The centennial celebration of the organization of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of Maryland, will be held in Baltimore next May.

A YOUNG Baltimore woman, actuated by no matrimonial considerations, has renounced Methodism and made a formal profession of the Jewish faith.

PENNSYLVANIA journalism has obtained a valuable acquisition in Mr. Fayette Gibson, who takes hold of the St. Michaels Court. Welcome, Brother Gibson.

ONE of the Delaware State Senators a few days ago stated that he thought it would be better to take of the tax on marriages in the shape of a license, and put it on divorce. A good idea.

AN ORDER has been issued by the authorities of the Pennsylvania Railroad which allows persons one hundred and fifty pounds of baggage free, instead of one hundred pounds as heretofore.

THERE is nothing to indicate the value of the new five cent piece which was recently coined except a Y on one side, and the failure to make its denomination more distinct will without doubt cause much inconvenience, especially to foreigners not familiar with United States coinage.

NAVIGATING city streets in skiffs and canals boats is hardly a normal method of travel, but it seems to be the only thing to be done in some of the streets of Cincinnati. The flood has reached an unprecedented height at that place and has fairly to rise still higher.

The destruction of property will doubtless be very great and much privation will result to the poorer people located in the lower portions of the city. They are at present being fed from the barges which are run along the submerged streets, while some have been obliged to leave their homes entirely in order to save their lives.

THE BET PAID.—Last week we announced that a terrapin supper list by Mr. Wm. McKenny in a wager with James Brown, Esq., would be paid on Tuesday evening. On the evening appointed the trustees of the association and the directors of the bank (Mr. McKenny being prominently connected with both boards) assembled at that gentleman's residence in this place and enjoyed one of the finest suppers ever served in the town.

Nearing the End.

One of our exchanges says: With the 4th of March the present Congress will die.

The number of jobs that are crowding in is alarming. The whiskey tax bill has passed the Senate, and of course it will pass the House. Arthur may veto it, but no one dares to hope that he will.

More suspicious pension measures are now rapidly being pressed. Thousands of acres of public land are being asked for by another Northern railroad.

A multitude of faithful jobs are looming up, and the lobby is more thoroughly organized than since the famous days of the Credit Mobilier. It promises to be a costly Congress, and the mischief will be likely to perpetuate will last long beyond its terms.

Its acts will not be entitled to the highest respect as laws, when it is considered that in many States the people are gerrymandered out of an honest representative. Thus the majority is founded upon fraud and fraud violates all that comes from it, all that rests on it.

Some European politicians remark that all governments are founded upon fraud and supported by violence. This was the Hamiltonian theory, and the so-called Republican leaders square their work with that rule.

Archer for Governor.

Among the offices to be filled this fall that of Governor. For this position a number of prominent gentlemen have been named, and whilst any of them may possess the requisite ability and integrity to fill the office creditably, few of them, perhaps, could command the united support of the party, without which success is doubtful.

We have here in Hartford a gentleman who we think combines in himself all the elements required for a successful Democratic candidate for Governor—Hon. H. W. Archer. To natural abilities a dignified deportment, great energy, and what is more important than all besides, sterling honesty and Roman firmness of character.—Delair Argus.

A good story is told of a New Yorker who recently removed to Caroline county and commenced farming. A few days after he arrived one of his negro "help" went down to the creek and dug up about a peck of the manumass which he carried to the house and presented to his employer. The New Yorker asked him what they were, and he told him their name.

"Where did you get them?" queried the gentleman.

"I dug 'em down by the branch boss."

"Do they grow in the ground, Eph?"

"Oh boss they do, sah!"

The gentleman thought they were worth experimenting with, so he went out to a field adjoining the house, dug a trench and planted them about a foot apart. Going back to the house he explained to his wife that they were a new kind of vegetable and he wanted to see what kind of a crop they would make.—Lynn Star.

PAPER, in days not long past, used to be a type of firmness of fabric and of inability to stand wear and the weather. When compressed paper began to be substituted for wood, stone, and metals, it seemed to be a source of special pleasure for those who employed it to apply this material to the very uses for which it had formerly seemed wholly unfitness. Paper rowboats were among the earliest of these new uses, and they have already become too familiar to attract attention. Then came the desire for substituting paper for the great wear and strain was endured in iron machinery; and paper car wheels seemed the extreme in this direction. Yet now there is a movement to substitute paper rails for steel rails as being very durable, and less costly. Who shall say that paper may not one day give us drills and trip-hammers?

We have received from Mr. Joseph Harris, of Moreton Farm, Rochester, N. Y., his handsomely illustrated catalogue of field, garden and flower seeds. Mr. Harris is a practical farmer and raises these seeds himself. They have given general satisfaction. Besides farming and raising seeds, Mr. Harris is a noted breeder of Essex pigs. The catalogue will be sent free to all applicants.

The late storms have not been utilized in predicting the failure of the year's peach crop. In former seasons the total and irretrievable destruction of this crop was sometimes announced even in December, or by January at latest. Here we are at the middle of February, without any tidings of the annual ruin. There seems to be a lack of old-time enterprise somewhere.

IRON FOR FRUIT TREES.—Mr. Chas. W. Long, of Somerset county, Md., has tested the theory that iron driven into apple trees will promote fruit-bearing. He has a winter ground pippin which never held its fruit or bore heavily until some old horseshoes placed in the forks of the tree became imbedded in it. Now it bears abundantly, and the fruit is of the best quality.

Mr. F. CARROLL GOLDSBOROUGH, of Talbot county, has purchased of Mr. T. S. Cooper, of Coopersburg, Pa., his entire recent importation of Oxford-down sheep, about forty head, at the price paid being reported at $2,500.

A Fisher Caught.

"On my last trip to the States," said Mr. Arthur Fisher of this paper, "I caught a very bad cold which settled into a severe case of rheumatism. I did not know what to do for it, so I resolved to purchase St. Jacobs Oil for trial. Happy thought I began applying the Oil, and in two weeks was as well as ever.—Toronto (Canada) Globe.
