

DENTON JOURNAL.

DENTON, MARYLAND, Saturday Morning, October 27th, 1882.

A Model Woman.

I know a woman wondrous fair— A model woman was she— Who never runs her hair down When she goes out to-night.

She never gossips after church Of dresses or of hats; She never meets the sewing school And joins them in their spats.

She never beats a salesman down, Nor asks for pretty plaques; She never asks a thousand things Which do his patience tax.

These statements may seem very strange— At least they may to some; But just remember this, my friends, The woman's deaf and dumb.

Rays of Mirth.

A country paper advertises for "board for man and wife with gas."

A sea captain is a good deal of a vagabond when he beats his way up a harbor.

The average girl with a big hat loaded with flowers and feathers seems all head until you talk to her.

Some unknown person attempted to break into an editors house recently, but discovered his mistake and escaped before the editor could rob him.

Mr. William Doodle—"Yes, Miss Frost, I always wear gloves at night, they make one's hand so soft and soft." Miss Frost—"Ah! and do you sleep with your hat on?"—Life.

"I don't like to have my husband chew tobacco," remarked a young married lady, "but I put up with it, for the tin foil is just too handy for anything in doing up my front crimps."—Somerville Journal.

There be swinging gates and swinging gait. The former are the kind used by young men when making love to their girls, and the latter are the kind used by the same young men when the old gentleman and a bull-dog catch them.

The eighth commandment was all very well at the time it was written, but it is altogether too narrow for these days. It should be redrawn, to read something like this: "Thou shalt not steal; neither shalt thou embezzle, perjure, commit grand or petit larceny, or obtain money by false pretenses; thou shalt not be guilty of breach of trust; thou shalt not indulge in shoplifting (unless you are respectable enough to prove that kleptomaniac is hereditary in the family); thou shalt not duplicate thy pay accounts."—Boston Transcript.

"When a young man says his girl is 'worth her weight in gold' he is not putting a very high valuation upon her unless she is a very heavy girl. At this rating 120 pounds of girl would be worth only about $90,000, and any young man who doesn't think his best girl worth more than $90,000 ought to be kicked clear over the front gate and have the dog set after him."—Middleton Transcript.

Hunting hair pins is the newest diversion of the boys in Pittsburgh. A newspaper of that city says: "Last winter it got to be quite the thing for the young fellows to coax his young lady friend to give him hair pins, but now the craze is to get them without the girl's knowing what you are about. If you can steal the pin out of the girl's hair, that's the way to do it. If you can pick up one that has fallen from her head, that's a deal better. Some fellows have followed a girl for squares, just because a hair pin looked as though it meant to drop soon. What do they do with them? Put them into an album. They get scrap books, and put pins through like needles. Then the girl's name, style of beauty, and estimated age are written below."

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhoea, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, and gives tone and energy to the system. Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP FOR CHILDREN TEETHING is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world.
