DENTON JOURNAL.

Saturday Morning, October 31, 1885.

☞Items of news from all parts of the county solicited under this head.

THE LOCAL DEPARTMENT.

Hallowe'en.—This evening is hailed with delight by the small boy, as Hallowe'en, upon which occasion youth will disport itself in the customarily annoying manner.

"A Reply to Ingersoll."—D. F. Lockerby's lecture, delivered in the Town Hall on Saturday evening, was but slimly attended. The lecturer has apparently just entered upon his present vocation, and although his production in some parts contained pleasing metaphorical phrases, its delivery and the argument it contained fell far short of the task to which he had addressed himself.

Sudden Death of Eli C. Gullett.—The JOURNAL last week inadvertently omitted the announcement of the death of one of our best citizens, Eli C. Gullett. He died at his home on Friday, 16th inst., after an illness of only five days. Mr. Gullett had been suffering from a kidney affection for many years, but his complaint was never thought to be dangerous. He leaves a large family to mourn his loss.

School Changes.—Mr. A. S. Whitcomb, teacher of Houston's Branch school, has tendered his resignation, to take effect at the end of the present term.

—Miss Bettie Richardson has resigned as teacher of Saulsbury's school in Tuckahoe Neck, and Miss Edith Williams, of Denton, has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Miss Richardson intends making Baltimore her home in future.

New Advertisements.—C. S. Wertsner & Co., dealer in sportmen's goods of all kinds.

—W. K. Kurtz, dealer in albums, picture frames, fancy and holiday goods, etc.

—L. W. Irving & Co., manufacturer of fine shirts.

—Shannahan & Wrightson, stoves of all descriptions, etc.

—Charles T. Rathell, sale of large lot of personal property.

—Wesley Roe, house for rent.

—John W. Carroll, to trespassers.

New Chapel at Houston's.—On Monday 19th, a guild of the P. E. church was organized in the neighborhood of Houston's Branch, which is included in the territory of St. Mary's Whitechapel Parish. A building committee was appointed by the guild for the purpose of erecting a chapel near the school house. Mr. Elijah Todd has donated an acre of land for the chapel and burial ground. The lumber and other materials have been given, and $150 subscribed by those interested in the church. There is quite a flourishing Sunday school already in operation there. Rev. S. D. Hall now holds service in the school house the first and third Sundays of each month.

Tricks of Nefarious Politicians.—A "Democratic Conservative Ticket," bearing the name of B. Gootee Stevens, has lately been secretly distributed by some dishonest political trickster. This counterfeit—this wolf in sheep's apparel—bears the portrait of Old Hickory, and is surmounted by the motto, "Jackson and Liberty," This attempted fraud was concocted by unscrupulous men in the hope of dealing a thrust in the dark at Mr. Gadd, the opponent of Mr. Stevens. Tricks of this character, together with the many petty slanders manufactured and circulated against the Democratic nominee for clerk will be discredited and summarily rebuked next Tuesday, we have no doubt. Democrats, read your tickets and detect the well-executed counterfeit.

Church Notes.—The Academy bell will hereafter be rung for services of the P. E. congregation, which will be held in the court house while Christ church is in course of repair.

—Rev. S. D. Hall requests us to say there will services in Christ church, Denton, every Sunday morning at 10.30, and at Boonsboro' school house on the second and fourth Sundays in each month at 3 p. m.; Sunday school at Christ church, Denton, every Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The rector will visit and catechise this school whenever there is a fifth Sunday in the month.

—The Middle Convocation of the Diocese of Easton is in session this week at Hillsborough, in St. John's Church, Rev. G. F. Beaven, rector.

—Rev. A. W. Milby preached to a large audience at Potter's Landing and Denton on Sunday afternoon and evening.

—A revival meeting was opened last week at Ingleside by Rev. F. G. Neavitt.

—Rev. A. D. Davis will preach at Denton and Potter's Landing to-morrow.

Dashes Here and There.—"I expect to swear the next jury." — Clinton Cook.

—William R. Martin, Esq., of the Easton bar, and Miss A. Frances Starr, were married at Trinity cathedral on Thursday of last week by Rev. G. S. Gassner. They had a reception at the residence of the bride's mother, Mrs. Phipps, near Royal Oak.

—The new dwelling of Mr. James D. Wilson, of Ingleside, will when completed be the hansomest in the village.

—Joseph M. Parvis, whose arm was fractured a short time since, is getting well.

—Dr. P. S. Reynolds entertained at supper last Monday evening a number of the speakers and visitors to the Democratic meeting at Mason's store.

—Owing to a heavy rain, the anti-bribery meeting at Greensboro' was postponed till to-night, when Colonel Bryant and others will hold forth at Mozart Hall.

—Prof. Congdon will give a course of instructions in penmanship to a class at the academy next Monday evening.

—First ice this season was on Friday morning, October 23d.

Spirited Mass-Meetings.—The interest in the Democratic meetings, now being held throughout the county, continues unabated. The attendance at Oakland on Friday night of last week was good. Addresses were made by Dr. Herr and Mr. H. S. Mancha.

The attendance at the Federalsburg meeting last Saturday evening was not large owing to the fact that the farmers of the district were generally busy. Capt. William H. Watkins presided. Speeches were made by Mr. Urie Townsend, Dr. Goldsborough, Col. P. W. Downes, Messrs. M. S. Mutchler and H. R. Lewis.

At American Corner on Saturday night the committee had prepared an oyster feast for a large and enthusiastic audience. The speakers were Dr. Herr, Dr. Goldsborough and Col. Downes.

A correspondent gives us the following account of the meeting at Grove: The meeting of the Democracy of the Fourth district held at Grove was a complete success, and when the limited notice given is considered, one of the best of the season Addresses were made by Messrs. Hutson and Lewis.

There was quite a good attendance of interested voters at the Hobbs' Corner meeting on Monday evening. Mr. Thos. H. Slaughter, Jr., was president of the meeting. Messrs. McShane, Mancha, and Lewis were the speakers.

A goodly number of enthusiastic Democrats held a meeting at Concord on Wednesday evening. There was a pretty illumination. Chairman Williamson introduced the speakers, Messrs. Lewis and Rumbold.

TUESDAY'S MEETING.

An Imposing Demonstration — Denton Crowded With Enthusiastic Democrats—The Speeches, Etc.

The Democratic mass-meeting held in Denton on Tuesday last far surpassed anything of the kind ever known in Caroline. The vast throng present on that day has been variously estimated from 1,500 to 2,500. The meeting had been well advertised and for a week previous Democrats had been looking forward to a grand gala day. The first arrivals were about ten o'clock, and from that time until late at night Denton presented a holiday appearance. Troops of gallant riders, mounted upon handsome steeds decked with evergreen wreaths and flags contined to arrive until one o'clock. When the magnificently arrayed companies from the first and second districts, skillfully handled by Grand Marshals Hardcastle and Malone, entered the town the lines were formed. The parade, headed by the Greensborough Cornet Band, began shortly after 12 o'clock. Sidewalks were crowded with enthusiastic Democrats. The line was about a half mile in length, and as the riders filed through the streets, moving in perfect order, they were greeted with cheers and words of welcome.

Promptly at two o'clock Dr. Enoch George, chairman of the Democratic county central committee, mounted the speakers' stand, which was erected on the green between the court house and the Masonic Building, and in a neat speech called the meeting to order. Dr. Alex Hardcastle was made chairman.

Hon. Charles H. Gibson, the speaker of the day, was introduced, and addressed the people for two hours. His immense audience frequently interrupted by rounds of applause. The speaker divided his time about equally between State and local issues. He denounced in severe terms General B. T. Johnson's speech in Easton. He compared General Johnson's conduct to that of a man attending a wedding feast as an invited visitor with the fell purpose of assassinating an honored guest who happens to be his enemy. He paid his respects to the independents of Baltimore, and their leaders, Marshall and Wallis, and prophetically declared that their ranks would resound with "weeping, wailing, and gnashing of political teeth." He spoke in fitting terms of Senator Gorman, and eloquently pictured his manly action in the national campaign that resulted in the overthrow of the entrenched corruptionists at Washington and the inuguration of Cleveland. In speaking of the county ticket, Mr. Gibson paid a glowing tribute to the Democratic candidates. Col. Samuel Wetherell, of Oxford, made a short address which was attentively listened to. Short speeches were made by Messrs. Urie Townsend, Marshall S. Mutchler, and Henry R. Lewis. Mr. Mutchler refuted the statement of several anti-bribery speakers that the Democratic party was not the party for the young and the poor man. Ample preparations were made for the entertainment of the visitors. An immense oyster roast was provided on the green for the multitude unable to be accommodated at the two hotels. A large amount of hay had been procured for the horses. There were no cases of disorder reported excepting that caused by a drunken fellow who persisted in his shouts of "Hurrah for B. G.!" The music furnished by the band was excellent. Several of the Democratic candidates were serenaded in the evening.

OLD AND HONORED NAMES.

Reunion of the Davis, Noble and Kinder Families at Bethel Church.

For some weeks preparations had been going on for the reunion of three of the oldest and largest families of the lower Peninsula. The date fixed for the celebration was Tuesday last, and the place selected as most fitting for the event was the old M. E. church at Bethel, about four miles from Federalsburg, and near the place where the first families settled. The church itself is one of the oldest in the country and still wears its ancient appearance, the long galleries girting the inside being still supported by the massive pillars on which it rested a century ago.

Although all friends were invited, few except the three families and their relatives attended, and these filled the church, many being unable to gain admission. The program occupied the whole day and was of an impressive character. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowers. To the left on entering was the name "Kinder," in large letters, to the right "Noble," and the middle chandelier supported the name "Davis," each indicating the seats which each of the families was to occupy. Exercises were opened by an organ solo by Miss Bertie Davis, after which Rev P. H. Rawlins was elected chairman and Mr. J. Warren secretary. A well-selected choir, composed chiefly of members of the Davis family, rendered the old anthem, "Jerusalem, My Happy Home." Prayer was then offered by Mr. William Morgan. Rev. Edward Davis then read an interesting historical sketch of the Davis family. After other vocal music was rendered, appropriate for the occasion, Rev. A. W. Milby closed the morning exercises with the benediction.

Dinner was served in the grove surrounding the church and after all had done justice to good substantials and tempting delicacies, the company assembled in front of the church door and were photographed by artists employed for the purpose.

Instrumental music, "Sweet Memories," by Miss Bertie Davis, opened the afternoon services. The piece was well rendered, its gentle strains carrying the minds of the aged men and women back to the days of long ago. Rev. A. W. Milby offered prayer, after which an appropriate song and chorus, "One by One," was sung. Mr. Samuel Kinder read an historical sketch of the Kinder family. Music by the choir was followed by a sketch of the Noble family by Col. J. M. McCarter. Addresses followed by music, were made by Revs. P. H. Rawlings, A. W. Milby, and W. S. Robinson. All joined in singing the doxology, and the services closed with benediction by Rev. Mr. England. The exercises were impressive throughout. Those present represented every age from the prattling child to the gray-haired patriarch.

Party Loyalty vs. Personal Preference.

To the Editor of THE JOURNAL.

MARYDEL, MD., Oct. 25.

The grand Democratic rally of Tuesday last has completely broken down the spirits of the Republicans of this section, and well it might, for such a demonstration has never before been seen in Caroline. It proves conclusively that the heart of Caroline is Democratic. I was glad that the unconsequential and noisy bolters were shown their error. They remind me of an army composed wholly of generals.

It is an old saying that "one renegade is worse than ten Turks; for a man born a Turk could with a good conscience adhere to the religion of his forefathers, and possess some honor, virtue and manhood, but a Christian who from fear or hope of reward becomes a Turk, possesses neither principle nor honor." So in politics. A man who adheres to a party because he believes in its principles, and the independent voter who does not acknowledge party relations or take part in primary contests, is entitled to and receives the respect of his neighbors. But the man that goes into a primary meeting and makes a fight, either for himself or a friend, and when defeated bolts the ticket, should and will in this section of the county be politically ostracised. The whole ticket was fairly nominated, and is entitled to the united and hearty support of the whole party, and will get it in this district.

The First and Fifth districts stood side by side in the convention, neither of them voting for the successful nominee for clerk, but the First will give him and the whole ticket an increased majority and expects the Fifth to do its part and see that the Republican majority is kept down if not reduced. The First district will give 40 majority. I was a Cook man at the primaries, but now I am

A TICKET MAN.

PENINSULAR.

—The meeting held at Mason's store, near Hillsboro' on the 26th inst., was a very great surprise to all present from the general sentiment expressed. There was an outpouring of the people, Democrats from Talbot as well as from Caroline and Queen Anne's counties, whose hearts beat in unison for the success of the Democracy of Maryland, composed the large and enthusiastic audience. The meeting was called to order at 7 o'clock and on motion of J. M. Wooters the following officers were unanimously elected: President, Mr. J. L. Brown, who presided over the meeting with that dignity characterizing an intelligent and judicious man. The vice Presidents were Messrs. Wm. E. Mason, F. T. Barton, Jno. Anthoney and Jas. H. Ridgway; Secretaries, Messrs. David H. Knotts and Rasin H. Gale. Messrs. George L. Haddaway, Col. Thomas Hughlett, Paul Winchester, Dr. P. S. Reynolds, George S. Lightner, Dr. Chas. H. Rose, S. P. Jump, and P. A. Morgan, all made strong, eloquent and edifying addresses to an appreciative audience.

Obituary.

Jane M., beloved wife of Purnell Fleetwood, passed peacefully away on the morning of the 15th of October, 1885, at the age of 63 years, after a long and painful illness, which she bore with true Christian fortitude, constantly praying for patience to be reconciled to the will of the Lord, Although she was not demonstrative she showed forth, in her daily life, the true Christian graces; being always ready to relieve the sick and needy, and prefering the comfort and happiness of others to that of herself. She was a patient, loving mother; a true, devoted wife, and a kind, sympathetic friend; and we know she is safe in the arms of Jesus, on whom she called in her last moments. Yes, dear wife, dear mother, dear grandma, although we were disappointed in our reunion here, we will endeavor, by the grace of God, to be reunited in Heaven.

A CURE AT LAST.—Ely's Cream Balm goes more directly than any other catarrh remedy to the seat of the disease, and has resulted in more cures here than all others.—Wilkesbarre, Pa., Leader.

I COULD SCARCELY SPEAK, it was almost impossible to breathe through my nostrils. Using Ely's Cream Balm a short time the trouble entirely disappeared.—J. O. Tichenor, Merchant, Elizabeth, N. J.

Wanamaker's.

PHILADELPHIA, October 26, 1885.

It is high time to speak of that part of furniture in which our taking the lead is a matter of comparatively recent date.

It is tolerably well-known that all the resources of furniture-making are ours as much as if they were all under one roof; and that here is gathered a more inclusive collection of proper wood-work of every grade than there is in all Philadelphia together besides. So that, whatever wealth or poverty seeks, here is the place to find it, surrounded by similar things that ought to be seen before a choice is made.

It is tolerably well-known too what our system of trade is—fair trade is the shortest name for it. We consider what we ought to sell an article for and mark it so that everybody can read it, while the prevailing practice is to mark with secret signs—what is the secrecy for? So that the seller can guage his price by the buyer; his knowledge, his conceit, his vanity, his money tact, his money. The price of furniture is generally made from a study of human nature. Everybody knows it, and guards against it by going about from store to store, comparing and haggling. And yet nine-tenths of the stores—perhaps ninety-nine in a hundred—stick to their crooked ways. A common trick is to sell some article very low indeed, so low as to fasten the buyer. He pays enough before he gets through.

It is well enough known that nothing of that sort happens here. But haggling has a certain fascination when the money amounts to much. Wholesale trade consists almost entirely of haggling. Houses, horses, carriages, pianos are sold by haggling—why not furniture? Banking, dealing in masses of money itself, consists of haggling. The Stock Exchange is the biggest haggling-machine in the world. To the poor the little sums they pay for daily use are big. The business of almost all the little local stores is done by haggling.

The world is not so full of haggling without some reason. Haggling has its advantages. Here we are, our prices just so—no more, no less. A dealer outside can ask more for his things; and then, if his customer happens to know our prices, he can drop—he would rather make a very little profit than nothing. Hence elastic prices and haggling. We have only one defence. We have got to have better things and deal with generosity. That is our only way to beat a townful of hagglers.

Excuse the digression. It was needful to state with some fulness what you know in a shadowy way and act as if you didn't know at all.

The part of our furniture stock you haven't had the chance to know the state of so well is upholstered work, mantels, tables, chairs, cabinets, easels, bookcases, desks for house and office—all those difficult wares to manage well because of the number of forms they come in, the room they require, the skill in choosing, the knowing where to go on and where to stop.

Upholstered work is mostly out of sight. Vast sums of money in it. Somebody has got to be trusted. There must be a way to be sure of the maker. It belongs to us to be sure. It belongs to you to trust. Another day, perhaps, we'll tell you how we know the inside of these things. You see here a long array of sofas and chairs not only upholstered but actually covered with costly stuffs. A roomful besides of the stuffs. It isn't common to buy these things with any sense of sureness. The softness and spring may come of something else than steel and curled hair. They may flatten out in a twelvemonth. In the higher range of upholstery you are scarcely willing to buy by what you can see and feel.

The more difficult part is the getting together of shapes enough and styles enough; for all this getting has got to be paid for. The things of last year must be gone. A swift current of trade makes everything easy.

How many shapes of tables and chairs, do you think? We could fill this building no two alike. Of all the crooked ways of putting pieces of wood together the table-maker seems to have discovered most; the chair-maker next; the cabinet maker not far behind.

Wanamaker's.

In short we have a ready-made stock of furniture, much of it such as people pay twice over for having it made to order; and we make to order besides.

Some may get the impression that we deal in nothing but costly wares. By no means. The humbler wares are not so various. A little space is enough for them. This acre or more is mostly filled with costly work; but the plainest of things are here.

We should be ashamed to have this store a less good place for the things of the poor than for those of the rich. Was it made by the rich? Could it live by the rich? Are there so many rich in this comfortable city of ours as to fill such a store as this? It's an everybody's store. We hope the time when we shall really need to advertise for the trade of the poor is very far off indeed.

We have every sort of furniture a poor man can buy; and we sell it so that he need not get into the hands of the sharpers.

READ! THINK! ACT!

Palma Sola, Florida.

The paradise of invalids! The home of tropical fruits! Climate unsurpassed! No frost! No extremes of heat or cold! No malaria! Ground high and dry! Plenty of pine! and the finest hunting and fishing in America.

Palma Sola has the name of being the largest, prettiest and youngest town in Florida. Is beautifully located on the Gulf Coast, two miles above the mouth of the Manatee river. Already the iron horse is wending its way to Palma Sola, and soon the tourist will arrive at its first-class hotel, where he can get a meal to suit his epicurean taste.

Palma Sola possesses the largest store in Southern Florida, with sawmill, furniture manufactory, packing houses, warehouses, churches, school house, postoffice, stores, beautiful residences, and a large wharf at which ocean steamers arrive daily from Tampa.

Warren Leland, Jr., of Long Branch fame, has secured a location at Palma Sola for the erection of a winter resort. The prediction is a safe one, based as it is upon the natural advantages and attractions of the place, that he will make this the "Long Branch" of Florida; and other large hotels will be built.

With the completion of the railroad this will be the terminus, and the direct route to Havana, Cuba. Lots will double and quadruple their present prices. Now is the time to buy.

Lots 100x300 ft. $45 to $200 per lot. We want Palma Sola to keep booming; as an inducement to the public, and to thoroughly advertise this beautiful place, we will give away a limited number only of our lots, giving lots alternately as they come (corners excepted) charging applicants the expense of deed, transfer, etc., which will not exceed $2.00. Applicants can send postal money order with application to insure promptness, otherwise deeds will be sent C. O. D. Applicants must not be surprised at the return of their money, as being limited the first come will be first served. Title perfect. Full warranty deed.
