Baltimore Markets. There were increased receipts of Southern wheat, and the market was easier. Fultz's wheat sold at $1.05...

Peaches on the Wane. The Baltimore market was glutted with peaches last week and thousands were sold at 20 and 25 cents per box...

Now is the Time to Get Registered. It is incumbent upon every citizen to have his name registered. At the fall elections there will be some personal or partisan friend whom you will wish to honor with your vote but you will be unable to do so through the failure of the proper authorities to find your name upon the registration list...

A Freight Train Wrecked. By the spreading of the track on the Delaware and Chesapeake railroad at a point near and just above Goldsboro, the Jersey City freight on that road, bound north, was wrecked on Wednesday last, severely injuring the fireman and scattering peaches in profusion, with which fruit the six or six cars composing the train were loaded. The train had obtained the usual speed after leaving Goldsboro, when without the slightest warning the engine reeled and was instantly foundering on her side down the slight embankment, followed from the track by the tender and one car stored with peaches, which had been taken from the last station. The fireman, who occupied the cab with the engineer, received terrible flesh wounds about the hip, having been caught by the tender. His injuries are not serious, however. The engine was not hurt at all, and he immediately set to work to clear the fire from the furnace of the locomotive, to prevent an accident. The ground where the accident occurred is soft and the engine and boiler sustained but slight damage. But the first peach car burst like a shell and its contents were destroyed. The other cars were only slightly damaged, and the fruit was jostled and bruised.

Small-Pox in Caroline County. Dr. Wm. H. Downes last week was called to see Catherine Robinson, an old colored woman living about two miles north of Denton, near The Stakes, and he immediately pronounced her ailment small-pox. She had been sick about a week, and her family not knowing her disease, the treatment was of course unsuited to the case. The case had progressed beyond medical skill, and the old woman died on Tuesday morning last. This case has caused some alarm. It is supposed the disease was contracted from friends visiting at the house from Baltimore. The old woman was neat and cleanly in appearance, and it is probable she contracted the contagion in this way. The inmates of the house were her husband and three or four children, and the latter went about the neighborhood as usual. The family is as yet free from any sign of having small-pox, but it is feared the disease will appear among those whom the inmates of the infected house visited, including numerous children in the neighborhood. The alarm the circumstances attending the case have caused is natural, but the transmission of the disease from the old woman by persons from the infected house is pronounced improbable, because the pox had not then advanced far enough to be propagated by contagion.

Notice from our exchanges that other cases are reported in different parts of the State, particularly in Baltimore, where owing to insufficient means the health department has been unable to eradicate it, and it is stated on good authority there are nearly five hundred cases in East Baltimore. This is true, it foretells fearful ravages next winter. Small-pox appeared last week among Bohemians employed at the canning houses in the lower part of Harford county, causing much alarm among the people. Two cases are reported in Dorchester county, three miles from Cambridge. The Baltimore Sun reports Dr. Benson, health commissioner of Baltimore city, as saying that "there are other non-contagious diseases of which the death-rate is greater than in small-pox, but which create no alarm. Small-pox is not necessarily worse in winter than in summer, as is commonly supposed. In South America, where its ravages are more frequent than in this country, it is sometimes more widespread in summer than in winter. Its spreading, he says, does not depend on the season of the year, but on the amount of food of unvaccinated persons found along its course."

Atkinson Released. Young Atkinson, who was held in jail to await the result of his shooting Wm. Ringgold, was released Saturday night last, the amount of his bail bond being $3,500, with his father and mother and Benjamin Taylor as sureties. Ringgold has recovered from his terrible wound so far as to be entirely convalescent.

Church Notes. Rev. B. C. Samplugh will preach his farewell sermon to the Goldsboro congregation of the M. E. Church South, on Sunday afternoon next, at 3 o'clock. Subject: "There is no night in Heaven."

Sweet Dreams on a Fence Rail. The colored camp-meeting at Wye, which had been in progress for ten days or more, broke up on Monday last. The neighboring roads that led to and from the camp were thronged with colored folks returning to their homes on the day of the breaking up. All manner and fashions of vehicles were brought into use, and in many instances the borrowed horses and mules were overloaded and made to suffer. Many were not fortunate enough to obtain a conveyance of any kind and had to foot it. Our reporter saw one foot-weary and tired traveler who had placed himself lengthwise on the topmost rail of a worm fence, with his legs locked, soundly sleeping; dreaming perchance of the happy days in which he lives, when Christmas comes twice a year and in summer lasts almost two weeks. It may be his dreams were of the future when he expects to reach a land where he will have plenty of "later an' possum fat," without work, and where nothing will "discombobberate" his joys.

Don't forget to be registered. The September sitting affords the last opportunity.

Jottings. Peaches are on the home stretch. Mr. Edward Saulsbury has our thanks for that present of peaches. Judge Robinson and Edwin H. Brown, Esq., were in town Tuesday, having business with the Orphans' Court. The Mansion House hotel, Baltimore, so long and favorably known to our people for its home comforts, has been considerably improved.

The seasonable suggestion is made by a number of young men of town for the organization of a Yecum for weekly debates during the coming fall and winter evenings. Attention is called of those intending to exhibit at the Delaware State Fair that the date of closing entries in all departments is Sept. 15th. Send a list of entries to the Secretary at Dover, Del.

Mr. Robert Reichman is the proprietor of an active canning establishment at Potter's Landing. He employs from 100 to 150 hands, and his enterprise is an additional boom for the already prosperous place. Mr. Pascault, in building a pier at Dover Bridge, says the jar of the hammer in driving the piles killed young fish. A catfish about 5 inches, and six or eight young shad 2 1/2 inches long, were killed by the concussion and floated up on the water. George J. Meekins, Esq., treasurer of Dorchester county, spent Thursday and Friday with our county treasurer, Mr. Wm. Stevens, explaining the workings of Dorchester's financial system. Mr. Meekins has managed the financial affairs six or eight years, and perfected an approved system. Mr. Wilson M. Tyler has accepted the principalship of the Friends Female Seminary at Easton, New York, and left Denton Wednesday to enter upon the discharge of his new labor. Mr. Tyler commenced as a public school teacher in this county six or eight years ago, and his employments since have been marked by steady promotions.

The JOURNAL is indebted to Mr. Foster Green for the champion watermelon of the season. It weighed about fifty pounds. Mr. Green every year plants in watermelons three-quarters of an acre, from which he grows about 1,000, and supplies Denton and Greensboro three or four times a week. His melons are fine both as to size and taste, and he has no trouble in disposing of them at good prices.

A Word to Farmers. Take the advice of the renowned humorist, Artemus Ward, and "Never argue agin success," but be sure and buy the Empire Force Feed Grain and Fertilizer Drill of Emerson & Everts. They are the most successful drills ever introduced, although agents for other drills will tell you of the great superiority of theirs over them. Read what the Caroline county farmers think of them in the advertisement in our columns, and take no agent's word.—Ad. This public will be pleased to learn that the managers of the Delaware State Fair have made arrangements with Prof. Jackson, the celebrated pyrotechnist of Philadelphia, for a grand display of his fire works on one evening of the State Fair. The particular night will be announced hereafter. As there will be no extra charge to see the fire works, we advise our readers, who intend visiting the fair, to make their arrangements to be on hand when the display comes off. There will be trains both north and south after the illumination is over. The days now shorten at the rate of two minutes per day.

Married. REED—NOBLE.—On September 5th, at the Denton M. E. parsonage, by Rev. A. D. Davis, John B. Reed, of Sussex county, Del., and Rhoda Ann Noble of Caroline county.

Language Cannot Describe It. Mr. Robert Gough, book-keeper for Walker & Massey, who are timber dealers, recently said to our representative: "About one year ago I was taken with the genuine sciatica, employed the best physicians, but could not get above me for the moment. Finally I used St. Jacobs Oil and effected a complete cure."—Kennebec Reporter, Gardiner, Me.

TO THE FARMERS OF CAROLINE COUNTY. We desire to call your thoughtful attention to the superior merits of ORCHILLA GUANO AS A FERTILIZER FOR WHEAT & GRASS!

The advantages resulting from its use are not only an increased yield, but the permanent improvement of the soil from the abundant growth of grass which is sure to follow. ORCHILLA GUANO has been used extensively in Maryland, Pennsylvania and Virginia for several years, and from its abundant success every where, especially among the farmers of your section, we are justified in recommending it to you as being well adapted to your soils. No fertilizer offered for your use has such unrivaled success and continued popularity. Some of the largest and best farmers in these States use it almost exclusively. It is Successful because it is nature's own provision for her exhausted fields. It is Low Priced because we have none of the expense of manufacturers, and throughout its high grade of phosphates, have based our price upon its actual cost to import.

We refer you below to some of your people who have used it, and ask you to inquire of them as to its merits. Wooldbridge, Travers & Co., Importers, BALTIMORE, MD.

Read the following testimonials: WM. C. SATTERFIELD, Greensborough, Caroline county, Md., Aug. 2, 1882, says: "I have been using Orchilla Guano for fifteen years, largely. I have frequently tried other fertilizers, but fell back on Orchilla. I believe it a good, permanent improver of poor lands." JEREMIAH SPIGER, Taylor's Island, Dorchester county, Md., Aug. 2, 1882, says: "I used Orchilla Guano last fall on my wheat, on corn land, at the rate of 170 pounds to the acre, and the result was entirely satisfactory. The land yielded more bushels per acre than it ever did before. I expect to use it again this fall." THOS. H. TRAVERS, Taylor's Island, Dorchester county, Md., June 22, 1881, says: "Our harvest is upon us, and Orchilla is master of the situation. It has done splendid crops of wheat and grass are the results of its application in every instance that has come to my knowledge and observation. Its patrons are all well pleased, and the doubting Thomases all convinced of its wonderful power. I have personally inspected many fields of growing wheat and clover within the past week and they are simply grand. Along side of other fertilizers in the same fields, Orchilla plainly shows its superiority in grain and grass; the wheat being much heavier with larger and more perfectly developed heads, whilst the clover admits of no comparison whatsoever. I have upon my own premises the finest stand of clover that I have ever seen in my twenty-four years experience as a farmer, and that too on a field that never has been known to produce good clover before. This conviction is thoroughly that as a grass producer, Orchilla is absolutely without a rival. My wheat is all that I could reasonably expect from this soil and late fallowing, and I am well pleased with the result, — the stand of clover being worth more than the Guano cost. When the Thresher begins work, I confidently predict a more marked difference than is even now manifest." JESSE HUFFINGTON, of Eden Station, Somerset county, Md., July 31, 1882, says: "I have been using Orchilla Guano for a number of years. I have tried it carefully on my own land, and have seen results on my neighbor's lands also, and I assure you I cannot say enough in its praise. From the condition my land is in now, I am free to say that if I had given away the first crop I raised from Orchilla, I would have been well repaid by the improvement to my land, and the crops I got now. If I could get any fertilizer in the market at the same price as Orchilla, I would rather take Orchilla, because I have proved to my satisfaction that it is not only good for one crop but it is a permanent improver of the soil, and will ensure fine grass for years to come. I don't care how poor the land is, I believe Orchilla will bring it up. I have seen it do it. My neighbors think so, too, and there will be twice as much sold in this neighborhood this fall, as was last. I am sure I will have nothing else." JOHN M. SMITH, Sandy Spring, Montgomery county, Md., August 1, 1882, says: "I used Orchilla Guano on a barren hill-side, the soil having been so washed off as to leave the ground pretty much clear of signs of vegetation. It brought pretty fair crops in this neighborhood this fall, as was last. I am sure I will have nothing else." WASHINGTON D. WATERS, Goshen, Montgomery county, Md., July 3, 1882, says: "Orchilla seems to have given general satisfaction in this neighborhood. My wheat is better than I have had for a long time." JESSE W. DOWNS, Dayton, Howard county, Md., July 19, '82, says: "I sowed Orchilla last fall on wheat, by the side of two high-priced fertilizers, about 450 pounds of each per acre. I could see no difference at all in the wheat. I also sowed it on rye, and there was a fine crop. The farmers speak well of it. I shall use it again this fall." THEO. T. SPIGER, Taylor's Island, Dorchester county, Md., Aug. 7, 1882, says: "I applied Orchilla Guano to my wheat last fall at the rate of 250 pounds to the acre. The result was very satisfactory, the yield being much larger than the yield of any former year. The land was thin, and I consider the land paid me well. I believe it to be an excellent fertilizer, and shall use it again this fall." SOLOMON F. KIRKMAN, Taylor's Island, Dorchester county, Md., Aug. 9, '82, says: "I used Orchilla Guano last fall on wheat, and made about twenty-five bushels of wheat for every bushel seeded. It had also a striking effect on the young clover. I am much pleased with the result, and expect to use it this fall." E. L. GRIFFITH, Taylor's Island, Dorchester county, Md., Aug. 9, '82, says: "I used Orchilla Guano last fall on lumpy, sandy soil from which I never before reaped more than 8 or 9 bushels to one seed. This crop yielded 18 for 1. Part of the field was dressed with good compost, and while the straw there was a little heavier, the grain from the Orchilla was heavier and plumper. I am satisfied it paid me 100 per cent. I shall want considerable this fall for wheat seeding."
