POETRY.

The following are the concluding stanzas of a long but beautiful poem published in the last number of the U. S. Literary Gazette.—They are the productions of a highly gifted pen. BURNS.

Such graves as his are pilgrim shrines,
Shrines to no code or creed confined;
The Delphian bales the Palestines,
The Meccas of the mind.

Sages with Wisdom's garland wreathed,
Crown'd kings and mitred priests of power,
And warriors with their bright swords sheathed.
The mightiest of the hour;

And lowlier names, whose humble home
Is lit by Fortune's dimmer star
Are there—o'er wave and mountain come,
From countries near and far.

Pilgrim's whose wandering feet have prest,
The Switzer's snow, the Arab's sand,
Or trod the piled leaves of the west,
My own green forest-land.

All ask the cottage of his birth,
Gaze on the scenes he loved and sung;
And gather feelings not of earth,
His fields and streams among.

They linger by the Doon's low trees
This pastoral birth and wooded Ayr,
And round thy sepulchres, Dumfries!
The poet's tomb is there.

But what to them the sculptor's art,
His funeral columns, wreaths and urns;
Were they not graven on the heart,
The name of Robert Burns.

POLICE COURT.—On Friday a son of Neptune, the mate of a merchant-man, was accused of capturing and running away with a milk cart belonging to the Caledonian Dairy, thereby causing a great clattering of the milk cans, and the effusion of much of their contents. The offence was committed on Wednesday, on the London road. When the first witness was put in the box, and had his mouth most oracularly opened, preparing to speak, Jack, twitching him by the collar with his forefinger, caused him at once to descend, and exclaimed—'Avast there; none of your jaw; who wants you to spin out a long yarn? can't I speak to his Honour, the Commodore there, myself?' Then addressing his Honour, 'You see, your Honour,' said he, 'having got too much grog with some of my messmates. I see'd a great clumsy Dutch lugger of a thing bearing down our way, & towed by a horse. 'My eyes!' said I to them, 'did you ever see such a thing? Do you think I could navigate her?' And with that I gave a quarter-deck spring upon the top of the beast; and, not liking my pilotage, I suppose, away it ran before the wind at the rate of six knots an hour. How the confounded ballast rolled all the way, and what a great noise it made! What could I do, as she would not answer her helm, & I having no bower or sheet anchor to throw out, and no port within sight? To the pilot of a thing they call a shay, I sung out, that if he picked us up he would be entitled to salvage'—(here the laughter in Court, which was great before, became immoderate)—'but the lubber only rolled his tongue in his cheek, and went on his course. Well, at last I tried to put her about, and sail upon an opposite tack, seeing as how breakers were ahead; but she would not wear round; and as I was considerating what to do, she made a heavy lurch, which pitched me overboard, and brought her on her beam ends. That's the whole naked truth, your Worship's Honour; and I throw myself on your Reverence's mercy.' The honest fellow's statement was confirmed by the different witnesses, who described the catastrophe of the lurch as having taken place at the Abbey-hill; between which and the point where he first set off, the London Road, was literally a milky way. The Judge ordained the unfortunate navigator to pay a fine of a guinea, or to be confined twenty days in the Lock-up-house.—Some of his messmates came forward and paid the fine.

REMARKABLE CIRCUMSTANCE.

MONTREAL, Dec. 18th.

On Tuesday last the body of a young woman, was conveyed to the English burying ground for interment. When the funeral party were about entering the gate a respectable medical gentleman of this city was coming up, upon observing him the relations of the (apparently) deceased stopped the procession, and begged that Dr. R. would examine the body, as from the colour of the face they suspected that vitality was not really extinct. On examining the body in the dead house, the Dr. was of decidedly the opinion that she was not dead. The face is as fresh like as ever it looked—the lips are red, but there is no pulse or animation since Tuesday. The body is kept in the coffin in the dead room which is heated to a high degree that putrefaction may be caused.—But since the time when the body was placed there, there has been no change. Yesterday forenoon her mouth was of a blackish hue—in the evening it again became red. Several physicians examine the body daily.

Since writing the above we have heard, that mortification has commenced.
