POETRY.

For the Easton Gazette.

LINES TO THE MEMORY OF THE LATE

MRS A. H. K*RD.

I saw thee when the rosy flush
Of health was on thy cheek;
I saw thee when thy crimson blush
Could eloquently speak
Of modest, unpresuming sense,
Of gay and sprightly innocence,
Of sainted purity within—
A heart to every virtue given,
A gentle, mild, benignant heaven,
The dwelling—ne'er of sin!

I saw thee when upon thy brow
Disease resistless preyed;
I saw thy fresh and fervid glow
To sickly paleness fade;
Thy bright dark eye that once could tell
Of love's and friendship's fires so well,
Wax faint and glassy; yet the breath
That waked thy beauteous form to life,
Gave thee, amidst the cruel strife,
A "loveliness in death!"

I saw, upon the mournful bier,
Thy clay-cold relicks lie,
With friend and neighbour hovering near,
In speechless agony!
Ah! on thy lips so pallid then,
Expression seemed to breathe again,
In still—yet deep and solemn tone—
"Farewell! like me you are but dust;
"Live ye as I have lived, and trust
"To follow—where I'm gone!"

A.

From the Daily Advertiser.

While the police officers were employed on the night of the Greek Ball, in clearing the side walks of the rabble that had assembled in front of the Theatre, Hayes, the high constable, accosted a stout fellow, one of the principle rioters, by saying, "you are the worst fellow except one, I ever came in contact with" "Who is that one?" was the reply. "OLD HAYES," said the high constable. 'Yes' said the fellow, 'he is a d——d rascal.'—'Well,' said the high constable, 'as he is the worst, if you are not quiet, he will put you in a place of safe keeping until morning.' The fellow began to comprehend, and quietly walk off.—N. Y. D. Adv.

Dec. 16.

J. Green,

Proposes to publish the Journals of the Conventions of the Province of Maryland, held in the City of Annapolis, in the years 1774, 1775 and 1776.

If sufficient encouragement be offered, the Subscriber proposes to publish, in one volume octavo, the Journals of the Conventions of the Province of Maryland in the years 1774, '5 and '6. It is believed that there are not more than two copies of this Journal now extant; and from the circumstance that they were printed in pamphlet form, and unbound, it may be fairly concluded that they, too, must in a few years be destroyed by the mere decay of time. These Journals are the only authentic evidence of the Political History of Maryland, during that interesting and unquiet period. Although we have, in abundance, histories of Maryland, as connected with the association of Provinces and Colonies, at that time formed, for mutual protection against the improper assumption of power on the part of the Mother Country, yet none of these Works embrace what may be termed its Domestic and Internal Political History.

This part of the history of Maryland it should be her pride to hand down to posterity, not only on account of its deep interest, but as a public State Record of the voluntary sacrifices, daring spirit, and determined resolution, of her citizens, during this period of doubt & dismay.

In the confident expectation that the citizens of Maryland will consider the proposed publication of sufficient importance to entitl it to their patronage, the Subscriber is induced to issue these proposals.

The price per Copy, not to exceed $2 00.

Hides Wanted.

LAMBDIN & HAYWARD

Being about to establish a Tan-Yard in the Town of Easton, will give the market price for dry and green Hides, and for sheepskins.

This establishment is expected to be in operation about the beginning of the ensuing year, when they will also receive and tan hides on shares of one half. The gentleman who undertakes to superintend & manage this business, is well skilled in it by long experience, & it is hoped, his attention, and the excellence of his workmanship will, at least, claim a share of public patronage.

COTTON SEED.

The subscriber offers for sale several bushels of Cotton Seed of prime quality, which has not, in the slighest manner, been affected with the rot, a disease incident to this plant highly communicable from the seed and fatal to the crop.

The stock of this seed has grown at least seven years, in a part of Virginia, of nearly our latitude and climate, and one year, in Dorchester; and therefore is well acclimated to Maryland a point of known importance to the planter.

The requisite quantity of seed per acre is about two bushels.

They will be sent by the way of Baltimore where the subscriber will, if required, deliver it, it may be ordered at almost any part of the state in a few days after order.
