POETRY.

THE SOLDIER'S FUNERAL.

By G. F. Richardson.

Hark! Hark! mid the busy stir of life,
And the crowded city's hum,
I hear the thrilling tone of the fife,
And the roll of the distant drum!

But their alter'd tones chime sad and slow,
To the mourner's silent tread;
For they breathe the hallowed dirge of wo,
The solemn march of the dead!!

And looks of manliest grief are there,
And stern eyes drop a tear;
And soldiers falter as they bear
The youthful warrior's bier!

And see as that bier comes nigh—it brings
Bright arms—a useless show!
For he hath no need of those gaudy things
Who sleeps in the coffin below!

For the voice that gave the stern command
Hath sighed its latest breath!
And an infant now may snatch the brand
From his dull cold grasp of Death!

And the breast so true, and the brow so proud,
Are cold and senseless all;
He hath changed for the coat of mail—the shroud,
For the warrior's cloak—the pall.

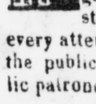

He would have hailed the dart that sped
His soul to a warrior's doom;
But a slow and a sickly couch was spread,
To wash him to the tomb!

They have borne him to the sacred porch—
They have borne him to the grave;
And the last sad rights of the Holy Church
Are paid to the young and the brave!

They have breathed the funeral prayer and hymn—
They have fired the soldier's knell;
But it reached not, alas! the ear of him
Who sleeps in the narrow cell!

They have lowered the coffin dark & deep,
In the lone grave's hollow womb;
And the lady he loved may come to weep
This eve o'er her soldiers tomb.

SELECT

Boarding School FOR YOUNG LADIES

HAGERS-TOWN.

MISS INGLIS, who has for several years conducted a Boarding and Day School in this place, wishing to establish her Seminary on a more retired and limited plan, proposes to open on Monday the 15th of October, next, a Select Boarding School for Young Ladies.

As her attention will be confined to boarders, of whom the number will be limited, it is hoped that parents and the friends of youth in general, will be sensible of the great advantages which young ladies under her care, may reasonably be expected to possess.

Her residence is spacious, and delightfully located in a retired, airy, and healthful situation, surrounded by open grounds, and combining advantages of both town and country.

That young ladies from a distance may be accommodated with the most agreeable seasons of the year for visiting their friends. Miss Inglis proposes to have her vacations in May and October. On this plan, the winter sessions, with the exception of the first, will consist of six months, and the summer ones of four months.

TERMS:

FOR THE WINTER SESSIONS.

Boarding & Lodging, (including bedding, washing, fuel, &c.) and instruction in the various branches of English Education usually attended to in Female Seminaries, (half in Advance,)	$100
Music, Vocal and Instrumental, with The use of the Piano Forte,	$30

Working on Bobinett, in a style equal to the finest imported laces, For do.	$5
Boarding, &c. if desired, during each period of vacation,	$10

N. B. Books, Music, and Stationary, at the retail city prices.

Hagerstown, Sept. 22.

Baltimore, July 12, 1827.

I have carefully considered the proposals of Miss Inglis to establish a Select School in the vicinity of Hagerstown, and can hardly doubt but she will meet with due success.—The situation is beautiful and healthy, and while sufficiently retired, it is quite accessible to respectable and genteel society.

From an acquaintance with Miss Inglis, for a considerable number of years, I have great pleasure in saying, that as to character accomplishments, learning & talents, I consider her as qualified in no ordinary degree to superintend such an establishment: and I am satisfied, that those, who may entrust the education of their daughters to her care, will find them well instructed in the various parts of female education, well grounded in correct principles, pious habits and good manners.

JAMES KEMP,
Bishop of the Diocess of Maryland.

We cordially concur in the opinion above expressed by Bishop Kemp.

WILLIAM NEVINS,
Pastor of First Presbyterian Church in Baltimore.

JOHN BRECKENRIDGE,
Pastor of Second Presbyterian Church in Baltimore.

Fully concurring in the above expressed opinion of Bishop Kemp, with respect to the qualifications of Miss Inglis, and the benefits that may be expected to result to young ladies placed under her care, I have only to add that her residence is all that she describes it to be in her proposal. Her house is a very large one, and the grounds which surround it are sufficiently spacious for all the purposes of exercise within themselves. Whether the mental or moral culture of children be considered, or the due preservation of their health, I feel persuaded that parents may, with all confidence commit their children to the Seminary of Miss Inglis.

GEORGE LEMMON,
Rector of St. John's Parish, Hagerstown.

Being acquainted with Miss Inglis and the situation of her residence, I freely give the testimony of Mr. Lemmon as my own.

M. L. FULLERTON,
Pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Hagerstown. 4w

Dr. Hull's Truss.

FOR THE RELIEF AND CURE OF HERNIA OR RUPTURE.

DR. AMOS G. HULL invites the attention of all persons afflicted with RUPTURE, to the following testimonials in favor of his newly invented HINGE TRUSS.

VALENTINE MOTT, M. D. Professor of Surgery, New York, states as follows:—"I have, for several years past, paid much attention to the construction and use of Trusses, and it gives me pleasure to state that the Truss invented by Dr. Amos G. Hull, possesses in my opinion, both in structure and principle, qualities and advantages, which are entirely original, and which render its application in ALL cases an efficacious remedy to prevent a descent of the bowel, and that in MOST cases it may be applied with a reasonable prospect of cure. These advantages and qualities consist in the concave form of the rupture pad towards the diseased part;—the limited mobility of the hinge and shoulder joint," &c.

"The great and signal benefits which are produced by this Truss, result from its strict subservience to, and accordance with scientific and surgical principles. Its mechanical adaptation to the parts, the simplicity of its construction, the limited motion nicely graduated by experiment to the different attitudes of the body, and to the action of the muscles. The permanency and security of its location on the body, and its pressure in the circumference of the abdominal ring, are qualities the tendency of which is to strengthen and restore the weakened parts, to contract the aperture and ultimately to accomplish a cure of the disease. The operation and effect of this Truss are therefore directly the reverse of all Trusses formerly in use, which being convex tended to enlarge the dimensions of the rupture opening These defects are well overcome by the principle embraced in Dr. Hull's invention, and experience has confirmed me in the great and superior utility of his instrument, which I have recommended to general use, and adopted in my own practice to the exclusion of all others. I am of opinion, that the union of physical design and mechanical structure in this instrument, render it what has long been the desideratum of practical surgery in Europe and America."

Extract from the second edition of "Thatcher's Modern Practice"—page 678 Boston, 1826.

"Dr. Hull is exclusively entitled to the credit of first adopting the true surgical principle for the cure of Hernia. This great desideratum is admirably accomplished by giving to the pad of his newly invented Hinge Truss a concave instead of a convex surface, by which it corresponds to the convexity of the abdomen. By this construction, it is evident that the greatest degree of pressure is applied to the circumference of the aperture, which tends constantly to approximate the Hernial parieties and afford them a mechanical support.—The correctness of the principle upon which it is constructed has been abundantly tested by experience. Numerous instances have occurred, in which Hernia has been cured by it, which had proved intractable to other Trusses."

CYRUS PERKINS, M. D. of New York, states as follows:—"The tendency of all convex pads is to increase the disease by forcing their way like a wedge into the opening, & thereby increasing the size of the breach. The Truss invented by Dr. Hull, and described in his pamphlet entitled 'Observations on Hernia & Trusses' has a plain pad fixed on a concave plate, & makes the strong pressure by its circular margin, and a diminished pressure by its centre. It thereby not only prevents the escape of the bowel, but approximates and often secures in contact the ruptured part, so as eventually to effect a radical cure."

Dr. JOHN GRAY, of New York, says:—"I have witnessed numerous instances, in which other Trusses have been laid aside after proving hurtful and inefficient, and exchanged for the Truss of Dr. Hull, which has in ALL these cases effectually and comfortably secured the rupture; not unfrequently effecting a perfect cure of the disease."

Dr. SAMUEL OSBORNE, of New York, states:—"I have known Dr. Hull's Truss worn with perfect comfort, where other Trusses were very tormenting or totally unbearable, and I have known several cures effected by Dr. Hull's Truss, where it would have been impossible to attain the same result from any other known Truss."

"While in the Army of the United States, I procured the discharge of several soldiers, because I was unable, with any known Truss, effectually to secure the rupture; with Dr. Hull's Truss I am satisfied I could have rendered them useful to the Government; comfortable to themselves, and in many cases effected perfect cures."

Dr. Hull's Truss does away the necessity of straps, answers all the good intentions of any hitherto known Truss, and obviates all the objections which obtained against them."

Testimonials of like respectability might be added to any extent. This Truss is now introduced into the Army and Navy, and most of the public Hospitals and Alms Houses in the United States.

N. B. Dr. Hull's Trusses, adapted to the different species of Rupture, may be obtained, and are fitted to patients, at the Office of Dr. KNAPP, No. 37 East Fayette-street, a few rods east of the City Hotel. Persons residing at a distance, can be fitted by sending a measure of the body around the hip, and specifying the kind of Rupture.
