquor mills.

—See advertisement of European Hotel, Easton, Md. Mr. Haddaway sets a first-class table and will serve meals at all hours. No doubt many of our Caroline friends visiting Easton will give him a call.

—J. E. Shannahan, of Ball, Shannahan & Grace, Easton, is spending the week in Philadelphia, and will return in a few days with a complete stock of Spring dry goods, to be advertised in these columns.

—The prospectuses of the Philadelphia Times and the New York Home Journal appear to-day.

—F. W. Maldeis 339 W. Balto. St., Baltimore, manufacturer and dealer of fine harness, whips, saddles, and first-class trunks, traveling bags, etc.

—Elizabeth Gifford and Isaac Amos, administrators of Stephen Gifford, deceased, advertise valuable personal property.

Journalistic.

The Salisbury Advertiser, one of our best exchanges, has been sold by Col. Lemuel Malone to Mr. Joseph A. Graham, a talented young lawyer, who will hereafter conduct it as a wide awake journal. In politics, as heretofore, the Advertiser will be Democratic.

Mr. Wm. T. Crosdale, formerly of Wilmington, Del., and whose experience and reputation as a journalist is well known, has assumed the editorial management and control of the Baltimore Gazette. The paper, as heretofore, will be Democratic. We are glad to note a very decided improvement under the new management. Mr. Colton, the former manager, though an accomplished journalist, failed to put the life into the Gazette that he is so amply able to do, on account of his bad health and his various business engagements. We publish an editorial from the Gazette of Wednesday which has the true ring.

Mr. Samuel S. Quinn has vacated the editorial chair of the Pocomoke Record and Gazette, a position which he had held since August, 1879. Mr. Quinn retains an interest in the paper, however, and promises still to labor for its success.

LANE.—On February 17th, Edith, daughter of James and Bettie Lane, aged 3 years, 6 months and 6 days.

PATTON.—Near Union Grove on the 2d inst., after a painful illness, Alexine, wife of James B. Patton and daughter of Berry D. Taylor.

'Tis sad to chronicle the death of any, much more so when the shafts of dissolution are directed against those who are in the springtime of life, and whose surroundings are such as to make a joyous and pleasant heritage. But such is life, and death, a relentless foe, strikes down whom he will; sparing neither high nor low; rich nor poor, young nor old, severing friendships and loves, only to be renewed in a better life beyond. For an example, the character of our sister and friend is one well worthy of our highest emulation. Having known her from her earliest childhood, we can see no place where there might have been an improvement. An intimate acquaintance, we know her home life was exceptionally good, making her husband one of the happiest and most contented men we have ever met, and her home an Eden of love, where its influence could both be seen and felt. A wife, she was her husband's joy. A mother, her kindness and tenderness will ever be remembered in her praise. A Christian, whose life gave evidence of the blessed influence of the grace of God in moulding a life that was blameless and pure. But alas! the brightest and best must be laid low; the strongest ties must be severed; the husband's heart made to bleed; the little child made motherless; the church despoiled of a useful member,—but in our loss Heaven has gained a bright and shining gem which shall glow and sparkle as a diadem in the crown of the Savior; and as we lay her in the tomb we look forward with gladness to the time when He shall come to gather his jewels, when we shall greet each other and be forever with the Lord.

Literature.

"The Class of '70" By Helena V. Morrison, published by D. Lothrop & Co., Boston, has been received. The price $1.25 It is a bright, sharp aggressive story, whose author understands the reforms which society needs, and which no doubt prompts this story. In many respects it is a good good for girls who have just completed their school days and want one good advice.

"To-days and Yesterday" By Carrie Adelaide Cook, published by D. Lothrop & Co., is a pleasant story from the pen of the author of "From June to June," which story no doubt is familiar to many of our lady readers. "To-days and Yesterdays" is very handsomely bound and will be mailed to any address upon receipt of price, $1.25, by the publishers.

"Oliver Ditson & Co., music publishers, Boston, Mass., have recently issued "Song Bells" a music book for public schools and other juvenile singing classes, to which is prefixed a complete and attractive elementary instructions. It is arranged by L. O. Emerson, whose name is on the title page of so many chose music books. "Cheerful Voices" is a similar collection of song, duets, trios, and sacred pieces, also arranged by Emerson. The price of each is 50 cents.

"The Natural Laws of Man, a Philosophical Catechism," by J. G. Spurzheim, M. D., is received from Fowler & Wells, 753 Broadway, New York. In his preface to the book the author says, "the following pages are written with a view to ascertain whether or not the human kind is susceptible of better treatment" It cost the eminent author a great deal of thought, and is a desirable book for those who believe that "The proper study of mankind is man." Price 50 cts. "Rime of the Ancient Mariner," a famous old poem by Coleredge, is also received from the same publishers; price, 25 cents.

"Ireland of To-day: The causes and aims of Irish Agitation. Illustrated. By M. F. Sullivan, with an introduction by Thomas Power O'Connor, M. P. J. C McCurdy & Co., Publishers, Philadelphia. To the great body of the people of the United States, whose reading about the Irish question has been almost necessarily confined to publications written from the English point of view, and who knew Ireland only as thus represented, we especially commend this work. The publishers, McCurdy & Co., want agents everywhere and it will no doubt be very popular among those who are friends to oppressed Irishmen. This book is widely endorsed by the American press, as a correct account of "Ireland of to-day." Advertisement appears elsewhere in to-day's paper.

DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC.

A combination of Protoxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark and Phosphorus in a palatable form. The only preparation of iron that will not blacken the teeth, so characteristic of other iron preparations.

GENTLEMEN: I have used DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC in my practice, and in an experience of twenty-five years in medicine, have never found anything to give the results that DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC does. In many cases of Nervous Prostration, Female Diseases, Dyspepsia, and an impoverished condition of the blood, this peerless remedy, has in my hands, made some wonderful cures. Cases that have baffled some of our most eminent physicians, have yielded to this great and incomparable remedy. I prescribe it in preference to any iron preparation made. In fact, such a compound as DR. HARTER'S IRON TONIC is a necessity in my practice. DR. ROBERT SAMUELS.

It gives color to the blood, natural healthful tone to the digestive organs and nervous system, making it applicable to General Debility, Loss of Appetite, Prostration of Vital Powers and Impotence.

Landreth's Extra Early Peas.

No pea in the world is earlier than Landreth's Celebrated Extra Early Pea, named and introduced by us in the year 1825. Matures in 45 days, and frequently in less time. Very luscious and prolific. We put them up in bags or packages of different sizes, suited to the wants of all customers, without extra charge. Each bag or package has our name printed on the outside. The bags are tied with wire and secured with a leaden seal, stamped with our name. We put them up in this way to protect our customers against unprincipled partier, who sell any kind of peas as Landreth's Extra Early, and the public is cautioned not to buy any peas, as Landreth's Extra Early, unless put up in that way.

Landreth's Rural Register and Almanac, Catalogues and Circulars, sent free of charge to all applicants.
