DENTON JOURNAL.

☞Items of news from all parts of the county solicited under this head.

THE LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Wheat Seeding.—Farmers are about thro' seeding wheat. There has been more than an average crop put in.

Baltimore Grain Markets.—The offerings of Southern wheat are increasing under an active inquiry. Longberry is quoted at $1.02 to $1.04; fultz at 94c. to $1.00 per bushel. The market for corn is dull. White brings 49c. to 51c. and yellow 45c. to 52c. Oats sell at 30c. to 35c.; rye at 65c.

Next Tuesday's Multifariousness.—The average politician will have enough to keep him busy on Tuesday next. The Anti-Bribery crusaders will have a mass-meeting. There will be a colored convention in the court house in the afternoon, and a Baltimore orator will address the colored people in the same building at night.

A Democratic Octogenarian.—Mr. Thos. White, familiarly known as "Uncle Tommy," who lives near Smithville, now in his 88th year, is much interested in the present campaign and the success of the Democratic ticket. He says, for the encouragement of the rising Democracy, that after sixty years support of the Democratic party, he has no cause for regret. And the advice of Uncle Tommy seems to be pretty generally accepted in Smithville and vicinity.

Gunpowder, a Little Boy and a Match. On Saturday of last week a seven-year-old son of Mr. George Mills, living near Potter's Landing, received several slight though painful wounds from a powder explosion. The little fellow had placed some powder and shot together in a bottle and inserted a burning match. Before he succeeded in getting away, as he intended to do, he received some of the shot in the leg, and most of the powder in the face.

Orphans' Court.—The orphans' court was in session on Tuesday, and the following business transacted:

The bond of Lorenzo Fogwell, as administrator of Clinton Fogwell, and letters granted by the Register of Wills, were approved by the Court.

On application of Annie F. Trice and Robert R. Edgell the court granted to them letters of administration on the personal estate of Benjamin F. Trice.

Wingate Neal, administrator of Thomas H. Neal, presented an inventory of debts due to the deceased which was examined and passed.

Dedication of Thawley's.—The new M. E. church (Thawley's) near Hickmantown was dedicated on Sunday last. The building is a very neat structure and the auditorium is nicely furnished. Rev. Geo. W. Burke, of Harrington, Rev. F. J. Cockran, of Farmington, and Rev. W. J. D. Lucas, of Burrsville, conducted the services, Mr. Cochran preaching in the morning, Mr. Burke in the afternoon and Mr. Lucas in the evening. The amount required for the liquidation of debts on the church, $200, was raised.

Federalsburg Items.—Mr. L Vogel, of New York, is in town looking after his real estate in this section.

—Miss Mattie Hobbs is visiting friends near Harrington.

—Mr. Wilmer O. Davis, of New York, is visiting relatives here.

Large Fire at Easton.—Fire broke out about four o'clock Friday morning in Samuel Gale's livery stable, in the western part of Easton. The building and contents, including ten horses, two mules, one cow, a number of carriages, harness, hay, grain, &c., were destroyed. The new stable and carriage warehouse of Lloyd Lowndes, adjoining, was also burned. Mr. Lowndes's loss is over $3,000; insurance $2,500. Mr. Gale's loss is about $2,500. He had no insurance. The building owned by Miss Louisa Tilghman, and valued at $500, was not insured. Mr. M. M. Higgins had a horse burned up in Gale's stable, and several persons lost carriages.

Lectures.—Rev. Dr. Southerland will deliver a lecture, "Rambles in Europe," in Thawley's M. P. church on Monday evening, October 26, at 7 o'clock. Admission 25 cents. Proceeds for the benefit of the M. E. parsonage. The doctor will repeat the lecture at Burrsville on the following Tuesday evening. The same admission fee will be charged and the proceeds applied to the same purpose.

—D. F. Lockerby, Esq., of Philadelphia, will deliver a lecture on "Personal Deism Denied"—a reply to Ingersoll—in Masonic Hall, Denton, on Saturday evening next. Mr. Lockerby recently delivered the lecture in Easton, and the press and people speak in highest terms of his efforts.

New Advertisements.—Messrs. Jarrell & Nichols, of Easton, will hold a grand re-opening on the 24th, 26th, 27th, 28th, inst. A first-class band of music will attend. The event promises to be very interesting. See announcement to-day.

☞We call attention to Trible's advertisement in another column. All who visit Baltimore should not fail to visit his Emporium and inspect his immense stock of ladies' and gentmen's furnishing goods.

—Levi D. Roe advertises a lot of valuable personal property and 30 acres of land, to be sold on Friday, 30th inst.

—Mr. Fletcher Pennington, Queen Anne station, brought suit before Esquire Jump, against Mr. Ed. Barton, for poisoning Pennington's dogs. It appears that Pennington's and some other dogs killed some of Barton's turkeys. Some days after Pennington's dogs were killed by poison. The dogs are valued at $50. When the parties appeared before the Justice Mr. Pennington paid costs and took the case to Court, without a preliminary hearing before the justice.

The bride was the recipient of a large number of handsome presents.

—Cards have been issued for the marriage of Mr. Frank S. Gibson, formerly of this county, son of Mr. Chas. W. Gibson, of Easton, to Mrs. Dorothy K. Woollison, of Philadelphia. The marriage will take place on Thursday evening, October 22, at the residence of the bride.

Democratic Meetings.—The mass meetings held at Goldsboro' and Bridgetown, on Saturday afternoon and evening last, were addressed by Col. P. W. Downes and Messrs. Urie Townsend and M. Bates Stephens. The attendance at Goldsboro' was not large, owing to the short notice that had been given. At Bridgetown a good audience greeted the speakers' eloquent efforts.

Club meetings were held at Burrsville and Federalsburg on Saturday evening also. The former was addressed by N. A. Hutson and Elon S. Hobbs, the latter by John Rumbold and Chairman Heffron. Both clubs have weekly meetings, and are doing good work.

At the Marydel meeting, Wednesday, short speeches were made by Messrs. Urie Townsend, H. R. Lewis and Elon S. Hobbs, followed by the eloquent and argumentative address of Col. P. W. Downes.

PENINSULAR.

—Congressman Gibson secured the appointment last week of Mr. Daniel C. Hopper to be postmaster at Centreville, also of James B. Tarman to be railway postal clerk on the route from Townsend, Del., to Centreville.

—The investigation of the case of the loss of Alex. McLaughlin off the scrape-boat D. A Nearing, on the Choptank river, was concluded, at Oxford, last Saturday, and Captain John R. Taylor, the master of the vessel, was committed to jail in Easton, to await the Grand Jury. Capt. Taylor is rather a fine looking man, 24 years old, and unmarried. He has a mother living in Tyaskin, Wicomico county. He is confined in a cell, which he has furnished, and has his meals sent to him from Todd's restaurant.

—A special to the Philadelphia Record from Clayton, Del., on Monday, says: "A number of men, well supplied with ropes and tackle, are scouring the country in this vicinity in search of Charles Robinson, a negro, who committed a felonious assault on Mrs. Orson Gardner, a respectable white woman. The remembrance of the Neal case, four years, in which the perpetrator of a similar crime, in the same neighborhood was finally acquited, is an incentive to resort to lynch law in this case." A correspondent from St. Georges reports that the supposed fiend has been arrested at that place.

—The Old Point Express, going North, struck the rear car of the South bound train on the Delaware railroad, as it was switching off at Bear station to let the express pass. The South bound train was a little behind time, and the express came along before the process of switching had been completed and while the rear car was still on the main track. The car was wrenched from the trucks and thrown from the track and turned over. It was the through car from Philadelphia to Oxford. Hon. Chas. H. Gibson, who was aboard, was slightly hurt in one leg. Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hughes were on the train, returning from their wedding trip, and Mrs. Hughes was hurt, but not seriously, by being struck with a splinter.

Mr. Roe's Ingratitude.

To the Editor of THE JOURNAL.

Consistency is a jewel. Some weeks ago the Union was bold enough to speak of Mr. A. B. Roe, the Republican nominee for the Senate of Maryland, as a consistent Republican. Now let us look at his record.

Mr. Roe owed his election four years ago to the Maryland Senate to the colored voters, and as a consistent Republican he should have, in return for the honor they conferred on him, remained at least a friend to them. But how was it been after the election? He considered himself safe in his political honors, and thinking he would have no further use for the colored voters, became as unkind and ungrateful to them as they had been useful and kind to him.

He purchased property in Greensborough, commonly called the Case wharf lot, which was reached by a lane running from the main street of the town, and which lane had been a public thoroughfare for over forty years, and under prior ownership had continued and remained a public thoroughfare. It was reasonable to believe it would continue to be open to the public, and such was the confidence that it would remain so that the board of school commissioners purchased land on the road and built upon it a school house for colored children. At this time the property was owned by Capt. Case, who offered no objection to the children passing over the road to reach the school house, there being no other way.

The property passed from the ownership of Capt. Case to J. T. Sangston, and still the colored children used the road. But as soon as the property was purchased by Mr. Roe he denied them the privilege. He even forbade Mr. John Letty from taking lumber over the road to repair of the school house when directed to do so by the trustees. What, now, has been the result of this act by Mr. Roe, who was elevated to office by colored men's votes? Colored children of the town have been deprived of the use of the school, and to this day not one of them has ever entered it, though the road still remains public, where carriages, wagons hourly pass over it. Yet the poor colored child, whose father raised him, office, is debarred the privilege that is even granted to stock.

Can the colored man have any respect for himself after voting for the man who has degraded his child, and who by his act would keep his children without education? If he can, in the language of a great statesman, "it would be a serious question whether one so servile and cowardly is fit to exercise the elective franchise." But for one I will not believe they will vote for him. They will have more respect for themselves. I will wait and see. Z.

PHILADELPHIA, October 12, 1885.

Paris extravagances in dress-stuffs again—some of them more extravagant, perhaps, than any before. Mosaics of color, strings of wool cocoons piled up on cloth till the cloth is out of your mind, mohair streaming over extraordinary serges, the wildest scroll-work that ever came out of loom of Damascus, silk plush and macrame network—too many to think of—too unexpectable to let you understand without seeing.

It will not do to send samples of such. A little sample doesn't show them. They are costly. They are gone so quickly. Part of the value of them is the fact that few are made, and very few reach this part of the world.

What would this sober city do without one store where the pretty frivolities of Paris gather.

South-east from the centre of the store.

Wool laces make the roughness of fine dress-stuffs rougher and richer. They are creeping down from the higher range of dressmaking—not extravagant, all of them. Economical people even are finding a way to use them. Shall we tell? Not every bright silk beneath the meshes is new!

South-west from the centre,

Two or three thousand yards a day of Lupin's dark-color 50-cent cashmeres are going at 37½ cents a yard. We had forty or fifty thousand yards to begin with. When they are gone they are gone. No more so long as the present tariff stands.

By the Thirteenth-street door.

Warm winter skirts ready-made for 75 cents to $1.50; well made, with the proper hang, pretty enough and durable. Never were better provided. Skirts that can't be made for the money, one would think. It has happened twice now. Last year and this year.

Above $1.50—we are not speaking of them—our skirts are good merchandise, prices fair. Those from $10 to $20 not here yet.

1315 Chestnut, tenth counter—where Umbrellas were.

These enormous blankets at about 75 cents a pound in a sense are the most luxurious blanket you ever saw—so thick and springy and light. Spread out on the counter they seem too large; but tuck the edges under the sides of your bed—you may open your window in January!

They are made by the very same mill right here in town that makes those "California" blankets one of our neighbors is so delighted with—He doubtless thinks his blankets are made, as he says, in California—no matter—the prices are California. They were sold by the mill to a Boston jobber, then back again to Philadelphia—they have traveled almost far enough to be California blankets.

On the whole we'd rather deal direct with the mill.

See a pair of these 7lb, 8lb, 10lb, 12lb, 14lb blankets. See them spread out and folded. What a pile—3500 of them!

North-west corner of the main building.

Figured flannels that look so little like flannel you wonder what they can be. Two sorts; dull woven figures; gay printed figures.

The woven-figured flannels are thick and stuffy, none of them bright, but loose and soft and warm; all sorts of figures, 46 inch, $1.50—for wrappers, both men's and women's jackets, ulsters even, and children's dresses.

The printed figures, like the gay sateens of three or four years ago, are gorgeous with color—mechanical figures, flowers as bright and many-colored as flowers can be, color piled on color, brightness on brightness. Among them one is plain in the main, but heavily bordered with Begonia leaves and Passion-flowers in a setting of vines. What wrappers! The cloths are lighter. Much of the cost is in the printing. 40-inch, $1.50.

Ohio Grain Drill.

The farmer, with an eye single to his best interests, should know the relative merits of the various wheat drills on the market before making his purchases for the fall. Let me enumerate some of the many advantages of the "OHIO," all of which have been amply demonstrated:

1. It is the easiest and lightest drill made.
2. It has the best mode of feeding wheat and grass seed of any in the country.
3. Its fertilizing or feeding attachment is no experiment. It has been tested for ten years and found to be the best.
4. It has the best spring hoe and the only check link in the country.
5. It has less cog and gear wheels than some other drills by one-half.
6. It is the easiest and most simple drill in the world to keep in order.
7. It is the only drill that can be changed to sow deep or shallow by moving the slide block.
8. You can get repairs for this drill more promptly than any other.
9. The tire on the wheels is 2½ inches wide, and will not cut into soft ground, as narrow tires will.
10. The spokes in the wheels are made of the best hickory, and driven into the hub with a heavy steam hammer.
11. It costs less to keep our drill in repair than any other make of drill in the market.
12. You can change the desired quantity of grain or fertilizer without stopping the drill or putting on wheels.
13. It is the best finished and most durable drill in the market.
14. The grain sower is a positive force feed—most positive in the market.
15. The grain sower cannot be made to bunch grain like many other drills do.
16. The grass seeder is a positive force feed, and will sow dirty timothy or clover seed.
17. Any person can take it apart and put it together with a screw driver and wrench.

Revolution in Wheat Culture,
—THE—
Seed Drill Regulator!

There are many advantages secured by this improvement, some of which may be briefly stated; all of which may be fully substantiated by prominent farmers of this county.

1. The apparatus can be set to any depth, deep or shallow.
2. The drill will sow at that depth in hard, soft or uneven ground.
3. It lightens the draft of the drill.
4. It packs the earth around the seed, and at the same time does not level the ridges raised by the drill-teeth.
5. It covers grass seed just enough.
6. It gives all the advantages of broadcast sowing without its waste of seed.
7. It prevents the clogging of the drill-teeth by long manure or grass.
8. The teeth run steadier and do not jump out of or into the ground as they do without the attachment.
9. The teeth can be run in a straight line, thus covering the seed more evenly than when placed zig-zag.
10. The wheels pulverize the ground slightly.
11. It will work wherever a drill will work.
12. It saves seed—from one peck to three pecks per acre.
13. It covers the seed when the drill-tooth jumps over an obstruction.
14. The grain comes up from two to six days sooner.
15. All the good seed grow.
16. The seed come up soon after a rain, before a crust can form on the surface.
17. You can avoid the fly by sowing from a week to ten days later and still be in time for the plant to come up and grow sufficiently to stand the winter.
18. It saves fertilizer by putting it in the right place.
