ATION OF ELECTRICITY,
TO PAY OLD DEBTS.—A
, who possessed a power-

to the knocker on the front door, he then charged the machine to a very high degree, and waited the result. The steps which ascended to the front door had an elevation of fourteen feet. Clothed in all the importance of the law, the sheriff ascended, and with a firm grasp seized the fatal knocker. Instantly he found himself at the bottom of the steps.

After having recovered, in some measure, from a blow given by an invisible power and having collected his scattered writs and executions together with his scattered senses he made a second attempt, wondering at this strange method of paying debts.—Meanwhile, the Doctor had again charged his faithful conductor. No sooner had the sheriff again dared to touch the fatal knocker, than he found himself twelve feet nearer the centre of the earth a second time. Remembering the old adage, "beware of the third time," he immediately quit the premises, leaving the Doctor in full possession of the 'castle' he had so well defended.

Easton Gazette.

EASTON, MD.

SATURDAY EVENING, AUG. 18.

The letter of Mr. Buchanan, which we publish to day, has put the friends of General Jackson in a terrible quandary; it is a flat contradiction of the General's statement & must satisfy every candid man that if there was any intriguing among the friends of any of the Candidates, it was not with Mr. Clay and his friends—the question now rests with General Jackson and Mr. Buchanan.

We always considered this a patched up story from a particular quarter, and thought it unworthy of the consideration that has been given to it, but as it has had a formal appearance, it is now placed upon a footing that gives to Mr. Clay and Mr. Adams an increased good standing and claim upon the American people.

THE EXAMINATION

Of the students of the Easton Academy was held on Thursday and Friday last, & presented a most grateful exhibition to the friends of science and of education. The Classical Department, under the care of the Rev. Mr. Getty, underwent the first examination—this was extended from 'selectæ sententiæ' throughout all the school classics as high as Cicero's Orations and Homer, in which the greatest satisfaction was given to the Trustees and the company assembled on the interesting occasion.—The scholars acquitted themselves admirably—their translations were both literal and free, and proved them to possess not only great knowledge of the Latin and Greek Languages, but also a very considerable taste for the different authors they were reading. As Grammarians they showed themselves well taught in the construction of the languages, and perfectly familiar with the Grammar rules and etymologies. In truth I do not know how young students could have acquitted themselves better. It is to be regretted that the highest class in this department was broken up by almost all the members of it going off to College but a few days before, which deprived Mr. Getty and the Institution of the credit which is inevitably attached to the good performance of a first class.

The examination in the Classics was followed by one in Euclid and Algebra, which was equally satisfactory and proved the docility and attention of the Students and the capacity and skill of the Professor.

In the afternoon, the students had their first exhibition of public speaking, which consisted of Orations, selected speeches and dialogues. Although the manner in which they acquitted themselves needs no apology, yet it is right to say that the time of preparation was extremely short, and the universal delight so unhesitatingly expressed by the crowded and brilliant audience is the best testimony in their behalf. Nothing has occurred for a long time to create so great an interest, and the gratification was the more felt, as little had been thought or said of it to excite anticipation—The whole concluded by an appropriate Valedictory Oration composed & delivered by Master Philip Francis Thomas, the only remaining member of the first class in the Classical Department—The composition of this piece was highly creditable to so young a Student, and it was delivered in a manner to command the greatest attention and applause.

On the next day, Friday, the English Department was examined in Reading, Writing, Arithmetic, the use of the Globes and in Geography, in which they acquitted themselves very well and much to the satisfaction of the Audience.

Another exhibition of these junior Students closed the second day and they gave evident promise of rivalling their senior brethren in time.

THOMAS KELL, Esq. Attorney General of this State, has been appointed by the Governor and Council, Associate Judge of the Baltimore Judicial District, in the place of the late William H. Ward.

A Gold Mine has been discovered in Union District, South Carolina, in the waters of Tyger River. The ore is said to be of such extent, as to afford employment to 500 hands at good wages. A specimen of the gold has been pronounced by Dr. Cooper, equal in purity to any he ever saw. A company is expected to be formed to work the dust. It is asserted that the members of the Company formed to work the gold mines of North Carolina, have divided each $3000.—Char. Pat.

The public are cautioned against receiving $20 Bills purporting to have been issued by the Branch Bank of the U States at Middletown. They are signed Thomas Wilson, Cashier, and N. Biddle, President. They have various dates & numbers, letter S. and there appears to be more red in the mixture of the paper, which gives on first view a suspicion, as they differ from the genuine U. S. Bank paper in this. The notes are well imitated and must deceive many.—Watchman.

From the National Intelligencer, Aug. 13.

Mr. Markley was one of the Meeting of Democratic Members of Congress, by whom Mr. Crawford was nominated for the Presidency; but, when the election devolved on the House of Representatives, he actually voted for Gen. Jackson.

Mr. Markley was opposed to the election of Mr. Adams. But the President did not suffer that consideration to prevent his appointment as Naval Officer at Philadelphia he being recommended to him for that office by perhaps a greater number of members of Congress, of all parties, than ever signed any similar recommendation, amongst whom was probably every friend to General Jackson in either House of Congress.

Extract of a letter from a Delegate to the Harrisburg Convention, to his friend in Dover, Del. dated August 8, 1827.

'We had a great meeting indeed, of talent and worth. Never did I see so respectable an assembly. And all was harmony and zeal for the good of our cause.

'My opinion decidedly is that Pennsylvania will not support General Jackson, and that he will hardly get one vote in this State. The best informed men that I meet with, have the same opinion of New-York

NEW YORK, AUG. 11.

From New Orleans.—The ship Louisiana, arrived at the quarantine ground on Thursday night from New Orleans, bound to Liverpool.

There was an unusual mortality abroad the Louisiana on her passage. The deaths were F. B Keeler, on the 26th; Dr H. Holley, late President of Transylvania University, Kentucky on the 31st, and two sailors on the 28th and 29th. President Holly was a valuable man, and it will be recollected that he left the situation in the Transylvania University, with the design of going out to Europe as the travelling tutor of several young gentlemen of New Orleans. His untimely fate is a subject of much lamentation.

The advices from New Orleans are to the 22d ult. They state that the city was unusually healthy for the time of year.

Com. Porter and suite, arrived at New Orleans on the 14th. The Commodore had taken passage at Pensacola on board the schooner Trimmer, for Vera Cruz, but she having sprung her foremast, was obliged to put in at the Balize to get another.

FOREIGN.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

New York, Aug. 14 —The Editors of the Gazette are indebted to a commercial friend for the loan of some Antwerp papers to the 27th of June inclusive, received by the brig Hornillos. Their contests possess considerable interest, and translations are annexed.—It will no doubt be gratifying to the numerous friends of General Lafayette in this country, to learn that he has been elected a member of the chamber of deputies.

The Paris Etoile of the 23d says, "we announced several days since that a treaty was about to be signed, by the five great powers to save Greece. We have since had to deplore the occurrence before Athens. We are happy in having it in our power this day to announce that decisive orders in conformity to the preceding arrangements, have been given by Russia, France and England, to re-unite their respective fleets and separate the combatants. This step, though tardy, may still, it is hoped, be in time to save them."

The Observer of Trieste, of June 14, says, on Friday, the 10th, the Turkish fleet of 28 sail was seen passing between Cape d'Oro and Andros. If it had gone towards the Gulf of Athens, it would have spread great consternation both on sea and land, and would have struck a memorable blow; but instead of that it suddenly took the direction of Suda, in the Island of Candia.

It is stated under the head of Trieste, June 12, that the English consul at Tripoli had sent a messenger to Malta to inform the government of that Island of his differences with the Dey.

The village of Gousselin near Grenoble was totally destroyed on the night of the 14th of June by a water Spout, which descended from the neighboring mountains.—Nearly all the inhabitants were killed, and sixty dead bodies had been taken from the ruins.

It is said that General Karaiskaki, a few minutes before his death, being surrounded by General Church, Lord Cochrane, and several other Greek chiefs, recommended his soldiers to their protection, to whom he gave all his property amounting to 15,000 Turkish piastres. 'As to my son said he, 'I leave him my arms, that the blood with which they are stained may renew his courage' These were his last words. His body was to be transported to Napoli, there to be interred with the same pomp as those of Marco Bozzaris and Lord Byron.

The Roumeliots, one and all, took the following oath after the death of the brave Karaiskaki. "We call God to witness and swear by the Holy Trinity to die under our arms, and not to lay them down till the enemy is driven from the land of our fathers, and in the bosom of which their bodies are buried; we swear a perpetual union and fraternal love; we will divide amongst our families our last morsel of bread, and will protect the women and children of each of our companions as may gloriously fall in battle. We swear eternal vengeance against each individual, & his descendants, who may violate this sacred obligation; and if a single violator of this oath should escape our hands, we surrender him to the imprecation and vengeance of the Most High: may God grant that he experience no happiness in this world, and that his wife may bear him no children to assist him in his last hour, and close his eyes. We, in fine swear to bring up and instruct our children in an eternal hatred towards our oppressor.—AMEN!

Constantinople, May 25.—The Drogomans of the Russian and English Ambassadors since their last conference, of which the result was known, have had new consultations with the Reis Effendi. The latter party has still spoken of propositions of peace, and of lord Cochrane; and repeated his former declarations. On the 9th M. d'Otteufels, Internuncio of Austria, transmitted to the Porte a note which had been brought from Vienna, and the object of which was to counsel the Porte to accept the propositions of Russia and England. But the Porte evaded giving to the two courts any other answer than that which is already known; because they evidently fear by doing so to acknowledge thereby a right of interference. There is great curiosity to hear what measures the courts of London and Paris will take.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 1.—Since the fatal catastrophe which the Greeks suffered before Athens, during the first days of May, the English ambassador, Mr. Stratford Canning, who, during the latter period, has had nearly every day conferences with the Russian ambassador, has renewed his former attempts to establish peace, and has transmitted with that design an energetic note to the Reis Effendi, which can leave no doubt that the Russian and English cabinets have acted in accordance with the means which are to be made use of to attain the end proposed.

It appears that the certainty of that harmonious co-operation, joined to representations of M. D. Ottenfel, the Austrian internuncio, has made an impression upon the Divan. In fact it is confidently stated that the Reis Effendi has displayed a much more conciliating disposition than formerly. A circumstance which if it is confirmed, will be very likely to inspire the Divan with more pacific sentiments, is the report circulated within two or three days, that Lord Cochrane had gained a decisive victory over a portion of the Ottoman fleet. But the Frank know nothing as yet absolutely authentic on this head Since the despatches from Redchid Pacha which have been so advantageous to the Porte, no official publication has been made. The friends of Greece conclude from this silence, but perhaps prematurely, that disagreeable news has been received.

Germany.—Hanover, June 14—His royal highness the duke of Cambridge returned here the night before last from a tour which he has made to pass in review several corps of infantry and cavalry.

Russia.—Petersburg, June 6—A squadron of nine ships of the line; three frigates and two brigs will leave Cronstadt in a few days; to which will be added, the two vessels sent to the Mediterranean in October last, which are expected from Toulon This fleet will sail under the command of Admiral Senijavine, with secret orders, for the Archipelago. The emperor will pass the ships in review during the present week.

PARIS, June 29.—The Marquis de Lafayette has been proclaimed Deputy of the arondissement of Meaux, by a majority of 141 out of 281 votes. M. Trouchon obtained 139 suffrages.
