SLAVEHOLDER'S CONVENTION.

A meeting of the slaveholders of Worcester county, was held at Snow Hill, on Tuesday, the 14th inst. The Snow Hill Shield says it was one of the largest and most respectable ever held in that town, and the animated discussion of the various propositions submitted gave evidence of the deep interest felt in that county in the protection of slave property. And notwithstanding the great diversity of opinions upon the details of matters brought before the meeting, all agreed as to the necessity of prompt, determined action in protecting our slave property from Northern aggression. The town of Cambridge, Dorchester county, was recommended as the place, and the 3d of November as the time for holding the Eastern Shore Convention.

We are aware that there are differences of opinion among the counties on the Shore, as to the best means of effecting the better securement of slaves, and some of their journals are much alarmed about the consequences of a convention and the disastrous effect it will have on the institution of slavery. Who ought to judge in this case, those counties that have met with the greatest losses or those that have been comparatively exempt from the loss of such property? Which are the counties that are taking the most active part in bringing about this convention? Is it not Dorchester, Worcester, Somerset and Kent, whose loss in this property within a few years past, has been thousands of dollars—the lower counties' loss, probably being more than that of the balance of the Shore.

Which looks, now, the more genteel and brotherlike, for the counties who have been less unfortunate to stout it out, and say by their actions that we will not yield in our opinions a single inch—we think a convention would be disadvantageous, and if you call it you do it without our co-operation—or to say if you think we can accomplish any thing by such means, we are with you?

Those journals that have opposed this movement, have done it on the ground, that unless there is a universal desire for a convention, it will cause party dissensions and deepen the soil for the working of the enemy of the South. This we can scarcely think.—Were there a dozen such conventions held we believe there are many who would not give them even a passing notice, but at the same time would not do the least to mar the harmony and design of its proceedings. We think, therefore it would be showing our injured neighbors rather a more friendly feeling, to accord with them to some extent, at least, in carrying out that which they think for the best. The loss sustained in Talbot during the past few years has been considerable, but nothing like, we presume, that of some of our sister counties. A full expression of opinion, in this county, in reference to an Eastern Shore Convention, we have not been able to obtain, it not being stirred to action as Dorchester and others, but we think the most of our slaveholders will agree with our remarks, feeble as is our effort.

The State Rights' Advocate, if we mistake not, was the first to put the opposition ball in motion, and the Easton Star followed in its immediate wake, but substituting in a convention's stead, an Eastern Shore Telegraph. We are in hopes the Eastern Shore papers will give a full expression of opinion upon this subject, without further delay.

In another column will be found the resolutions adopted at the Worcester convention.

BALTIMORE MAYOR'S CONVENTION.—The convention of the American party of Baltimore, to nominate a candidate for mayor met in Temperance Temple on Tusday night. After the organization the chair stated that it was ready to received nominations, when the name of Thomas Swann was called from all parts of the hall. A motion mas made to declare the nomination unanimous, as no other candidate was named. This was opposed, and a call of the wards demanded. The roll was then called, and Mr. Swann received 100 votes, the whole number of the convention. A committee was then appointed to inform Mr S. of his nomination, and soon returned with the nominee, who in an able address accepted the nomination. Nothing could be more flattering to Mr. Swann and discouraging to his enemies than a unanimous re-nomination for the office which he has so ably filled. He has been assailed on every hand by the opposition and denounced and abused in order to kill off his popularity, but to no effect—the city will continue under his government.

MORE INCENDIARISM AT NEW YORK HOSPITAL.—The temporary buildings erected by the health commissioners outside of the quarantine grounds for the accommodation of the sick islanders from the infected district, were destroyed by fire on Sunday night. What a glorious thing it is for the American party of Maryland that this lawlessness did not occur in Baltimore or any where within the borders of the State. Had such have been the case plugugiyism, Mayor Swann and rowdyism, would have been a trail of sufficient length for the 'yelpers,' who are constantly barking at the Mayor's heels, to last them for several months—as it is, it is scarcely spoken of by them. Consistency, thou art a jewell.

FOREIGN.—The steamer Indian has arrived at Quebec bringing Liverpool dates to the 8th inst. It is feared that some serious accident has occurred to the telgraph cable as for some days the transmission of intelligible signals had entirely ceased. It was believed that the difficulty was near the Irish shore and could be remedied. The fact that it has not yet been remedied does not encourage the hope so confidently expressed of the possibility of its removal.—Mr. Whitehouse had been dismissed from the position of Chief Electrician.

ENCOURAGING HOME LABOR.—The ships in the American Navy are entirely clothed with sails made of hemp duck, of Scotch or Russian manufacture, notwithstanding the cotton duck now made in this country, is decidedly superior as is shown by the fact that all the vessels in our merchant service and whale fisheries use it in preference to the foreign article.

Local Items.

FIRE ENGINE MEETING.—Our citizens held a meeting in the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening last, for the purpose of making arrangements to secure fire engines for the town. Among other business, a committee was appointed to publish an address to the citizens of the town and to confer with the Commissioners for the calling of a meeting or in some way take the sense of the people, as to the purchase of new, or repairing the old aparatuses.

We are in hopes the interest in this matter will not die away, but that we may soon see two well organized fire companies, for nothing less than two can exist prosperously, and that the old engine house will be put in order.

We think the advertisement in the Star made a very unnecessary fling at the Commissioners, in reference to their negligence in the fire department. Had the commissioners gone ahead and purchased engines or had the old ones repaired to any extent, and taxed the inhabitants to pay the expense, as the Star, in an editorial thought the best means of carrying it through, we should have a fair rebellion; the people would be frightened at the high taxes. We think they have done right in taking the course they have. The additional tax, created by lighting the streets with gas, although voted upon and almost unanimously carried at a special election, has been grumbled at considerably, and they rebuked by some as foolishly spending money.

RELIGIOUS.—A series of meetings have been kept up in the M. E. Church at Trappe fo the past three or four weeks and has, we understand, met with fine success.

In consequence of the building undergoing repairs, there will be no service in the M. P. Church in this town on to-morrow, (Sunday.)

A protracted meeting will be commenced in the M. P. Church at St. Michaels, on Sunday week, the 3d October.

COLD WEATHER.—We have experienced a great change in the air since the first of the week. On Tusday last the weather was very warm but the balance of the week has been cold enough for fires and over-coats. Notwithstanding the changeable seasons and the predictions of the old folks to the contrary, it has been quite healthy, so far.

THE SCHOOLS OF EASTON.—The winter session of the Easton Academy, M. Spencer, Esq., Principal; A. Chaplain, Esq., assistant, will commence the first of October.

The Primary Schools will be re-opened at the same time. Dr. S. P. Benny of the male and Mrs. M. A. Roberts and Mrs. R. A. Pierson, of the female department.

A BRASS BAND.—We are glad to see that the young men of our town have determined to get up a band of music. They have sent for their instruments and will soon be under the instructions of Prof. Minick. Success to them.

FURNITURE CLEANING.—It will be seen in our advertising columns that James T. Vanrossum offers his services to the citizens of Easton and the county generally, in repairing old and making new furniture.—His touch on old furniture makes a very material change in its appearance. He guarantees to give satisfaction at moderate charges.

NEW GOODS.—We see that our merchants are laying in their fall and winter stock of goods. Messrs. Thompson & Kersey, we believe, are the first in the market. Others will soon be ready to display their taste, in showing to the ladies fine goods and coarse goods, long goods and round goods, and in fact they may haye a chance to purchase the good of all kinds of goods. For particulars of the styles, &c., examine the columns of the Gazette, next week.

GO IT MACK.—A call is made in another column, through the President, for the "old" Mechanical Fire Company to meet at the Town Hall, on Wednesday evening next. We bespeak a large attendance—she being always able to rally a crowd.

THE PEABODY CORN AGAIN.—We received from Mr. Wm. H. Tilghman, on Tuesday last, two stalks of this new corn. The two stalks are from one grain and produced six medium sized ears and a small one, and the beginning for the eighth. Mr. T. says this corn varys from one to four offsets this dry season, and that a friend of his is of the opinion that if planted in good land at four feet square, and divested of the offsets, as we do the common corn of its suckers, it will give the greatest yield. That "he has satisfactorily proved that Mr. Peabody is right in his directions, that the corn should be thinned to one stalk." Mr. Tilghman further remarks:

"We were all anxious to see the growth of this wonderfully productive corn, and the planting was too hurried, viz:—the 10th of April. The ground selected had been the two preceding years in Ruta Baga Turnip, a coarse sand, mixed with a dark soil, near the banks of Hopton Creek, it is not known what the subsoil is, as it has never been reached in the cultivation, it may be marl, as there is immense banks of it further up the creek. I will observe that the corn roots, like the royal oak, and could not oe pulled up by the efforts of three persons before they were cut with a spade, 7th September.

Now my dear sir I have more than fulfilled my promise, and will trouble you no further for the present, leaving each farmer to judge for himself, what is best for his interest, to continue to plant the corn which has been grown among us, which give not more than an average of thirty bushels per acre throughout the county, and probably not so much this year, or to plant the Peabody corn which will in ordinary seasons, I am fully convinced, produce three times as much under like circumstances.

Planted in drill or broad cast. not for soiling or winter provender, the product would be immense.

Having lost my last communication I will beg leave to state, in addition to what you say of it, that I proposed some of your friends in different neighborhoods throughout the county should not only inform you of the state of the crops and mode of cultivation, in general, practiced among them, but of every improvement that was going forward of interest to the farmer and benefit of the county, such as the improvement of old and the making of new roads, bridges. new buildings, &c., &c. Sales of land and the price, who has sold and who bought, all of which would be acceptable at home, and show abroad what was going on among us and be of advantage. The thought of a Rail Road among us though it may not benefit those immediately who are remote from it, is getting up a strong disposition among the farmers to produce greater variety on their lands, and not be so entirely dependent on corn and wheat crops. Fruits of all sorts will become articles of most profit on the line of Rail Road, once established among us, for the consumption of the great cities, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York, and those remote seeing the benefit of the trade to others, and living within the reach of steamboat landings will be induced to follow on in the same business, for its great certainty of profit at a small expense, when once established under judicious and attentive management. In my next I will tell you of the mode of cultivation here, what is likely to be the result this trying season and a good test of its benefits, the corn crop can be better judged of when the fodder is off.

[We were favored with a ride, a few days since, by Capt. Tharp, to his farm in the Chapel District, where we witnessed the growth of the Peabody and old yellow corn on the same kind of soil, and it is our opinion the new corn will make three for one of the old. The land upon which it stands is very thin—but notwithstanding that and the drought combined, we observed a number of stalks with two and three and sometimes four large ears. The Captain promises us a sample when fully dry. —ED.

For the Easton Gazette.

Joseph E. Muse, Esq.

A brief newspaper paragraph has consigned to the past the name of one of the most gifted and unfortunate of men. "NIHIL DE MORTUIS NISI BONUM" is a good old fashioned maxim, and it is not for me to call up from the grave where they sleep the frailties of one of whose friendship I was once proud, and whose many rare excellencies stand out in bold relief now he is no more. Memery loves to recall the cordial, true-hearted, chivalrous, gentleman—the ripe and comprehensive scholar, the profound and eloquent jurist, the affectionate husband and father, the fast and unfailing friend—for all of these was JOSEPH E. MUSE!

In a private letter just received from F. W. Thomas, Esq., of Cambridge, is the following apposite and beautiful allusion to the last rites of our friend in the place of his nativity, and among those who knew and appreciated him in his better days. The sentiments of the distinguished writer are too touchingly appropriate to be withheld from the public eye:

"Last Sunday I attended the funeral of Mr. Muse, to whom you may remember you introduced me when I was in Easton. I met him afterwards here in a call which I made upon his brother, Doctor Muse. He walked home with me and we had quite a pleasant chat together. I find he had been very popular here, and was at one time the prominent man in Cambridge. He interested me very much. Poor fellow! he was buried from the church at the set of sun; a large crowd was in attendance, and the old citizens here who had known him in his best days wore, I observed, very sad faces. I went into the Church before the crowd assembled and looked upon his countenance—what I do not often do, for I do not like to look at the dead—and I was struck with the smile upon it—as if the body so worn and weary of life was joyful at parting with its restless tenant. The evening of the burial (it was Sunday) was quiet and beautiful—much such an evening as that of the Sunday evening three weeks before, on which Mrs. Grason, the young wife of a gentleman in this neighborhood was buried, within a few feet of the spot in which Mr. Muse's remains were laid.

* * * * * * *

"Right from the window where I sit I can look over and see the grave-yard where he is resting. I remember well the bright smile upon his countenance, as he lay still in death, all alone in the chancel of the church, and I think of the great Poet's line—

"Duncan is in his grave,
After life's FITFUL fever he sleeps well!"

The funeral of Mrs. Grason, alluded to as having taken place but two or three weeks previous to that of the lamented Muse, suggested the following lines which are not unworthy of the author of "CLINTON BRADSHAW," and will be perused with interest by all lovers of true poetry:

Lines

SUGGESTED AT THE FUNERAL OF MRS. MARY GRASON,
Who was buried on Sunday afternoon, at 7 o'clock, in the Church yard in Cambridge.

How beautiful amid the trees
The Sabbath sun is setting now!
There's not a breath of summer's breeze
To stir a leaf. The ample brow
Of yon fair river is as hushed
As if its waves had never rushed
Obedient to the wind's wild will—
As if our Lord had said "Be still."

The church yard has a look as blest
As though its sod should not be broken
Again for any human breast—
Behold yon new dug grave, the token
That death can know no day of rest.

Alas! so young, that fair sweet wife!
Why struck not death the old and sad?
Why should he come with grief so rife,
Where all should be so gay and glad?
"Thy will be done." Then lay her down
Here where the sun's rays gild her grave,
Typing for her the immortal crown
Which He, omnipotent to save,
Seems to have thrown upon her bier,
As if to bid us dry the tear.

Were she awake, and stood she here,
Upon the dust that wraps her clay,
The Church's chant would reach her ear
On this our Sabbaah's holy day.
Her Sabbath too. We shall awake
To think of her with aching breast;
No sorrows shall her slumbers break.
Dear Lord! for our redeemer's sake
We, mourners by her sinless rest,
Pray we may meet her in that day
When death shall loose his fearful sway
And time and tears shall pass away.
Cambridge, Sunday, Aug. 8th. F. W. T.

RESOLUTIONS OF THE WORCESTER SLAVEHOLDERS' CONVENTION.

1st. Resolved, That the State of Maryland has the power and owes to her citizens the duty, of protecting slave property within her limits against all adversaries of our laws and institutions come from whence they may; and that until our laws are made more stringent on this subject, we recommend to our civil officers particularly, and to our citizens generally, increased vigilance in detecting and bringing to justice all persons caught tampering with slaves; and as a reward for such service authorize ZADOK P. HENRY to pay over to such officer or other person, the sum of $100, for every white man, and $50 for every free negro so detected and convicted.

2nd. Resolved, That our slaveholders and those who hire slaves are requested to discontinue the practice of allowing said Slaves corn patches, and permitting them to leave home without passes; that masters select homes for their slaves, instead of permitting them to seek out their own, as is now practised in this county; and that we call upon Constables and Magistrates to break up woods-meetings and all unlawful gatherings of slaves and free negroes, and to enforce the patrol laws.

3rd. Resolved, That the State of Maryland, in adopting the Federal Constitution, surrendered the right to pursue and reclaim her fugitive slaves within another State; and that the general government accepted that surrender, and in return therefor, entered into a constitutional covenant with Maryland to "deliver up all such fugitive slaves," which covenant we hold to be imperative in its terms and unavoidable in its obligations; that the fugitive slave law was enacted by the Federal governments to redeem her plighted faith to Maryland, and that any want of vigor or practical efficiency in said law to that end in the free States, does not thereby abrogate the covenant or relieve the Federal Government, or satisfy the just demands of Maryland: that this Commonwealth looks to the substance and not to the forms of redeeming this constitutional covenant; that those forms belong exclusively to the Federal Government over which Maryland has no control; and that nothing short of the rendition of our fugitive slaves, or equivalent payment in money for their full value, will satisfy the demands of Maryland, or redeem the Constitutional Covenant in good faith: we therefore urge upon the General Assembly to instruct our Senators and request our Representatives in Congress to present our claims in this light.

4th. Resolved, That we request our fellow citizens who have runaway slaves, to make a record of their numbers, names, ages, and when they absconded, and also of any facts as to their present location; and that the General Assembly at its next session appoint agents to ferret out said slaves, and award by law to such agents, a liberal bounty on all fugitive slaves reclaimed by them.

5th. Resolved, That we recommend that authority be given to Postmasters in Slaveholding States, to open and read all letters and other documents addressed to free negroes, or slaves; and whenever anything incendiary shall be found therein, to place them in the hands of the proper officers for prosecution.

6th. Resolved, That Curtis W. Jacobs, Z. P. Henry, Dr. John L. Hammond, Lemuel Showell, jr., John D. Showell, Jno R. Franklin, Teagle Townsend, Littleton R. Purnell, George W. P. Smith, S. S. McMaster, J. Minos Fooks, Wm. J. Leonard, are appointed delegates from this county to meet a convention of slaveholders and others to be convened at some central place for the Eastern Shore, and that the chairman in form these delegates of the time and place of meeting so soon as the facts are known.

TABLE OF FEDERAL MONEY.

The expenditures of the Democratic party, under the reign of Buchanan, can be properly seen and fully appreciated, by a glance at the following table. Statistics show the expenditures to be $90,000,000 a year!

$7,500,000 a month!!
$1,675,000 a week!!!
$267,859 a day!!!!
$11,160 an hour!!!!!
$186 a minute!!!
$3.50 a second!!!!!!!

Is this view of the case not startling?—The people's money is shelled out by the present Administration at the rate of THREE DOLLARS AND FIFTY CENTS for every tick of the clock.

NAVAL INTELLIGENCE.—We are in receipt of another Circular from the China Squadron, dated on board the flag ship Powhatan, the 1st of July. The distribution of the squadron at that date was as follows: all officers and crew well; Hong Kong, Mississippi; Canton river, Germantown; Gulf of Pichelle, Minnesota, Powhatan, and the Yankee-Russian steamer America. Total American men-of-war in China, five; English, fifty including gunboats, French, twenty; Dutch, two; Portuguese, four; and Russian four. The sloops-of-war Savannah, Plymouth and Saratoga were at Greytown on the 1st instant; all well.

GOOD NEWS FOR THE HOGS.—The mast, this season, is said to be unusually abundant in Western Virginia. The forests are full of chestnuts, acorns and other nuts, which will indemnify the farmers to some extent, for their short crops of corn, oats, &c.

The Captured Africans.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—The Secretary of the Navy this morning received a dispatch stating that the steamer Niagara, with the captured Africans, left Charleston last night for Africa.

Rev. John Seys, it is stated, will, at the request of the President, accompany them. This will make Mr. Seys' seventh voyage to the coast of Africa.

The Perils of Ballooning.

DETROIT, Sept. 21.—The balloon which carried off Mr. Thurston came down, it has been ascertained the same day on Babtist creek, Canada West. His body is supposed to be in the marshes near the lake, and a search is making for its recovery.

Health of New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20.—The deaths by yellow fever on Saturday were 74, and during the week 460.

Death of Dred Scott.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20.—Dred Scott, the subject of the famous Dred Scott case, died here on Friday.

OLD THINGS MADE NEW.

JAMES T. VANROSSUM most respectfully informs his friends and the public generally that he will make a short stay in Easton for the purpose of accommodating its citizens and those of the surrounding neighborhood, that may want work done in his line. Furniture of every description, even after appearing almost worthless, will look like new after being carried through his process of cleansing and repairing. His rates will be below Baltimore prices, and warranted to give satisfaction. He will visit persons residences in the country without additional charge, which will be a great saving of trouble and expense in removing furniture a long distance to be repaired. Any one wanting such work done can see him, when not engaged, at the Easton Hotel. [sep 25–5t

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—A disease without a name.—How often do we see persons gradually pining away without pain or any distinct indications of disease! They grow more feeble day by day, their appetite declines, they loose all interest in business, and with black-lustre eyes and cadaverous complexions, move mechanically from place to place, the very impersonations of hopeless misery. For want of better name we call it atrophy, or marasmus, or general weakness and debility. Now learn how it may in all cases be cured. A course of Holloway's Pills will infallibly re-kindle the sinking physical energies of the patient, rouse his whole organization to healthy action, and produce a complete revolution in his feelings as well as his frame.—Their alterative and renovating properties can only be realized by those who have experienced their effects.

Marriages.

MULHOLLAND—WEBB.—In Baltimore, on Thursday evening, the 2d inst., by Rev. E. R. Hein, Francis Mulholland, of Washington, to Miss Imogene Webb, of the above city, daughter of Ann and John Webb.

Deaths.

WILLOUGHBY.—At Skipton, in this county, a few days since, Samuel Willoughby, in the 42d year of his age.

"In the midst of life we are in death."

HARPER.—On the 22d at the residence of his father, Samuel A. Harper, aged 16 years.

Whilst we drop a tear to his memory, let us record some of his many excellencies. At home he was ever affectionate and dutiful; rendering that filial obedience, which gratified the hearts of his parents, and won for him the golden opinions of all his acquaintance. At school, he was ever respectful and obedient to his teachers and kind to his school mates; showing at all times great rectitude of character, and an undeviating attachment to the truth. But greater than this, than these, than all, is the forgiveness of his Heavenly Father, which he sought and obtained, enabling him to die in the faith, comforted by the sweet and blessed promise of the life which is to come.

Why Samuel should have been taken away from earth and his parents, so happily circumstanced for a future of usefulness, surrounded by every comfort, and blessed in all that makes life attractive, is one of those truths that remain to be known in our more perfect state. Sufficient for us to know that infinite wisdom cannot err, and infinite goodness cannot be unkind. May his bereaved father and mother and brother feel the consolation contained in the words of the Poet:

"Farewell Samuel, thou hast left us,
Here thy loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God who has bereft us;
He can all our sorrows heal." O. H.

Stoves! Stoves! Stoves!!

THE subscriber would respectfully call the attention of all in want of a GOOD STOVE, either for cooking or heating, to their large assortment, which comprises the best COOKING STOVES and RANGES, Parlor, Dining Room, Store, Office, Church, and other Stoves.

Among our Cooking Stoves we name as the very best in the market the GLOBE and LEHIGH for Coal, and the MEDALLION for Wood. We have also the Old Dominion, Cook's Favorite, and other excellent Cooking Stoves.

Our Bay State Range is decidedly the best and most handsome flat top cooking range in the market. It is of beautiful design and elegant workmanship—the castings are very heavy and substantial, besides which it has more oven room than any other Range.

We have a beautiful assortment of Parlor Stoves, including a new and very handsome Fire-place Stove for heating two or more stories. Also Store, Office, Church and other Stoves, all of which we warrant to work satisfactorily.

We would particularly call the attention of our country friends to a new and beautiful PARLOR FRANKLIN STOVE for wood, which is so arranged that it can be made an air tight stove. It is supplied with a crane (which can only be seen when in use) by which a kettle can be boiled as readily as in a fire place. The castings of this stove are extra heavy.

We are prepared to put up Furnaces and Heaters of the most approved patterns.

A large and excellent assortment of TIN-WARE always on hand
