COLONEL INGERSOLL was recently asked his views on liquor legislation, when he expressed them in his peculiar, terse style: "If the Mississippi were filled with pure whiskey, if the banks were loaf sugar, and all the low grounds covered with mint, there would be no more drunkenness than there is to-day."

MR. GEORGE W. CURTIS, in a recent letter, says: "All who are interested in great public policies will naturally attach themselves to parties, but he is very foolish who makes a party a master instead of an agent."

A SALISBURY girl who is a firm believer in home rule, delivers herself as follows: "Some men are always talking about patronizing their own town. They are always harping on that theme, and yet, when they want to get a wife they must needs go abroad to find one. I do hope that some of these chaps that marry foreign women will get cheated."

THE Cumberland Allegian says George Colton is the Democratic Wandering Jew, having no abiding political habitation. He is always finding in a few months that Colton not only has a habitation, but resides in regal splendor, lord and master of the manor.

There is no man prominent in Maryland politics who occupies a more clearly defined position in public affairs, or is more pronounced in his purposes touching party matters than Mr. Colton. The Allegian is mistaken in the man.

MR. CHARLES C. FULTON, the proprietor of the Baltimore American, published a card in that paper Tuesday, announcing that he had conveyed the American property, for the use of his four children, to his son-in-law, General Felix Agnis, managing editor of that paper.

Six months ago, remarks the Washington Post, there was trouble in the Democratic mind in Delaware, and the Republicans began to count on that State as sure to go their way in the November election.

Acting on this decision, they routed the enemy. The happy Republicans in Maryland will in all human probability, be as badly disappointed as their Delaware brethren were.

A MOVEMENT has been inaugurated in Baltimore, which if carried along in the right spirit, will strengthen the Democratic party in Maryland and fit it for the performance of duty in the coming campaign.

The object of the organization is not to tear down or to build up any particular man, but that there should be a fair and untrammelled expression of the views of the great majority of the party.

A correspondent of the Baltimore Day, of whom that paper says "he is a gentleman widely known and esteemed in the community, and has filled many high positions of trust and honor in the Democratic party," says:

The apprehensions, therefore, of disaster to the Democracy this fall are strained and unnecessary. The divisions are not so wide as not to be healed. Instead of reviling there should be conciliation.

The work is well begun and it must be continued with energy and the utmost vigilance. The people must be assured of the fact. They have a right to know that our pledges will be kept, and the only way for us to satisfy the people of the State of Maryland is either to let well enough alone or to be certain that we can and will do better.

A DISASTROUS FIRE.—A disastrous fire broke out late on Monday night at Westminster, Carroll county, in this State, which destroyed seventeen buildings and a Lutheran church. The value of the property destroyed is estimated at seventy-three thousand dollars, and the insurance is stated at less than half that amount.

The noble army of 24,000 marines, who went down last year under extraordinary circumstances, not likely to occur for another decade, will come to the front again and stand ready to meet their fate, whether for well or woe.

If the Democrats can enlist the active support of the young men of Maryland—the young men who from the faith of their fathers lean toward Democratic faith—there can be no kind of doubt as to their decisive influence in the November election.

Democrat in the gubernatorial chair of that heretofore hide-bound Republican State. The young men are the only salvation of any political party.

Maryland Democracy. Like the ebb and the flow of the tide, the great current of human life and thought, noticeably those of political life and thought, appear to have a periodicity that seems to bear the stamp and assume the majesty of a law of nature.

Not so must we act in this great battle of human life. We are required to "act well our part," as if upon that action depended the result. No one can divine the result of any individual action. The whisper unheard at the place of origin, may project its waves of sound across your thread-like path until it becomes distinctly and wonderfully audible at some distant point.

Beginning October 1st, letter postage will be only two cents for each half ounce. The new rate reduces the charge for postal money orders under $10 from 10 to 8 cents; above $10 the old rates are maintained.

A very convenient device for mail remittances of small sums of money has been provided by the law authorizing the issue of three-cent postal notes. These notes are in effect certificates of deposit, and may pass from hand to hand like treasury notes or checks.

There never was a political campaign in this State in which success was more assured to our party; dependent, however, upon a mastery wisely exercised at the primaries in the selection of proper candidates to our nominating convention.

Some one has made a very curious calculation of what Mr. Vanderbilt could do with his money. Wm. H. Vanderbilt's income from his investments in $51,000,000 four per cent government bonds is represented at $5,000,000 daily, which is $208,250 per hour, $8,477 per minute or over five cents per second.

Westminster, by the want of a supply of water immediately accessible and adequate to such an emergency. So far as a supply of water sufficient for the ordinary use of the inhabitants is concerned, Westminster has, in its wells and in the head tributaries of the Patapsco an abundance.
