ANNIVERSARY OF AMERICAN INDEPENDENCE.

This day must never be forgotten—this event must not be suffered to decline in our observance—It is therefore proposed, that a meeting of the citizens of Easton be held on Tuesday evening next, 4 o'clock, at the Court House for the purpose of making arrangements to celebrate the 4th of July by a Public Dinner.

The time of this meeting will be a busy period with our fellow citizens in the country, and therefore the invitation to the meeting to make arrangements is confined to the town—But as the harvest is earlier this year than usual, and will in all probability be closed in the first day or two of July, we shall confidently hope for the company of our country friends to join with us on the 4th.

Good Rules for the Administration of Justice.—No man ought to be appointed a Judge who is not qualified for the station.

If Judges disqualify themselves by corrupt habits or disgraceful vices they ought to be impeached and turned out of office.

Justice ought to proceed without delay, but she ought not to be rode with whip and spur, lest she may fly the course.

The accused ought never to hang, that learned Judges dine.

Judges ought to hold no conversation on cases which are pending before them.

If persons talk to Judges on cases which are before them, they ought to be deaf or grum.

When the judgment of one Judge is under revision of the other Judges, the Judge ought not to interfere, a Judge may advance an argument in conclave, which if urged by his honour at the hearing might possibly be answered by counsel.

ELKTON, JUNE 18.

SUSPECTED MURDERER

Col. James Sewall of this place has just returned from Falmouth, Virginia, and from him we learn the following particulars respecting the person in custody at that place.

A man calling himself John Peters, alias John Conners, has lately been arrested and is now confined in Stafford county jail, on suspicion of being the murderer of Miss Cunningham. The circumstance which led to his arrest was a confession he made to a man named Grey Barbour, travelling with him. Barbour related the confession to a young man named Deakins, and requested him to conceal himself in the bushes, and he would draw Conners into conversation on the subject—this he did, and Conners again acknowledged that he was guilty of the murder—and that he had taken a ring from her hand, which he sold in Baltimore or Georgetown.

After Conners' arrest, he stated that Barbour had betrayed him; that he was intoxicated when he made the confession, and did not know what he was saying. The account he gives of himself is vague and contradictory. Sometimes he denies being in Maryland for five years past—at other times he says he was employed to fish on Elk River by Major Hyland and brother—and that he has been at the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal.—Press.

From the National Journal.

Those persons who predicted nothing less than hatred and scorn for Mr. Clay, whenever he should again show himself amongst his constituents, will judge of the extent of their own discrimination, when they read the following paragraph, from the Frankfort (Kentucky) Commentator. They may learn, from the fact contained in this extract, the view which is taken of the conduct of Mr. Clay, by his own constituents, to whom alone he owed any responsibility for the course he adopted in relation to the Presidential election:

Mr. Clay and his late Constituents.

There was, we are informed, a very large public meeting, a few days ago, at Winchester, in Clarke county, at which the several gentlemen who are candidates to succeed Mr. Clay in Congress discussed the politics of the day. After which Col. Taul rose, and moved that a county dinner should be prepared in honor of Mr. Clay, and of course as an expression of approbation of his conduct in regard to the Presidential election. The vote was carried unanimously and by acclamation. A similar compliment is to be paid to Mr. Clay in Woodford, another county of his late district. It cannot but be highly gratifying to Mr. Clay, to find those constituents, whom violent partisans at a distance have presumed to accuse him of having betrayed, so generally and so fully satisfied with his course.

FLOUR.—The arrivals and inspections of Howard street flour for the week past, have amounted to scarcely 1800 barrels. None of consequence has been received from the Susquehanna. The amount of City flour made has been very small. The total inspection of City and Susquehanna for the week is 2500 bbls. The export, foreign and coastwise, has amounted to about 6500 bbls. of all sorts. The consumption of our city is about 350 bbls. per day of all sorts. The holders are firmer than they were last week; being supported by the above facts, as well as the last news from England, relative to warehousing wheat, and also by the very small quantities that come in or are made at this season. The stock it will appear is reduced in amount nearly equal to the exports; for the receipts have been about the same as the consumption. We quote from real transactions.

REMOVAL.

The subscriber would inform the public that he has removed his manufacturing establishment from the head of Market st. to No. 36 Pratt st. between Charles and Hanover streets, where he will keep constantly on hand for sale, his patent CYLINDRICK STAW CUTTER at the following prices, viz:—The smaller sizes with a permanent bottom (but self feeder) at $45, the same size with a revolving bottom 50, extra knives 5 a pair. His 2d size with a revolving bottom 55, extra knives 6 a pair; his largest size with two balance wheels (one on each side) $85, extra knives 10 a pair; these last machines are capable of cutting from 150 to 300 bushels per hour. He has also on hand and will constantly keep for sale, Brown's Vertical Spinner for Spinning Wool these machines run six spindles at the same time, and with much less labour than a common one spindle wheel, and do from 3 to 5 times as much work in a given time, and do it better and more evenly than it can be done in any other way. The art of using them is also very readily acquired, and they occupy only about one third of the room of a common wheel, price 25.—He would likewise inform the public, that he is just commencing the manufacturing of Gideon Davis's highly improved Patent Ploughs; these ploughs have recently been tested with five others of the most celebrated ploughs in this country by the engineer department at Washington, their report published from under the hand of the Hon. John C. Calhoun, Esq late Secretary of War, in the 50th No. of the 6th vol. of the American Farmer, copies of which can be had by calling at my shop in Pratt street.

These ploughs, besides making the almost incredible saving of 40 per cent in draft, are so simple in their construction, that they may be repaired on any farm without the assistance of a mechanic.

The subscriber being the only agent that Mr. Davis has in this city, confidently expects a liberal patronage from the public.

All communications (post paid) will meet with due attention, and orders enclosing the money promptly executed.
