Harmony,	(at 6 p. m.)	Oct 31.

A number of able and eloquent speakers will be present at each meeting.

ENOCH GEORGE, Chairman.
HOWARD MELVIN, Secretary.

ELECTION day draws on apace; Democrats, work while you may.

TUESDAY, October 27th, will be a great day in Denton.

OHIO gives about the customary Republican majority, and elects a Republican governor.

PUBLIC opinion points to the fittest men for important public posts! The Republican party is beaten!

REALIZING the odds against them, the Republicans have refused to bring the local issues before the people on the public platform.

MR. JAMES HODGES, in his speech accepting the nomination as mayor of Baltimore, said he was an Eastern Shoreman by birth, a Baltimorean by adoption, and a Marylander all over. He would accept the nomination as free as the eagle that soars above, and his duty to the people will be above other considerations.

THE meeting at the Concordia House, Baltimore, on Tuesday night, was one of the most enthusiastic Democratic gatherings ever seen in the "Monumental City." The hall was filled to overflowing, and open air addresses were made to the multitudes who were unable to to gain admission to the building. The true Democracy of Baltimore will again come out victorious in the coming election, nothwithstanding the combined efforts of the Independents, bolters and Republicans to defeat the regular Democratic ticket. Mr. Hodges will be Baltimore's next mayor, and Senator Gorman will be his own successor.

A CHANGE has come over the spirit of the average Republican dream. A sounding of the feeling entertained by the people with regard to the Democratic ticket and a more perfect knowledge of popular opinion has considerably lengthened the faces of our friends the enemy. The bold effrontery with which some of their indiscreet partizans spoke of the powerful financial backing of one of their candidates, subsequently corroborated and endorsed by a convention of their party, has crystalized in the public mind the fact that their recommendations were only mercenary ones. The effect has been to draw taut the lines of merit against money. And the rebuke that has been dealt the party by the desertion of many discriminating Republicans, and the enthuthusiastic reception that has been tendered to the Democratic nominees everywhere will, we hope, furnish a profitable lesson for future Republican nominating conventions.

Still Another.

Handbills are out this week with the following notice: "All persons, both white and colored, who believe in the political rights of all men, without regard to race or color, are requested to meet in convention at the court house in Denton, on Tuesday, 20th of October, 1885, to nominate a straightout Republican ticket for Caroline county, in accordance with the Chicago platform that nominated James G. Blaine for President in 1884, which allows of no discrimination on account of race or color in holding offices or places of public trust, the ticket to be composed of both white and colored persons, who are competent and worthy, believing that colored men have served the party of white Republicans, in this county, long and faithfully enough to now participate in the management and control of the laws that govern them." It is not known what the outcome of the convention will be, but it is rumored that the colored people are not so completely in harness as the Republicans wish, and that a ticket composed partly of colored men will be made.

THE Queen Anne Democracy is harmonious, and victory is certain.

THE formal opening of the "North, Central and South American Exposition" at New Orleans will take place on the 10th of November. It is promised by the officials that it will be more complete at the time designated than is usual in such cases, but the public have long since ceased to expect the fulfilment of such promises. There are many important ends, commercial and otherwise, to be advanced by this Exposition of the products of the entire continent, and should the wishes of its projectors be carried out it will open a new era in the intercourse and trade of the most distant sections.

Defending the Anti-Bribery Ticket.

To the Editor of THE JOURNAL.

I have been a careful observer of the anti-bribery movement in this county, and candor compels me to say that I have not seen anything in its advocacy to justify the charge in the last issue of the American Union that the gentlemen composing the anti-bribery ticket are actuated by selfish motives, hostile to the two political parties. They impress me at times as impracticals, but they are certainly beyond the suspicion of a line of conduct influenced by petty motives or pique from real or fancied wrongs at the hands of their respective parties; therefore the editorial comments of Union are not only unkind but, more, are untrue.

The object of the anti-bribery party, as declared time and again, is simply to do away with moneyed bribery on election day, and the reason they will fail is that the old parties are in the field, organized to win; organized to capture the offices; organized to distribute the plunder of power; organized to get the votes, and they mean to have them. The party that attempts to come between these two organizations will be crushed, and in the end will be absorbed in one or both. The position of the two parties is wrong in theory, wrong in morals, wrong in law, and wrong in practice, and sooner or later they will adopt anti-bribery principles, practices and leaders. The people are not yet sufficiently wide awake to compel their parties to the immediate acceptance of no money at elections, but party leaders will not be slow to observe the temper of the people and adopt their views.

The anti-bribery party did right, when pledges couldn't be had, to form a ticket, for it would be a shame to our county if ten men could not be found who had the honesty and moral courage to stand as candidates; and if the fools are not in a majority in Caroline the corrupt party leaders will receive such a rebuke at the hands of the people by the coming election that clean principles if not clean candidates will be offered next time for the suffrages of the sovereigns. The people would have nothing to lose by the election of the anti-bribery ticket, for men who do not buy their election are in better condition to lighten the burden of taxation for fees and salaries of their respective offices, for men who buy their election always make somebody else foot the bill. Doesn't every man of any sense know that?

The only reason the anti-bribery men are impractical is in expecting to be elected in a county where 900 men out of a voting population of 2,900 sell their votes. It is not for want of principle that they will lose their election, but it is rather because of too much principle. A little less principle and a little more cash would help them, Behold the American Union, for instance, when it says, We are in favor of electing the Republican county commissioners, for when elected they will give us the county printing. The poor anti-bribery party have no plunder to give—how can they be otherwise than impracticals? Not a newspaper supports their cause, but one lawyer is wild enough to do them reverence, and the preachers even fight them shy. Still they are brave and manly and as such deserve well at the hands of a generous people; and if defeated they in their serenity can look in pity on that other defeated party, that goes down with lost laurels, lost honor, lost cash and a lost cause. FAIRPLAY.

From the Chestertown Transcript.

A recent prominent lecturer upon political economy questions not only thinks it possible, but proposes a practical method. The method which he proposes is as follows: The government has in its vaults one hundred and sixty millions of silver dollars. He proposes that the government shall fix the price of wheat and corn, say at $1.25 for wheat and 75c. for corn, and in order to maintain these prices the government shall build grain repositories in the agricultural centres, as it now builds sub-treasuries, and pay out silver for grain; the grain in turn to be placed upon the markets of the world as the demand shall call for it at the fixed price. He claims that the system would do two very desirable things,—steady the agricultural interests, and keep up the value of silver as a money metal. The scheme at least involves no system of taxing one set of industries to build up another set. It is perhaps wrong on general principles for the government to attempt to regulate the business of the country by legislation, but that is just what our national government has been attempting to do for the last twenty years, in its system of protective tariffs. If Congress proposes still to attempt the regulation of the business of the country, it is right that is should make the attempt in the interests of the largest class of industries,—the agricultural industries. If protection is to be the cry this winter, let us have protection to the farmer.

—George W. Whitlock, the oldest resident of Clayton, died suddenly on the 7th, aged 80 years. Mr. Whitlock had led a very active life and was at one time the heaviest shipper of fruit and produce in Delaware, and the first to run a régular peach train to New York.

The Delaware Canal.

WILMINGTON, DEL., October 11.—Before Judge Whiteley, sitting in Orphans' Count yesterday morning, the application of John T. Biggs, counsel for the Maryland and Delaware Ship Canal Company, asking for a commission to condemn land in New Castle county for the use of the company and award damages to the property-owners, was granted. By the appointment of the commission the last obstacle is about to be removed which has stood in the the way of uniting the Delaware and Chesapeak bays by canal. The estimated cost by the survey for putting the canal in complete condition is $8,458,799.98. The contract has been awarded the firm of Ferguson & Fairchild, of New York.

The canal will be built over what is known as the Sassafras route, which is seventeen miles in length, fifteen miles of which are in Delaware. Its terminal points are the Sassafras river, which discharges its waters into the Chesapeake bay, and near Liston's Point, in the Delaware bay. It is to be one hundred feet wide and twenty-six feet deep at low water. The purposes of the canal are to shorten the distance between Baltimore and Eastern and European points, and to obviate the necessily of doubling Cape Charles, which is always attended with more or less danger. By the short cut the distance between Baltimore by sea and New York and European ports is shortened 225 miles; from Baltimore and New York, via Chesapeake bay, 475; from Baltimore by ship canal and Delaware bay, 250 miles. It is urged by the canal company that the artificial water-belt will offer the best and cheapest means of defending the ports of Washington, Baltimore, Annapolis, Philadelphia, Chester, Wilmington, New York, and New England from any foreign fleet. It is to be constructed by a syndicate of capitalists, and the stock is held in New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

A Reply.

In the last issue of the American Union I noticed an article headed "Anti-Bribery —— Fourth Ticket," wherein the editor indulges in some personalities to which I now reply. I refer particularly to the assertion that "Warren wanted, and worked quietly for the treasurer's office, but not getting the nowination, bolted."

Mr. Editor, the mere denial of the assertion might suffice if we were both personally acquainted with the entire population of Caroline county, and our individual records known therein. But this not being the fact I propose to ventilate the matter to a certain extent. Possibly the astute editor was in a condition, when he indited the article referred to, similar to that he was in when he made a fruitless assault upon one of the merchants in the town of Denton. In his vain endeavors to display his physical manhood he created a sensation which to this day remains an important epoch in the history of this town. In his drunken and besotted condition, on this occasion, he continued the assault until forbearance ceased to be a virtue, whereupon the aforesaid merchant proceeded to cleanse a portion of the streets of our village, using this would-be "ton" editor as a town mop. Up to this time the merchant has failed to receive a vote of thanks from our town authorities—so justly his due. (Town commissioners please notice.)

Not wishing to encroach too much on your valuable space, I now close with a few suggestions to the Union's editor: Be careful of your general health; your course is a source of extreme anxiety to your nearest and dearest friends, (if you have any); give yourself periodical vapor baths, which are an excellent remedy for systems overcharged with alcohol. Refrain from visiting our suburban districts; the associations there, I take it, are not congenial to good health, and the impression gotten there may prove disastrous. A strict attention to the above, Mr. Todd, will have a tendency to give you a clear head and a better heart; then you will be able to treat those whom you meet as gentlemen and ladies, and not till then. KING'S EVIL

Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its earlier symptomatic developments are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tumors, Boils, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Purulent Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Collapse, etc. If allowed to continue, Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

Is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is so effectual an alterative that it eradicates from the system Hereditary Scrofula, and the kindred poisons of contagious diseases and mercury. At the same time it enriches and vitalizes the blood, restoring healthful action to the vital organs and rejuvenating the entire system. This great is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, with Yellow Dock, Stillingia, the Iodides of Potassium and iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as an for all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimed, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.
