EASTON, Md.

SATURDAY EVENING, SEPTEMBER 22.

We publish to day an extract from the Richmond Enquirer, containing Gov. Giles remarks on Mr. Jefferson's letter to him. We beg our readers to pay some attention to these excerpts, and when we have more room we will give them some views of Gov. Giles and Mr. Jefferson.

That the people have a right to know the opinions of their candidates upon all public questions is indisputable—and that candidates may set up a right to withhold their opinions upon any public matter & take the consequences of that course, is as certainly true—But our advice to all candidates would be, to be fair and candid, and to let their sentiments be known to the people upon all matters that concern the people before they are called on to vote—for it is better to take the consequences of candid and avowed opinions, than those which may arise from withholding them.

If a Candidate's opinion is doubted, and he is for that reason dropped, who can he blame but himself? And what remorse would he feel, when he finds himself rejected because he was disingenuous? But how much worse would it be, if a candidate by withholding his opinions should deceive others, and feel that he owed his success to that practised deception? With what face could he look upon the people again—or, what could be more humiliating, with what sentiment would the people look upon him?

Our advice to Candidates on all sides of the question is, conceal nothing—be open, candid, and explicit—If you then succeed, you stand firm and with confidence before the world—if you fail, you fail honourably, without disguise and without stratagem, free from self reproach or the reproach of others.

The friends of the respective candidates have a right to demand this course of them, for when they recommend them to their fellow citizens to be voted for, such friends are presumed to know their opinions and to know that they practice no concealment. We should consider that man a simpleton who would advocate another without knowing his opinions—as we should certainly think ill of that man who should wish to conceal his opinions from any of his fellow citizens, who were to be called on to vote for him, under a hope that he might gain something by the disguise.

The Richmond Enquirer says, it will be observed, that its "objections to General "Jackson are such that we could not vote "for him if there was a hope of electing a "man whose sentiments were less objection-"able!" Call you this backing your friends?

The President of the United States has issued his proclamation, ordering all officers to be on the alert for the apprehension of Willis Anderson, charged with the murder of Gerard Arnold, of the District of Columbia, and offering a reward of $250 for his apprehension and delivery to the office of that District.

Description of Willis Anderson.

WILLIS ANDERSON is about 26 or 27 years of age—of fair complexion—sandy hair—and somewhat freckled. He is about five feet seven or eight inches high, broad and flat across the chest and shoulders—but thin, and in other respects lightly made—has rather small feet, and walks quickly—has some redness about the eyes.

Remedy for a sore throat.—We are informed by a person, who has experienced its good effects, that the essence of tar is a remedy for that affection of the throat, which oftentimes terminates in ulcers, and sometimes proves fatal. The essence of tar may be had of apothecaries, and the mode of administering is to drop a little on a lump of sugar, which is permitted to dissolve in the mouth and the solution swallowed. It should be taken, he says, as soon as any symptoms of the complaint are felt, in small portions at a time, and repeated till the pain is mitigated, and the patient convalescent. The essence of tar we should suppose would produce effects on the human system similar to those produced by spirits of turpentine; and should recommend caution in its use, without advice from a regular physician.

Cure for the Fever & Ague—Take 2 ounces best Lima Bark, 1 table spoonful Volatile Salt, Ammonia or smelling salts; 100 drops Laudanum; half pint Brandy, and put the same into a Porter bottle; and fill it up with water, 'when taken, to be well shaken.'

Commence by cleansing the stomach with Calomel and Jalap, or Calomel and Salts. A dose for an adult is two table spoonsful every two hours, during the intermission of fever, and before the chill comes on, six doses ought to be taken, if you have to commence at midnight. A few doses ought to be taken occasionally for a few days after the patient has got well. The great charm in this medicine appears to arise from the Volatile Salts, for which the "cream of tartar," is no substitute. Bark frequently known to bring on a return of fever; with this mixture—never.

Peaches—The Philadelphia U. S. Gazette furnishes the quantity of peaches offered for sale in that part of the market, between Front and Second streets, on Saturday morning week. There were 1697 bushel baskets full, and 410 empty ones, (which were ascertained by inquiry to have contained peaches)—total 2107. Besides these, it is supposed that from twenty to thirty carts were loaded at the market and wharf, from 5 to 8, A. M. The price was only 12½ cents a bushel.

From the N. Y. National Advocate.

BUENOS AYRES AND BRAZIL.

The schooner Washington, Percival, at Boston from Montevideo, brings advices to the 6th July, from which it is rendered certain that the Buenos Ayres government has rejected the Treaty of Peace negotiated by its minister, Mr. Garcia, at the Court of Brazil.—One of the letters from Montevideo states that so great was the public indignation at Buenos Ayres against Garcia, for agreeing to the Treaty, that he was obliged to fly for life. The brig President Adams, De Valengin, of Baltimore, had sailed from Montevideo, and it is believed had succeeded in reaching Buenos Ayres in safety.

Extract of a letter from Montevideo of 5th July, received at Boston.

MONTE VIDEO, July 2, 1827.

"Much excitement was produced in Buenos Ayres, on the arrival of the Heron, and her errand known; Doubloons, which were previously at 55 a 856 paper; suddenly fell to 35 a 30—a similar effect was experienced on all merchandize; the next day, however, on something unfavourable to Buenos Ayres in the terms of the Treaty leaking out, a corresponding re-action took place, and our last accounts from there to the 23d ult. state Doubloons to be up to $51, and Merchandize to have regained its War prices; this looks rather unfavorable to Peace but it is nevertheless difficult to form an opinion, for both Parties are heartily tired of the War, and are each alike in no situation to protract it, for want of means; more particularly Brazil, notwithstanding the high tone of its Emperor, which high tone, by the by, was far from being echoed by the members of his Cortes about the time of sailing of the Heron from Rio, with the Minister and Treaty; in fact, they went so far as to declare the War not only to have been badly and dishonorably conducted, but the principle on which it was entered into, to be unjust in every sense: the conduct of the Ministers was severely scrutinized, and that of the Mighty Emperor himself not very tenderly dealt with: so you may judge that the absurd phantom of Royalty is likely to experience eventually the same fate in Brazil as it has done in other parts of the American Continent."

The notes of the Marble Manufactory.
Franklin Manufacturing Company,
Clinton Manufacturing Company,
are of no value at all. [Truth Teller.]

A very curious scene occurred lately at the Dublin Theatre. The opera of Guy Mannering, was performed. Miss C—— played Julia Mannering, and sung her songs horribly out of tune. In the duet 'Now hope, now fear,' her screaming was more discordant than the notes of the peacock. The audience laughed, and Braham tittered. The lady became enraged, and the audience became more funny. At length her fury rose to such a pitch, that hissing superseded the less angry manifestation of dislike. She darted forward, and commanded the orchestra to cease, and she addressed the audience in the following manner: "To one of my sex it is painful to be obliged to address an audience, but my natural timidity—[loud laughter]—aye, to be sure, my delicacy—[increased laughter]—on this occasion, shall not prevent me. I have been now for two years endeavouring to please you, and I have not succeeded. [Hear.] You are hard to be pleased. I shall leave you. [Cries from the gallery, 'Ah! don't—lave us a lock of your hair for a keepsake!'] I shall leave you—I quit you this moment for ever—aye, for ever!' The Lady marched off, and shouts of laughter and hissing accompanied her retirement. She did not appear afterwards.

SELECT

Boarding School

FOR

YOUNG LADIES

HAGERS-TOWN.

MISS INGLIS, who has for several years conducted a Boarding and Day School in this place, wishing to establish her Seminary on a more retired and limited plan, proposes to open on Monday the 15th of October, next, a Select Boarding School for Young Ladies.

As her attention will be confined to boarders, of whom the number will be limited, it is hoped that parents and the friends of youth in general, will be sensible of the great advantages which young ladies under her care, may reasonably be expected to possess.

Her residence is spacious, and delightfully located in a retired, airy, and healthful situation, surrounded by open grounds, and combining advantages of both town and country.

That young ladies from a distance may be accommodated with the most agreeable seasons of the year for visiting their friends. Miss Inglis proposes to have her vacations in May and October. On this plan, the winter sessions, with the exception of the first, will consist of six months, and the summer ones of four months.

TERMS:

FOR THE WINTER SESSIONS.

Boarding & Lodging, (including bedding, washing, fuel, &c.) and instruction in the various branches of English Education usually attended to in Female Seminaries, (half in Advance,)	$100
Music, Vocal and Instrumental, with The use of the Piano Forte,	$30

French,	$6
Painting on Velvet and Silk, for the Course,	$9
Working on Bobinett, in a style equal to the finest imported laces, For do.	$5
Boarding, &c. if desired, during each period of vacation,	$10
N. B. Books, Music, and Stationary,	at the retail city prices.

Hagerstown, Sept. 22.

Baltimore, July 12, 1827.

I have carefully considered the proposals of Miss Inglis to establish a Select School in the vicinity of Hagerstown, and can hardly doubt but she will meet with due success.—The situation is beautiful and healthy, and while sufficiently retired, it is quite accessible to respectable and genteel society.

From an acquaintance with Miss Inglis, for a considerable number of years, I have great pleasure in saying, that as to character accomplishments, learning & talents, I consider her as qualified in no ordinary degree to superintend such an establishment: and I am satisfied, that those, who may entrust the education of their daughters to her care, will find them well instructed in the various parts of female education, well grounded in correct principles, pious habits and good manners.

JAMES KEMP,
Bishop of the Diocess of Maryland.

We cordially concur in the opinion above expressed by Bishop Kemp.

WILLIAM NEVINS,
Pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Baltimore.

JOHN BRECKENRIDGE,
Pastor of Second Presbyterian Church in Baltimore.

Fully concurring in the above expressed opinion of Bishop Kemp, with respect to the qualifications of Miss Inglis, and the benefits that may be expected to result to young ladies placed under her care, I have only to add that her residence is all that she describes it to be in her proposal. Her house is a very large one, and the grounds which surround it are sufficiently spacious for all the purposes of exercise within themselves. Whether the mental or moral culture of children be considered, or the due preservation of their health, I feel persuaded that parents may, with all confidence commit their children to the Seminary of Miss Inglis.

GEORGE LEMMON,
Rector of St. John's Parish, Hagerstown.

Being acquainted with Miss Inglis and the situation of her residence, I freely give the testimony of Mr. Lemmon as my own.

M. L. FULLERTON,
Pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Hagerstown. 4w
