POETRY.

THE SONG OF THE JANISSARY.

[From Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.]

Have they trod down the mighty? By sea and by shore
Will our name be a watchword and terror no more?
Has the eagle been hurl'd from his throne in the air?
Will the fox find a home in the grim lion's lair?

Have they trod down the mighty? The victors who stood
Resistless when life was pour'd forth like a flood!
The awarders of empire! the mates of the brave!
The freemen who hallow'd the land of the slave!

Our name is a scorn, and our sabres are rust,
Our palace a sepulchre gory in dust,—
But again shall its turrets gleam high in the air,
And again the flash of our sabres be there!

Again shall the name of our Aga be known—
A spell that o'ershadows the mosque and the throne;
Again shall our foeman grow pale when he hears
The tread & the shout of the fierce Janizziers!

For a time—for a time may the tyrant prevail
But himself and his Pachas before us shall quail;
The fate that tore Selim in blood from the throne,
We have sworn, haughty Mahmoud! shall yet be thy own.

The warriors of ages! who fought & who bled
With Osma and Amurath—the deathless tho' dead,
Are they destined to pass like the sunshine of spring
Their fame to the winds, and their neck to the string!

By the Prophet! the waves of the Euxine shall stop,
The stars from the concave like hailstones shall drop,
Ere the traitor and coward may hope to tread down
The tameless in soul—the undimm'd in renown.

We warn thee, stern Mahmoud! thy hour is at hand—
Thou hast sharpened the lance, thou hast kindled the brand;
We are gathering like tempests that gather by night,
Wo—wo to thee, King! when we burst in our might!

Easton Academy.

The Trustees have the pleasure to announce to the public the appointment of the Rev. JOHN GETTY, as the principal Teacher of the Academy. In addition to high recommendations of this gentleman as a Teacher of learning and moral deportment, he has undergone a strict examination; from the report of which the Trustees are authorized to believe that he is well qualified to teach the learned Languages and those other branches of education which the rules of the Institution require to be taught in his department, and that he will prove himself a useful and acceptable Preceptor.

It is further announced that this department will be opened for the reception of Scholars on MONDAY the 11th day of next December. The Parents and Guardians of the pupils of the late Mr. Thompson, and of others in this district and neighboring counties, are respectfully invited to enter their sons into this Seminary, from a firm persuasion that the reputation it has heretofore deserved will, under the direction of Mr. Getty be fully maintained.

By order of the Board,
