A LIST of Representatives in the next House has been prepared by Mr. Edward McPherson, classifying them as follows: Democrats, 191; Republicans, 119; Readjusters, 6; Independents, 5; and Greenbackers, 2. The Democrats will have a majority of 59.

AT the reception tendered him Friday night in Philadelphia, Governor-elect Pattison paid, in his brief address, a touching tribute to his parents. "Whatever successes I may have been able to achive in this life," he said, "or whatever positions I have attained or may attain, I own to the best of fathers and the purest and most noble of mothers."

THE House Committee on Education and Labor has determined to report the Sherwin Bill favorably. It appropriates $10,000,000 annually for the next five years for the purpose of advancing public education. It is to be distributed among the States and Territories upon the ratio of illiteracy, and the bill allows an amount not exceeding 5 per cent. of the sum appropriated to any State or Territory to be expended in the education of teachers.

"NOT ONLY do our modern machine methods fail in producing accomplished leaders," says a editorial in the January CENTURY, "but they appear to have a steadily deteriorating effect upon the brains of the whole set of managers, great and little. The spoils-system makes a certain kind of success comparatively easy for unscrupulous men; but it would seem that the more experience a partisan manager has in the spoils system, the more unsafe does he become as a partisan manager."

ROBERT INGERSOLL, the avowed infidel and atheist and Republican orator, who did more than any Republican oratar in the last Pesidential canvass to elect James A. Garfield and Chester A. Arthur, is again doing service in the same way. He is rather early in the field; but we presume he thinks it is not too soon to work for the rotten hulk. He is for Gen. Sherman for the candidate of the Republican party in 1884. He promises a lively time of it in case Sherman should receive the nomination, and expresses the opinion that he would unite all the fragments of the party in one solid column.

It is said the day of the month on which the first snow storm falls indicates with unerring accuracy the number of snow storms we shall have during the winter. The first snow this year fell on the 26th of November, and unless the weather clerk should be wrong we are to have twenty-six snow-storms this winter. Again, it is a sign equally trustworthy that if the first snow-storm turns into rain, all the subsequent storms of the winter will do the same thing, and there will be little or no sleighing, but if the first snow-storm ends without rain, all its followers will do the same, and the merry jingle of bells will abound throughout the season. The first snow this time did not, we believe, end with rain. From which it follows that there is to be a cold winter with plenty of snow and good sleighing.

The Next Governor.

The following from the Political column of the Baltimore Weekly American is here re-produced:

Six months hence the canvass for the governorship will begin. The Republican papers have very little to say as yet as to the approaching contest, but the Democratic weeklies are discussing with animation who the man shall be to lead the Democratic party to victory or defeat next year. The Eastern Shore papers have already nailed to the mast the name of Mr. McKenny. The Democratic papers in the Western counties mention no names, but they draw life-size pictures of their favorities, and he who looks at the photographs can see at once whom the writer has in his mind's eye.

"The next Democratic candidate for the governship," said one of the most prominent of the Democrats in this city yesterday, "must be a new man—some one who has not been mixed up with the contentions in the party since 1879; who is not known either as a Whyte man, Gorman man or Hamilton man. Henry W. Archer would have been an excellent man to select, but the majority given in Harford against the regular nominee for chief judge makes it inexpedient to choose him as our standard-bearer. To select Hamilton would be simply to invite opposition from the Whyte and Gorman politicians, to say nothing of all those who look upon him as a disorganizer, and who have turned away from him since he became governor. Ordinarily, perhaps, it would not be well to take heed of these elements, but the Democratic party will next year need every vote it can get, and then it will not have muce to spare. It would be equally absurd to nominate any man who has been identified in the last judiciary contest either on the Independent or on the regular side. To nominate either for the governorship or mayorality any one who was prominent in either movement would be simply suicidal. Of the 23,000 votes given for the old judges, there are doubtless. 16,000 who could not be persuaded to vote for any but a regular nominee.

"But I am quite sure that there are six thousand Democrats in this city who are waiting for the opportunity to retaliate on the Independents. Let one of these be nominated, and you will find six thousand making a coalition with the Republicans. The latter will go with the side that offers them the best terms, and the regulars can make as good terms with them as the Independents. If Mayor Whyte or any of the prominent regulars will come out as candidates they may expect similar treatment from the Independents. No, the Democrats must select a new man. After surveying the field, I can find no better man for a candidate than McKenny, of Queen Anne. It is so long since the Eastern Shore has had a candidate for Governor before the people that she will demand the honor this time, and I should not be surprised to see another Eastern Shoreman—Henry Page of Somerset—as a candidate for attorney general. The comptroller and treasurer would then be selected from other sections of the State. Baltimore city must stand from under next year, and until such time as the squabbles in the party are allayed." These sentiments are shared by quite a number of Democrats who are identified with the factions. McKenny is one of the most successful farmers in this State, and though he has always been known as an anti-ring Democrat, he has never been mixed up in their quabbles.

Brother Colton, the political seer of the Annapolis Republican, doesn't seem to strain his vision in seeing the state of affairs pictured below, and the picture is given for the thoughtful contemplation of our readers:

It is almost beyond peradventure that there will be negro members of the next House of delegates of Maryland. They will be sent from Charles, Calvert, St. Mary's, Prince George and Anne Arundel counties. The logic of recent events in this regard is imperative, and we had better resolve to bend our necks to the coming black storm; for our colored man and brother "himself hath said it."

This a very unsavory dish to serve up before the recalcitrant Democrats of the above mentioned counties, who pooled their political issues at the recent election for Congressman with the Republican party. But the deduction is quite obvious. For if Sambo be such a portent integer in our political mud-puddle, he will assuredly, and very properly, demand his share of the mess of pottage.

Evidence of this natural determination on his part was abundantly shown at a recent meeting of him in Baltimore, when it was gravely mooted that there shall be, next November, a regularly nominated colored man far Governor, and another saddle-tinted candidate for Comptroller of the Treasury. At that election there is to be chosen a man learned in the law to be Attorney General. And there will be some slight difficulty in securing a colored gentleman of proper fitness and dimensions, unless Judge Phelp's colored bailiff—the Hon. William Taylor—shall in due time absorb enough legal knowledge in the Criminal Court room to enable him to accurately fill the chair now so ably occupied by Hon. Charles J. M. Gwinn.

It is probable that several years will elapse before Mayor Whyte may have to give place to a colored gentleman as Mayor of Baltimore. And there is no immediate imminence of the election of negros to the City Council. But "dost thou think because thou art virtuous there shall be no more cakes and ale?" Verily all these darkly colored matters and things may come upon us in the not remote future. And, certainly, they will come upon us if dissensions continue to prevail in the Democratic party to an extent sufficient to hand over the good old State of Maryland into the hands of the Republicans.

It is not at all too late to prevent the consummation of such catastrophe. Our Syte is soundly Democratice; but very many of the top-rails of our fences are down, and must be put up into their normal places—and right speedily, too;—if we would avoid the infliction of a negro Governor and Legislature.

THE EDISON SHIRT.—No little excitement has been caused in the world of washerwomen by the invention of the Edison shirt, which is attributed rightly or wrongly to the wizard of Menlo Park. By means of this wonderful Edison shirt, that venerable institution the laundry, seems doomed to a speedy extinction, and the last washerwoman and her tub will be deposited with other inutilities in the crowded cellars of the British Museum. The secret of the shirt is the material of which it is composed, which resembles linen most perfectly, and each shirt consist of 365 layers, which may be removed so as to provide a clean shirt daily for a year, on the principle of the almanacs one sees so often. A special shirt is made for leap year containing 366 layers. It is not stated whether layers are removed from the outside or inside; but one of the advantages claimed is that one can do a little coal-heaving in the morning and go to a ball in the evening. Already a deadly brow has been struk at washing by the paper collar, and more recently by the celluloid collar, but the best-regulated laundry cannot long survive the invention of the Edison shirt.

EGGED OUT OF CHURCH.—It is not often that we are called upon to chronicle the egging of a gentlemen out of church. But such a case happened on last Sunday night in thistown. An absent-minded gentleman found a hen's egg in his stable just before going to service. He put in his coat tail pocket and forgot it. He then went to church and sat down on it. He heard it craking as he crushed it and put his hand in his pocket to see what was there. When he stuck his hand in the crushed egg he made some remark to himself in the Sanscript language, got up and went home, but like a good church-goer he returned and attended the service. It was well for the decorum of the congreation that it was not known what ailed him when he left, else we expect that the choir would not have discharged its duties so acceptably.—Princess Anne Marylander.

LITERATURE.

The January number is the first issue of the new periodical, The Modern Age. The magazine is a handsome specimen of book making, and, considering the quantity of mater and the price, is a marvel of cheapness. The character of the magazine is principally eclectic. The first article is an amusing story entitled "The Black Poodle," by the author of the latest English success, "Vice Versa." This is followed by an enterprising sketch of a trip into Mexico, and a translation from the Paris Figaro of a pen picture of De Lesseps, containing some anecdotes new to our public. An article, by the Archbishep of Canterbury, suggested by Mr. Mozley's recently published Oxford reminiscences, gives the lamented divine's opinions on the Tractarian movement. The author of "Doctor Ben" appears in The Modern Age as the translator of an eighteen century French story, very quaint in its language, and portraying the life of the ancient Hebrews. The remaining pages of the magazige are occupied with comments and items under the general heads of "Sayings and Doings," "Books and Book Men," etc. It is really hard to see what profit there can be for the publisher in issuing The Modern Age at the low price of one dollar and sixty cents a year for subscribers.

The January number of Frank Leslie's Popular Monthly is of remarkable excellence, and is in all respects, what a magazine ought to be; the articles are exceedingly interesting and instructive; the stories, sketches, etc., highly entertaining; poems possess much merit, and the miscellany is most comprehensive. "The War Cloud in Europe" (fifteen illustrations); "Rachel" (eight); "Life in Old Florence" (six); "A Polynesian Kingdom" (twenty-one) and "A Bar of Iron" (with its nine illustrations) are by popular writers, and replete with interest and information. The fine serial "A Waited Sepulchre" is continued and there are short stories, sketches, adventure, etc., by M. T. Caldor, A. M. Douglass, M. F. Aymer, Mrs. M. A. Denison, etc. "William Penn and the Philadelphia Bi-Centenial" and "The Devil's Looking Glass" claim particular attention. Each number of this popular periodical contains 128 quarto pages and over 100 illustrations, together with a beautiful colored plate frontispiece. "Be Good Again," the title of the present one, is a gem. The price of a single copy is 25 cents; yearly subscriptions, $3, post paid. Address Mrs. Frank Leslie, Publisher, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

Frrank Leslie's Sunday Magazine for January, under the editorial charge of Rev. T. De Witt Talmage, commences the New Year brilliantly. It is a holiday number, and affords delightful, edifying reading. The first of a series of articles on "Religious Denominations in the United States" treats of "Methodism: Its Character and Attainments," by Rev Dr. Curry, D. D. The editor has an interesting article, "Who was Thomas Guard?" Paul Pastnor shows "What the Monks Did for Early English Literature"; other contributions are from the pens of Mrs. Jane G. Austin, O. M. Birrell, G. Mac Donald, LL. D., Edwin de Leon, etc., etc., and cousist of admirably written stories, essays, poems, etc. In the Home Pulpit is a discourse by Dr. Talmage, "The Popular Christ." Those interesting features are continued—"Personal Notes and Comments," "Editorial Comments," etc, and there is a large, instructive miscellany. Price, $3 a year; single copy, 25 cents, postpaid. Address, Mrs. Frank Leslie, 53, 55 and 57 Park Place, New York.

Farmers and others desiring a genteel, lucrative agency business, by which $5 to $20 a day can be earned, send address at once on postal, to H. C. Wilkinson & Co., 195 and 197 Fulton street, New York.

PATENTS

CAN I OBTAIN A PATENT?

Send a rough sketch or (if you can) a model of your invention to GEORGE E. LEMON, Washington, D. C., and a Preliminary Examination will be made of all United States patents of the same class of inventions and you will be advised whether or not a patent can be obtained.

FOR THIS PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION NO CHARGE IS MADE.

What will a Patent Cost?

If you are advised that your invention is patentable, send $20 to pay Government application fee of $15, and $5 for the drawings required by the Government. This is payable when application is made, and in all of the expense unless a patent is allowed. When allowed, the attorney's fee ($25) and the final Government fee ($30) is payable. Thus you know beforehand, for nothing, whether you are going to get a patent or not, and no attorney's fee is charged unless you do get a Patent. An attorney whose fee depends on his success in obtaining a Patent will not advise you that your invention is patentable, unless it really is patentable, so far as the best judgment can aid in determining the question: hence, you can rely on the advise given after a preliminary examination is had. Design Patents and the Registration of Labels, Trade Marks and Re-issues secured. Caveats prepared and filed. Applications in reversion of Rejected, Abandoned, or Forfeited Cases made. Very often valuable inventions are saved in these cases that would be lost. If you have undertaken to secure your own patent and failed, a skillful handling of the case may lead to success. Send me a written request addressed to the Commissioner of Patents that he recognize GEORGE E. LEMON, of Washington, D. C., as your attorney in the case, giving the title of the invention and about the date of filing your application. An examination and report will cost you nothing. Searches made for title to inventions, in fact any information relating to Patents promptly furnished. Copies of Patents mailed at the regular Government rates, (25c. each.) Remember this office has been in successful operation since 1865, and you therefore secure the benefits of experience, besides reference can be given to actual clients in almost every county in the U. S. Pamphlet relating to Patents free upon request.
